

ELLEN'S DIARY

Fishing Comes To Mind When Passing The Stream

Mists of damp, scarfed today's hills. And now, in the continuing mildness, patches of brown earth appeared here and there along the yards and in the fence rows against the white of the winter-spread fields. And we said, we live more or less within sight of the wildings of the farm: the cute rabbits, the wily foxes, the racoons, the squirrels and the white-striped scented proviers, and also the feathered creature of wood and field. "Now the partridges can find gleanings of grit to help in their survival."

HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Blaquiere of North Rustico had as recent guests their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Corcoran of Fredericton, N. B.

P. E. I. Girl Guides will hold their "Thinking Day Tea" this Saturday, February 19th at Confederation Centre.

The Baltic Women's Institute sponsored a successful card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wall of Kensington recently when eight tables of cards were in play. Ladies first prize was won by Mrs. George Riley, and men's Gary Brown. Consolation awards went to Evelyn Dickieson and Keith Warren. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the members of Baltic W.I.

Mrs. William Hunter, Baltic, spent a pleasant holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Earle MacKenzie, Kensington.

Mrs. Urban Doiron of North Rustico was a recent visitor to Amherst, N. S.

Recently the Spring Valley W.I. entertained in the Spring Valley Hall at a card party with prizes being won by Mrs. Hiram Harrington and Roy Mountain, while consolation awards went to Mrs. William Cousins and Charles MacLellan. The lucky door prize was won by Carlyle Caseley. Refreshments were served by W.I. members.

Mrs. Howard Gallant of Rustico is spending a holiday with her daughter, Helena in Los Angeles, California.

Connie and Henry Pineau of North Rustico have returned from a trip to Vancouver, B. C., where they visited with their brother Vincent and sister, Sr. St. Edgar, and also with Mr. and Mrs. James Blaquiere, formerly of North Rustico.

At the regular morning service on Sunday, at the New London United Church, the following gifts and memorials were dedicated: pulpit and lectern drapes, a gift from the United Church Women; a runner for the communion table, a gift from Mrs. W. A. Paterson; a guest book, presented by Mrs. Stirling MacKay in memory of her late husband, A. Stirling MacKay. The beautiful workmanship on the drapes and runner was by Mrs. Alexander R. Green in memory of the late Rev. W. I. Green. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. A. Paterson and the organist was Mrs. Ray MacLeod.

Girls' Efforts Recognized On Completion Of Course

Certificates were presented recently to 14 girls on completion of the Junior Red Cross Baby Sitting Course, sponsored by the Alpha York W.I. under the direction of the president, Mrs. Randolph Murray.

Films were shown on child care and lectures given on feeding and caring for a child, also on the characteristic requisites of a good baby sitter. The main features stressed during the course were: to make a list of the instructions and rules of the parents before their departure from the house and to follow these explicitly during their absence; also to know the necessary steps to take in case of a fire or accident.

The winning of these certificates gives the girls confidence so they can go to any town or community and look after children capably and safely in the absence of their parents.

Clinton WI Has Guest Speaker

Irene Mountain, Home Economics teacher at the Kennington Regional High School, was guest speaker at the February meeting of Clinton Women's Institute held at the home of Mrs. Robert Heaney. Miss Mountain demonstrated the making of fancy sandwiches which was very interesting. She was introduced by the secretary, Mrs. Horace Paynter, and a small gift of appreciation on behalf of the WI was presented by Mrs. James MacKay.

The president, Mrs. Thomas Sullivan opened the meeting with the thought for the month, "A man's true wealth is the good he does in the world." The members responded to roll call with a school lunch idea, and the treasurer, Mrs. Keith Woodside gave a satisfactory report on the finances.

Correspondence was read and dealt with, and subscriptions were taken for the "Institute News". The school committee reported having visited the school. A letter from the teacher, Mrs. Ralph Wigmore was read, extending an invitation to visit with her and the pupils any afternoon. A paper on "Home Economics" was read by Mrs. James MacKay. It was decided to hold a parlor social in early March.

More Red Cross work was passed out by the convener, Mrs. Ivan Pickering. Mrs. James MacKay will be hostess for the March meeting, and roll call will be answered with a "word often misspelled." Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Heaney, including the sandwiches made by Miss Mountain.

MR. AND MRS. PARKER FRANCIS

Couple At Tryon Celebrate Their Golden Anniversary

Yellow and bronze mums attractively decorated the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Francis recently when they were at home to their many friends and relatives on their 50th anniversary. The dining room table was centered with a decorated, two-tiered cake topped with anniversary symbols and flanked by four golden candles in cut glass candelabra. Mrs. Urville Large poured and Mrs. John Simmons and Mrs. Otto Johnson served. The guests were ushered by Mrs. Arthur Simmons and Mrs. Frank Harvey. Mrs. Louis Francis, Mrs. Verner Moore, Mrs. William Myers, Mrs. William Macdonald, and Mrs. John Francis replenished. Elsie Francis attended the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis were married at the Tryon Baptist Parsonage January 19, 1916 by the Rev. Arthur Herr. Mrs. Francis was the former Mable Simmons of Crapaud. They have resided in the Francis home- stead ever since their marriage where Mr. Francis is a successful farmer. The couple have a family of three. Elsie at home and John and Louis residing on adjoining farms. They have four grandchildren all of whom were present at the happy occasion.

