Purified Blood
Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.
"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. To the Electors of Charlottetown.

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of many of my fellow citizens I place myself in your hands for re-election to the honorable position of Mayor, and respectfully ask for your votes.

Should you again do me the honor to elect me, I shall co-operate in maturing and carrying out all measures having for their object the good of the community as a whole, and, as in the past, my best efforts shall be given to the administration of the affairs of the city.

I refer you to the City Report for my views on taxation, and would only add that I am fully satisfied that the ordinary expenditure of the city can be met by a reduced rate on real estate and personal property, which rate, with the other sources of available income, will yield a sufficient revenue to meet the liberal basis of expenditure of the past year, and that no department of the public service can suffer thereby.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
W. E. DAWSON.
jan27—135

To the Electors of Charlottetown;

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the wishes of a large number of citizens, and in response to the numerously signed requisition presented to me, I have decided to nominate for the Mayorality at the forthcoming Election, and would take this opportunity of soliciting your support.

If elected, I shall endeavor at all times to act impartially, giving justice to all, favors to none. It shall be my aim to see that the affairs of this City are conducted with the strictest economy commensurate with its requirements and that the rate of taxation be kept down to the lowest figure consistent therewith.

I shall continue to stand up for the citizen's rights both as regards the Roadway to Victoria Park and all other questions which may arise. I believe that all laws at present in force, or that may hereafter be enacted, should be faithfully carried out.

I am opposed to the expenditure of an public moneys in defiance of the well understood wishes of the people.

As I publicly stated two years ago, I believe that good government in civic affairs can only be assured by having a change in representatives from time to time; and having served four years as Councillor, I now respectfully solicit your votes for the office of Mayor.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant.
HORACE HASZARD.

To the Electors of Ward Five:

Having been asked by a large number of the electors of your Ward to nominate for the coming Council, I have decided to do so, and now beg to solicit your votes.

I shall not be able to see you all, but having many years' experience in the Council, you may depend on me in the future to protect your interests as honestly as I have done in the past. I am

Respectfully yours,
THOS. MORRIS.

FRUIT GROWERS MEETING AT CARDIGAN.

A most enthusiastic meeting was held last night at Cardigan, in the interests of the fruit-growers of that vicinity. Teh hall was packed to the doors, a large number being obliged to stand. This meeting is the last of the series to be addressed by Prof. Craig upon the Island during his present visit, and it was without doubt one of the most successful. The committee in charge of arrangements were Messrs. Jas. E. McDonald, M. P. P., Cardigan, John Scrimgeour, Cardigan, and John Robertson, Inkerman Farm, New Perth. A feature of the platform decorations, was a fine display of apples from Inkerman Farm. This included splendid specimens of Northern Spy, Wealthy, Baldwin, Ben Davis and Fameuse, all well colored and of fine appearance.

Mr. W. P. Lewis was moved to the chair and opened the meeting with a few appropriate remarks. He then called on Mr. McRae, of Jones & McRae, fruit canners, of Pownal, who gave an interesting resume of the history of the canning industry up to the present time, and urged farmers to increase the revenue of their farms by growing more small fruits such as strawberries and raspberries, as well as adding to their orchard area by planting good winter apples. Mr. McRae's remarks were received in an approving manner by the large audience.

The chairman then introduced Prof. Craig who was warmly received, and who spoke for over two hours. He was pleased to extend them the greetings of the Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion as well as the Premier of the Province, both of whom had expressed themselves as deeply interested in the development of the fruit industry. He regretted Mr. Dillon's inability to be present but delivered a cheering message from that gentleman in regard to the sale of summer-made cheese, and the success of the winter creamery which latter was turning out daily from fifteen hundred to two thousand pounds of butter. Prof. Craig instanced the great success attained by Mr. Robertson in fruit growing as the best evidence of the possibilities of fruit production in this locality. He then went on to outline some of the essential requisities to success in fruit growing, touching upon the necessity of thorough preparation of the soil, planting the right kinds of trees, pruning, manuring, in addition to spraying to prevent injurious insects and diseases. The value of top grafting as a method of renewing old trees and rendering useless worthless ones was emphasized and illustrated by object lessons. In this connection the speaker offered to send to any one desiring these scions of desirable varieties of plums, apples and cherries, suitable for top grafting on P. E. I. The speaker then with the aid of a chart described an ideal small fruit garden suitable for the farmers, and discussed the best way to cultivate each class of food contained in it, dwelling upon the fact that all of these fruits were especially adapted to the soil and climatic conditions of the Island. Strawberries should yield three to four thousand boxes per acre, selling for 6 to 10 cents per box; raspberries the same, while gooseberries should give twice as much. A well tilled and cared for acre of small fruits should bring into the owner a net revenue of $100 per annum. The best gooseberries were White Smith and Downing; raspberries, Cuthbert and Marlboro; strawberries, Bubach, Parker, Earle, Crescent and Wilson.

