Testimonial From Duluth, Minnesota.

DEAR MRS. ROSS.—Having tested your "MAGIC HEALER," I wish to express my gratitude to you by this testimonial, which you can use, if you think it will assist you in selling it. Having cut my hand severely with a chisel, the corner of the chisel having entered the palm of my hand, making a long and deep cut. I applied your "MAGIC HEALER" at once, and after three applications I was able to go to work, and in three days the cut was healed up.

Yours truly,
ALONZO H. LAVERS.

A Sensation in St. John.

PETITION FOR THE REMOVAL OF TRUSTEES.—
A FAMILY SKELETON EXPOSED.

The heirs of the late J. W. Nicholson, a wealthy resident of St. John, have filed a petition in the Equity Court, in that city, praying that J. McGregor Grant and Ronald Cameron Grant, two trustees of the estate, be removed and others appointed in their stead. The petitioners allege that the trustees are guilty of extravagance in the management of the estate, and that they cannot do any business with them; that they have no confidence in them and want them put out. The allegations in the petition are very lengthy, filling over three columns in the St. John papers. The portion of the petition which is creating the most interest is the seventeenth paragraph which is a confidential letter addressed by J. McGregor Grant to Mrs. Dr. McLaren, formerly Miss Nicholson, and one of the heirs, in reply to a joint letter of the petitioners concerning the management of the estate. It starts as follows:—

MY DEAR ALICE.—When I perused the joint letter of yourself and sisters, dated 1st September, and addressed to the trustees collectively, I could not not help being shocked at its contents. It was not only a threatening letter, but also a cowardly and insulting one, such as you ought never under any circumstances to have sent to your uncle, whom you have so repeatedly acknowledged as true and faithful and valuable friend to yourself and sisters, and to whom you all pretended to be so affectionately attached. Furthermore, it showed a venom worse than contemptible, for it threatened injury to your own first cousin—the chief mourner at your father's and mother's funerals; the playmate of your childhood who never did you the slightest injury, or ever said an unkind word to you. If I chose to retaliate, as you richly deserve, I could put the Dominion Government in possession of information which would justify them either now or at any time within fifty years in seizing the books and property of the estate, and leaving you all simply paupers with the reputation of the family irretrievably ruined, and the public astonished with revelations of twenty years of the most successful fraud not only on the government but on their own customers. The question has often been put to me: how has Mr. Nicholson accumulated such a large fortune when other liquor dealers could not? I and four others in St. John could answer that question and tell how, night after night, the shutters of the stores would be put up, the door carefully locked and barred, all lights extinguished except the lower storey, all chinks in the windows covered over, the nuts cautiously taken off the copper hasps of the customs bonded warehouse, the doors opened, cask after cask rolled out, one-fourth of the contents transferred to empty casks ready in the duty paid warehouse; the quantity abstracted replaced with alcohol, water and coloring mixture; the adulterated casks marked with chalk on the chime, rolled back into the bonded warehouse and afterwards sold to the public, and the government defrauded of the duty on the quantity abstracted. Every cask that came into the store, whether of brandy, whiskey, wine or gin, was treated in this manner, and the profit of every quarter cask averaged $25 and the invoice books in my possession will show that the estate is liable to the Dominion Government for nearly $300,000—or in other words the duty on one fourth of every cask of liquor imported. I am not desirous of attempting to injure you, as you have attempted to injure me. Fortunately none of my family were ever engaged in the liquor trade, and therefore any exposure, although it might be intensely gratifying to the St. John public would be harmless to myself and family. But you can now see that your own selfishness and base ingratitude may at any time place you all in an unfortunate position; and so serious is the offence in the eyes of the law, that had the particulars been divulged in the lifetime of your father it would have cost him his liberty. I do not intend that either you or any of your sisters shall become trustees and I think that a rigid cross examination in court would prove the inadvisability of it, and you shall not, as you pertinently express it, "Deprive Donald of the means of a livelihood," although you may well blush for the source from which you derive your own wealth, which accumulated by fraud and the misery of others, will probably eventually prove to be more of a curse than a blessing." J. McGregor Grant is an uncle of the petitioners and Ronald Cameron Grant is a cousin.

Temperance at Summerside.

The Roman Catholics of Summerside, have organized a temperance society. This is a practical step in the right direction. Upwards of fifty of Father Gregory's congregation have joined already, and a committee consisting of Dr. McIntyre, A. J. McLellan, Dr. Gillis, John Gaffney, and A. B. Strong was appointed to draft a constitution and bye-laws for the government of the society. Mr. Charles Murphy, of the Customs Department, was secretary of the meeting. From his report we learn that after the work of enrollment was finished the chairman favored those present with a practical temperance speech. He said, in this age, who indulged in strong drink lost caste in society as well as the confidence of the public; that as soon as a young man began the use of strong drink he was on the downward grade and the respectable portion of the community wanted this fact to be understood. As he wished to see the young men of this town ascending instead of descending in the social scale, he would advise them to join a temperance society and become earnest temperance workers. Father Gregory thanked the meeting for the active co-operation it had shown with him in the cause of temperance, and the large number present he took as a guarantee of sympathy in the movement. He said that he hoped in addition to a temperance society to be able to form a literary club and gymnasium, where mental and physical culture could be obtained by the members of his congregation.