Many gifts were received together with congratulatory notes among which was one from the Prime Minister of Canada, the Hon. Lester B. Pearson. In the evening the members of the Westmoreland Baptist Church of which Mrs. Francis has been organist for many years called upon Mr. and Mrs. Francis. Lowellyn Gamble read an appropriate address while Stafford Leard and Alva Walsh made a presentation.

Among the relatives of Mrs. Francis who attended the anniversary was her aunt, Mrs. Nettie Callbeck of North River who is 85 years old and her uncle, Warren Simmons of Crapaud, who has reached the grand old age of 98. (Photo by Red Studio.)

Cake Sale Report Given At Meet

Mrs. Austin Sentner was hostess to the February meeting of Springvale W.I. recently. Following routine opening, roll call was answered by 10 members and two visitors.

The recent cake sale was reported to be successful and the school committee reported a new mat had been purchased for the school. Kaye Crabbe agreed to send to Eaton's store for thread.

The meeting was brought to a close with the hostess and committee serving refreshments.

Baked Beans For Supper As In Old New England

In New England, home-cooked baked beans are still invariably served on a Saturday night, along with steamed brown bread, either home-made or bought.

What is added to these traditional foods to round out a substantial dinner?

Possible First Course In some households, oyster stew is the first course; a tossed salad - if served - with the beans, and the dessert is apple pie. In other homes, frankfurters or sliced smoked ham are served with the beans.

As a variation on this menu, I suggest starting with a saladette based on deviled ham or minced cooked ham; adding escalloped canned tomato; choosing buttermilk cornmeal bread because it is not sweet, and for dessert warm blueberry pie, with cubes of Cheddar cheese. This combination produces a balanced satisfying meal that is on a par with menus based on gourmet provincial dishes.

NEW ENGLAND DINNER

Deviled Ham Saladettes New England Baked Beans (homemade) Escalloped Canned Tomato Buttermilk Cornmeal Bread Blueberry Pie (Canned Blueberries) with Cubes of Cheddar Cheese Coffee, Tea Milk

Measurements level; recipes for 6

DEVILED HAM SALADETTES 1 (4 1/2 oz.) can deviled ham 1 tbsp. tomato catsup 1 tbsp. mild table-mustard 1-3 c. mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing

1 c. fine-chopped celery 1/2 c. fine-chopped peeled raw apple Lettuce or chicory, or romaine leaves 1 hard cooked egg, chopped fine

Mash deviled ham until soft; mix and stir in catsup, mustard and mayonnaise. Add celery and apple. Chill. Serve in small nests of shredded lettuce or chicory, or on romaine leaves. Top each saladette with top of chopped hard-cooked egg.

NEW ENGLAND BAKED BEANS

(Enough for 2 meals; a good planer) 2 lb. navy beans 2 c. boiling water 2 (5") strips bacon 1 c. molasses 1/2 tsp. minced onion 1 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. pepper 1 tsp. dry mustard

Wash beans; discard imperfect ones. Wash perfect beans, and rinse. Cover with boiling water; let stand 50 min. Boil covered 50 min. in same water. Do not drain.

Fry bacon until half-done and set aside. Pour fat into 4-qt. casserole. Stir in beans with bean liquid. Add molasses, onion, and seasonings. Cover. Bake 5 hr. in slow-mod. oven, 325 to 350 degrees F.; add boiling water if beans become dry. Transfer to individual bean pots. Top with bacon, cut in 1/2" lengths. Brown 12 min. in hot oven, 425 degrees F.

ESCALLOPED CANNED TOMATO

1 (No. 2 1/2) can tomato, mashed, seasoned to taste 1/2 c. fine shredded-wheat crumbs 2 tsp. butter or margarine, melted

Oil deep 9" pie - plate that can go-to-table. In it, arrange alternately 2 layers of tomato and 2 layers of crumbs mixed with butter, finishing with crumb layer. Bake 1 hr. in mod. oven, 350 to 375 degrees F., until tomato liquid is almost evaporated and top layer of crumbs is browned.

BUTTERMILK CORNMEAL BREAD

2 c. enriched white or yellow cornmeal 1/2 tsp. baking soda 1 tsp. sugar 1/4 tsp. salt 1 egg, well beaten 2 tsp. melted butter or margarine 2 c. buttermilk

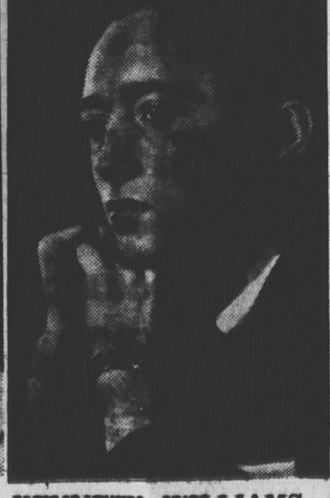

In 2-qt. bowl combine ingredients and beat together thoroughly. Transfer to oiled 7" x 11" baking pan; bake 30 to 35 min. in mod. oven, 375 to 400 degrees F., or until browned and pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cut in squares; serve warm.

TRICK OF THE CHEF

To be sure when boiled dried beans are cooked, test by gently blowing on two or three beans lifted on a spoon. If you huff and puff enough, the outer skins will burst. And they will be done.