Passing on to injurious insects and diseases, the life history of some of the more destructive was outlined and the best means of prevention described.

A number of questions were asked and answered which carried the meeting up till 10.30. Incidentally the speaker mentioned the desirability of using low lying tracts of land for the cultivation of the cranberry. By growing this fruit otherwise useless lands could be utilized and remunerative returns be secured. Bogs should be dyked so as to admit of flooding in the autumn of each year. The surface of the ground should also be covered with sand to keep down weedy growth. Young plants bear the third year after setting, and should yield from 25 to 50 barrels per acre, worth from five to six dollars per barrel.

At the close of the address which was frequently applauded, a resolution was moved by Mr. John Robertson, New Perth commending the Dominion Government for its action in fostering Dairying and thanking the Minister for sending Prof. Craig to the Island, in addition to asking that further assistance should be given to fruit-growing on the Island with a view to developing this industry in a measure commensurate with its importance and possibilities. A hearty vote of thanks was then moved by Cyrus Shaw, M. P. P., seconded by Mr. Robertson, and presented to the speaker by the chairman The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

Among those present were Cyrus Shaw, M. P. P., New Perth, A. J. McDonald, M. P. P., Georgetown, Geo. Aitken, M. P. P., Murray Harbor, and Jas. E. McDonald, M. P. P., Cardigan. The clergy also turned out in force. Among them were noticed Rev. Dr. Walker, Rollo Bay, Fathers, McDonald, Gillis, McLean, McLellan, McMillan, Revs. Gunn, of Cardigan, and Gillis, of New Perth.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY

On Monday, the 27th inst., a large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Glen Martin for the purpose of advocating for the proposed railway from Southport to Murray Harbor South. Mr. Kenneth Martin occupied the chair.

Mr. A. Martin, Valleyfield, was the first to address the meeting. He reviewed the steps that had already been taken to bring this subject to the attention of the Government, and felt encouraged at the success that had attended the efforts already put forth. He thought the present a very opportune time for pressing our claims.

Messrs. McGuigan, McMillan and Martin followed. Their addresses were not long, but to the point. The meeting then proceeded to organize a Railway Association. The following officers were elected:

President—Kenneth Martin.
Vice President—Bernard McGuigan.
Secretary—M. McKinnon.
Treasurer—Norman McLeod.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted. Moved by M. McKinnon and seconded by Norman McLeod,—

Resolved, That this, the Glen Martin Railway Association, feel gratified at the encouragement already given by the Dominion Government for the establishment of railway communication in Belfast and Murray Harbor, and would most respectfully submit that during the present session of parliament an appropriation be made for that purpose.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet again on Monday, February 10th.

IN A CANDY FACTORY.

The Manual Dexterity Shown by a Good Workman.

From top to bottom the floors of the factory are covered with tiles, and I noticed that there were people engaged in all parts of the building scrubbing and washing these tiled floors. For a candy factory it was the least sticky or smeary place I ever saw. Absolute cleanliness and sweetness was the rule. There was a slight drift of sugar about, as in a mill where wheat is being ground, and your coat might get a little powdered, but there always was sweeping going on.

Chocolate making I need not describe, only to state that everything was done here by machinery, for the chocolate as produced enters for a large percentage into the bon-bons manufactured.