The McKinley tariff is said by our Canadian pessimists to be ruinous to our farmers. Well, what farm products are there for which prices are lower than last year? If there are any reductions, how far do they go to counteract the increases?

Spotted fever is said to have re-appeared in Texas. The death rate is 80 per cent.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

SIR,—As the editor of the Patriot labors under the delusion that he can snub a supporter with impunity by refusing to publish my short letter in reply to "Onlooker," or even acknowledge the receipt of it, I trust you will give the following letter space in your columns, and extend me the courtesy which I have invariably received at your hands.

NEMO.

To the Editor of the Patriot.

SIR,—As your issue of the 18th October, containing the letter of "Onlooker" in reply to "Nemo" was not received by me until weeks after its publication, I now hasten to answer it and beg space for a few remarks thereon. Although "Onlooker" contradicts my statements in reference to Pilot and Blackbird, yet they are so readily endorsed by the general public that his rather frequent and reiterated denunciations give me no concern. The length of "Onlooker's" insipid and profitless composition clearly indicates that my few remarks struck "ile" despite his frantic efforts to fortify his position, or refute them. Such being the case, I have no desire to bandy words with "Onlooker," who inherits a strong desire to strut in borrowed plumage, and to be heard for his much speaking. As "Onlooker" gives me advice in the last paragraph of his letter, he might with profit study the old adage, "it is better to be just than generous," and learn from it the impropriety of endeavoring to lead by any such transparent liberality.

NEMO.

Ch'town, Nov. 23, 1890.

Shifting Ordnance Competition.

Exception has been taken on behalf of the Prince Edward Island Garrison Artillery, winners of the recent shifting ordnance competition at the Island of Orleans, Quebec, to the published report of the subsequent competition held by permission at Halifax, between three batteries of the 1st Brigade, for second and third places. In the report the local papers compared the times made at Halifax and Quebec, under totally different conditions, and praised the Halifax men for their seemingly superior performance. The comparison was unfortunate, but we are sure were not made with any intention of doing injustice to the Islanders. Their fame as expert and efficient artillerymen is so well established that no one will be disposed to question their right to the first prize they secured at Orleans, or to take it for granted that had others there competed the result would have been different. There were five entries for the shifts—P. E. Island and Montreal one battery each, and Halifax three batteries. The first named completed the shifts in very good style and time, considering the adverse circumstances; Montreal, after commencing abandoned the undertaking on account of the unfavorable conditions of weather and ground; and the Halifax batteries, after vainly waiting for two or three days for the weather to improve, had then to go home without a trial. Under the circumstances the second and third prizes would have been left with the Association had not application been made and permission granted for the three batteries to compete at home for these honors; but in doing this, and attempting to make the best showing possible, we are sure they had no desire to detract from the credit attaching to the performance of the P. E. Island Brigade.—Militia Gazette.

News Notes.

The first English patient suffering from tuberculosis has been successfully inoculated with Koch's curative lymph.

The National W. C. T. U. Convention has re-elected President Frances E. Willard and the other officers.

Farmers around Medicine Hat and Dunmore, N. W. T., have secured a second crop of oats this season.

The state bank superintendent of New York says the North River Bank will not resume business. The probable deficiency is $100,000.

The Earl of Aberdeen has offered to contribute £1,000 towards putting into operation General Booth's scheme of social regeneration.

The German Reichstag will meet December 2. Among the first acts of the body will be the adoption of a resolution expressing the nation's thanks to Prof. Koch.

The characteristic of the Dominion Government is to be awake and active. Postmaster General Haggart's negotiations with the governments of Jamaica, the Leeward Islands and Barbadoes for direct parcel post and interchange of money orders is a good move. The future increase of trade will be accelerated by the extension of these services.

There is much interest in the return of seal-skins brought into Victoria, B. C., this season, the Canadian catch having been considerably larger than last year, while it appears that the larger portion was not obtained in Behring Sea, but on the coast to the south. The more light is thrown upon this subject, the more preposterous do the claims of the United States appear.

Lord George Hamilton, first lord of the admiralty, in a speech at Bedford a few days ago, said the British navy was superior to those of the rest of Europe or of America. He praised the coolness of the captain and crew of the lost cruiser Serpent. Such disasters, he said, are the price England pays for being mistress of the seas. He added that the admiralty intended to pension the widows and to remunerate the families of the men who were lost.

The fact that among the sealers bringing their catch of skins into Victoria, B. C., was a German vessel, is worthy of note. It suggests one of the difficulties connected with the settlement of the Pacific seal question. No arrangements made between the British and the United States authorities, even with the concurrence of Russia, would bind the other maritime powers in these open seas. Sealers from Germany, France, or even Japan, would not be bound by any such restrictions, and would have the field all to themselves.
