the living voice speaks to all our hearts, when we sing: "Sun of my soul, Thou Saviour dear, It is not night if Thou be near; O may no earth-born cloud arise To hide Thee from thy servant's eyes."

Who but will thank God for the work of these men, a glorious page in the history of Christianity? But, while the excellence of that work needs no proof, we are not blind to the dangers, the exaggerations, and the deficiencies which sometimes followed in its train.

ONLY TO A FEW CHOSEN MINDS has God given that wide and sober grasp, that calm and still zealous energy, which preserves the balance of seemingly antagonistic truths, the need for freedom and the need for government; faith as the source, holiness as the result of life in Christ; above all, and in all, the teaching and the practice of charity, "the very bond of peace and of all virtues."

Now, the dangers and shortcomings which followed in the train of this movement were not wanting. The intense emphasis laid upon the need of a professed and personal faith, led sometimes to a carelessness about outward organization, to a neglect sometimes of practical religion, and often, alas, to the admission of hypocritical followers, who professed with their lips what was utterly absent from their hearts.

At last came the end of combats, and Cambridge, the place of his first choice, received him as a teacher and as a parish priest. Never will those who then, for the first time, heard him, forget that voice which made the reading of the scriptures a commentary, and the oft-heard Liturgy a new devotional discipline.

That this party has also a noble record of good work, it is impossible to deny. It was from their ranks, at the beginning of the last century, that Robert Nelson and his friends established the first great Missionary Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in foreign parts, as also the sister association for promoting Christian Knowledge. It was by their efforts that irreverence in divine worship was gradually removed, and that, now, every section of Christendom recognizes that to worship God in a neglected building and with slovenly performance of the Church's ordinances, is not a proof of a spiritual worship, but rather of its complete absence.

FOR EACH AND ALL OF THESE MEN, the Church of England has room in her wide fold. She is not a sect, born out of some minute difference, and ending with some transient popularity; but a Church, built upon the broad and firm rock of Christ's teachings, ordinances, and promises.

Our Church admits she recognizes the three great sections I have described to you; and he is not a wise man who should desire to diminish her Catholic scope, even by retrenching some practices and some opinions which he does not share. For to what tribunal can he appeal? To the Articles? To the Catechism? To the Prayer Book? To the Breviary? To the Rubric? To the Homilies? To the Litany? To the Creed? To the Gospels? To the Epistles? To the Apostles? To the Fathers? To the Councils? To the Tradition? To the Holy Spirit? To the Church? To the Pope? To the Pope's legate? To the Pope's nuncio? To the Pope's ambassador? To the Pope's legate? To the Pope's nuncio? To the Pope's ambassador?

For any such victory would be, whether to the victors or to the whole Church herself, "that dishonest victory, Of Cheronæa, fatal to liberty;" and the party which gained it would speedily feel the Nemesis of its suicidal policy. For the Church to which we belong is Catholic and Protestant, and, above all things, National. She claims no infallibility for herself. She denies no hope for others. Her motto is found in those noble words, the authorship of which is unknown, but which surely the spirit of God inspired: "IN THINGS NECESSARY, UNITY; IN THINGS NOT NECESSARY, LIBERTY; IN ALL THINGS, CHARITY."

One last word: if we realize that the Spirit is given, not to this or that section of the Church, but to every man to profit vital; if we remember that to the back-sliding Galatians, and to the restless and divided Corinthians, the same apostolical salutation came to the beloved of Ephesus and of Philippi; if we remember the divine blessing on the peacemakers; if we feel that to preach even truth wrathfully and bitterly poisons the very truth itself; that our satisfaction may be the Pharisee's pride, and the object of our dislike may enjoy the Samaritan's blessings; then surely the seeming difficulty of Diversity in Unity, and Unity amid Diversity, will cease to perplex us. We shall welcome, we shall honor each child of Wisdom, accepting the measure of his gift; we shall "with a lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love; endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace."

SICK HEADACHE

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

$500 REWARD is offered by the manufacturer of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hoarseness or coughing; clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with mucus from the nose; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with general depression, a feeling of languor and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, which manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache. Sold by druggists everywhere, 50 cents.

"Entirely Agon," from Catarrh. Prof. W. HAYDEN, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become hoarse, and I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Sneezing and Spitting." THOMAS J. BROWN, Esq., 222 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and at others, I was constantly sneezing and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one that only to give a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh. ELLIOTT, Rogers, P. O. Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her. A third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."