In the sugar-plum departments handwork seemed to be constant. Tidy-looking young women, all with caps on, were working away, each one with a little saucepan before her full of sugar; the sugar was in a pasty condition, the heat being derived from steam. In these saucepans were colored sugars of all the hues of the rainbow. The workwomen would take up an almond or a pistache-nut, and drop it into the saucepan, then fish it out with a bit of wire fashioned in loop form. The art was to get just the proper coating. Then with a dexterous motion of the wrist the sugar-plum would be placed in a tin pan, and with a deft motion of the wire loop a nice finish would be given to the top of it. There were some very small sugar-plums, and it would take 200 of them to make a pound. They were all exact in form. These little things, so the foreman told me, had gone through ten processes before they had arrived at their present condition. Some of the sugar-plums were made in molds. There was pure legerdemain about these. A man took a funnel and dropped the sugar, just at the crystallizing point, in molds. They were very small things, not more than an inch long by half an inch wide, but the confectioner never poured a drop in the wrong place. Dear me! if I tried to do that, I should make a precious mess of it.

Here were sugar-plums of many shades, every workwoman seeming to have a specialty. It was something not alone requiring alertness of hand, but constant watchfulness as to the condition of the material used. If it had been too soft, the bon-bon would have run and been out of shape. If the sugar paste had been too hard it would have been intractable. How they managed not to burn anything was a wonder.

Eccentric Spires.

The Exchange in the City of Copenhagen, with its curiously fashioned tower and spire, is deemed one of the sights of Denmark's capital. It is one of the most remarkable examples of eccentric architecture, although the architect, in his desire for originality, has not sacrificed the grace of form. The lower part is octagonal in shape, but the upper part consists of four carved dragons, whose tails, gracefully entwined, gradually taper away, and form the spire of the Exchange. The tower is 165 feet high, and was erected about 1815. The most eccentric church spire is that of the Parish Church (All Saints), of Chesterfield, with its curious spire, 228 feet high, and 6 feet off the perpendicular. Whichever way the observer looks at this curious spire it appears to bulge out in that direction.—London Tid-Bits.

Holy and Tender.

All that is holy and tender in the association of life and death is connected in some manner with the house of God. And besides the things that are visible in this connection how many invisible graces and blessings have been bestowed on individual souls. In the communings, invisible and inaudible, of the soul with its God; in the sweet foretastes of the eternal happiness occasionally vouchsafed to us while still on earth; in the remorse of conscience, of which only God and the penitent are cognizant, in the great inner world of thought and feeling, of joy and sorrow and consolation; in the memory of all these things there is cause of thanksgiving which we can only adequately realize when the great capacities of intellect and heart shall be developed by our union with God in heaven.—Archbishop Ryan.

In Brooklyn.

They had been sitting on the sofa in the twilight as they had every Sunday evening for three years, talking about the weather and the last church social.

Suddenly drawing the girlish figure toward him he exclaimed: "Agnes, I can no longer dissemble—I love you!"

The slender frame was racked as with uncontrollable emotion. Starting from his embrace she half rose to her feet, clutched wildly at her throat, then sank gasping by his side.

"Heavens!" he cried, "what means this? Art thou ill? Was my declaration too sudden for you?"

"Sudden?" she gurgled faintly as she struggled to smile. "Sudden? I should say it was. You scared me so I've swallowed my chewing gum."

These Pigeons Knew.

A number of homing pigeons were stolen. A policeman was detailed to trace them.

He found in a cote a number of pigeons that a neighbor said had just come there. The man who owned the cote said the pigeons were his. "Very well," said the policeman, "that's easily proved." He opened the door of the cote, and the pigeons flew out at once. They circled in the air for a moment and then flew away. The policeman went back to the man who had lost his pigeons, and found him very happy for they had all come home.

Cured Weak Back for 25 Cents
For two years I was dosed, pilled and plastered for weak back, scalding urine and constipation, without benefit. One box of Chase's Kidney Liver Pills relieved, three boxes cured. R. J. Rmith, Toronto One pill a dose, price 25 cents.

During a revival service in the Methodist Church at Pera, Ind,, last Thursday a man, 40 years old, stood up to ask the prayers of the congregation. Then he made some remarks, and as he told of his belief in his conversion he fell dead, of heart failure, the doctors say.

ODDS AND ENDS.

In these days the milk of human kindness is soured by the thunderstorm of imposition.

IT DOES THE BUSINESS.
If you want to know what Miller's Emulsion of Norwegian Cod Liver Oil will do for a consumptive patient ask one who has tried it. Ask anyone who has used it in lung troubles of any kind. What they say about Miller's Emulsion shall be its recommendation. It is the finest preparation of its kind in the world, and is worth its weight in gold to a consumptive sufferer, whom it will raise from a bed of sickness to health and strength of body and mind, giving a new lease of life. Thousands testify to the value of Miller's Emulsion. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

Mrs. Chatterbox—Did you ever make any errors in speech?
Mrs. Wordsworth—Yes; I made one a few years ago.
Mrs. Chatterbox—What was it?
Mrs. Wordsworth—I said "yes."—Richmond State.

Counterfeits
A few years ago a great discovery was made.
Unprincipled persons are trying to prey upon and dupe people who are led to ask for kidney treatment.
Some of the methods adopted by imitators are as follows:
First—To imitate the size, color and shape of Dodd's Kidney Pills and sell them by count.
Second—To put them up to appear very nearly the same and to be offered at the same price.
Third—To hook on the word "kidney" in naming cathortic pills so as to increase sales of mere physic.
Fourth—To give a name so near to Dodd's that unwary people may be deceived and think they are getting Dodd's.
Look out for such dodges. When you want kidney medicine you want the best. And ought not to be the subject for any trick.
So beware.

A penny saved is usually a penny earned for the benefit of some one with a scheme.

A Graduate of Toronto University Says:
"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years. Our physician first recommended it, and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always affects a cure."

Unrequited affection, as a rule, is a misfortune rather than a fault.

Cure of Chronic Catarrh.
A remarkable Cure.—J. W. Jennison Gifford, spent between $200 and $300 in consulting doctors; tried Dixon's and all other treatments but got no benefit. One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies in fact I consider myself cured, and with a 25 cent box ad that.

We always think that to-morrow never brings us much as yesterday takes away.

British Empire League.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The lord mayor of London, Sir Walter Henry Wilkins, presided to-day at the inaugural meeting of the British Empire league, formed to continue the work of the Imperial Federation league. Sir John Lubbock, bart F. R. S., M. D., for London university, explained the objects of the league. The Duke of Devonshire was elected president. Among the speakers was Richards Dobell of Quebec, who referred to the loyalty of Canada, and said that the formation of the British Empire league would be hailed with great satisfaction in the dominion.

A Child Cured of Eczema by Chase's Ointment.
"My six-year-old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczema for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. The doctor advised the use of Chase's Ointment, and since using the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured.

He will take no Risks.
Shrewdness of a wellknown City Merchant.
HE KNEW WHAT WAS GOOD FOR HIM.
In winter when Canadians spend a large portion of their time indoors and cannot have the same variety of fresh food as in summer and fall, indigestion and dyspepsia afflict a majority. "If anybody will tell me that dyspepsia in its advanced stages is perfectly curable," said a Toronto merchant, "I will take his word. Personally I run no risks. As soon as I feel a sense of weight in the stomach, after a meal, I know that my blood is sluggish in circulation. In my business I cannot take much exercise, and I fight the first sign of stomach troubles with Scott's Sarsaparilla. It has never failed me, and has saved me many a doctor's bill."
Scott's Sarsaparilla possesses medicinal properties superior to all other so-called sarsaparillas made. As a remedy for indigestion, rheumatism, pimples, scrofula and all blood diseases, physicians state that its equal was never known. Sold at $1 per bottle, of all dealers.

GIRLS VALUE PURITY IN MEN.

The Exceptions, Who Wed Men of the World, Always Repent of It.

A young man writes to Edward W. Bok inquiring why so many girls seem to prefer the company of young fellows of slightly blotted character—men who have seen the world—and in many cases marry them, in face of the fact that their past lives are known to them. In the January issue of The Ladies' Home Journal Mr. Bok, its editor, makes this reply: "Girls, that is, the right kind of girls, do not prefer the company of young men of this sort. Doubtless, you have come across instances where this rule has been otherwise; so have I. But it is all in the seeming, and not in the reality. Depend upon one thing: girls have as high an estimate of purity in man as men have of purity in woman. There are, of course, cases to the contrary, but these are few. Where girls marry men who are known to have led what is called a 'worldly life,' it is more generally due to a misunderstanding of facts or to ignorance than people imagine. There is a type of girl who finds a peculiar satisfaction in the conquest of a man who has 'seen the world,' and then comes to her as the one woman of all her sex who can make him happy. This sometimes pleases her vanity and love of conquest, but she is not many years older before she discovers that she has satisfied those feelings at a very high cost. There is another type of girl who rather fancies a man who is what is called 'fast.' But that sort of girl is painfully ignorant of what is meant by that word as applied to a man. If she were not she would be very apt to change the adjective to 'vulgar.' And as she matures she finds this out. It is only young men of upright lives who can hope to win the favor and love of girls of high motives, the girls who make the best wives. If, at times, girls seem to favor young men of another kind, the glamour is simply transitory. It is rare, very rare, that a girl's better instincts do not lead her to the higher grade of young men. An upright life never fails of reward, and of the highest reward, from the hand of woman."

GOLD AND DIAMOND THIEVES.

In South Africa They Are One of the Plagues of the Country.

The gold and diamonds of South Africa have already attracted a very fair proportion of the thieves of the world to that favored region. Some very fine hauls have been made, and others all but made; but one hears little of such things over here; there is so much of solidly interesting South African news that the cables seldom give us the picturesque. Decidedly the most sensational attempt was one a few years ago on the diamond train. To reach Cape Town from Kimberly used to take three days, or at least two days and three nights. The diamonds used to be carried in a safe in the post-office sorting van. Some expert thieves found out where the safe always stood in the van, and under that spot, beneath the bottom of the van, rigged up a platform of rope and plank, whereon a man could lie and work with a drill as the train sped on its way. It is a lonely journey, with hours and hours between stations. The thief endured his uncomfortable position beneath the moving train long enough to bore a circlet of holes in the bottom of the iron safe, having first cut a piece out of the bottom of the van. His plan was to complete the circle in this tedious way so as to remove a piece of the safe bottom and leave a hole large enough for the insertion of an arm, the removal of a bag, and the capture of a fortune in diamonds. Unfortunately for him, he was either disturbed, or he got tired, or he dropped off his planks. At any rate he did not cut out the piece of metal, consequently did not reap his glittering reward. He escaped. The postoffice people in the van heard nothing of the drill—which probably was silent save when there was the clatter racket of the wheels to drown its noise. When the platform and the pierced safe were discovered the thief had gone and left no clew beyond his handiwork, which never proved sufficient for tracing him.—St. James' Gazette.

Apples as Medicine.

The apple is such a common fruit that very few persons are familiar with its remarkable efficacious medical properties. Everybody ought to know that the very best thing they can do is to eat apples just before retiring for the night. Persons uninitiated in the mysteries of the fruit are liable to throw up their hands in horror at the visions of dyspepsia which such a suggestion may summon up, but no harm can come to even a delicate system by the eating of ripe and juicy apples just before going to bed. The apple is an excellent brain food, because it has more phosphoric acid in easily digestible shape than any other vegetable known. It excites the action of the liver, promotes sound and healthy sleep, and thoroughly disinfects the mouth. This is not all. The apple agglutinates the surplus acids of the stomach, helps the kidney secretions and prevents calculus growths, while it obviates indigestion, and is one of the best preventives known of diseases of the throat. Everybody should be familiar with such knowledge. In addition, next to the orange and the lemon, it is the best antidote for the thirst and craving of the person addicted to the alcohol or opium habit.

Tackling a Philosopher.

In reply to the request for assistance, the professor said: "If I could help you, I could not help helping you. It is because I can not help you that I can not help refusing you."

The mendicant darted around the corner with terror in his eye and cries of "Help!" in his mouth.—Boston Transcript.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA
BREAKFAST—SUPPER.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save use many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame." Civil Service Gazette
