Many Interesting Items In Historical Exhibition

Monday was the first day of the historical exhibition which will be on view to the public in the Y. M. C. A. throughout the summer. Exhibits are still being added to the collection, but already hundreds of articles are on display dating from the early part of the eighteenth century onwards. The exhibition is sponsored by the Historical Society of Prince Edward Island.

Most of the exhibits are articles that were used in pioneer days by the early settlers of Charlottetown, such as tools used in the building of ships, old leather buckets which had to be hung in the halls of all the houses in case of fire, candle-moulds, a loom, skein-winder and spinning-wheel, a hand-operated sewing-machine, instruments for pulling teeth, hand-forged nails and straight razors, tools for shaping logs into wooden pumps, the lock for the first house built on Sydney Street, wood-stock skates with curved blades which used to be strapped to the shoes, a butter churn, still-like objects which were also strapped to the shoes and used instead of ruggers, a Buddy Finnan of the Canadian Army, Fredericton, N. B., is spending his leave with his mother, Mrs. Finnan and brothers and sisters, Rollo Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Richards, Miss Claudia Richards, Souris, Mrs. Billy McLean and daughter Nancy of Souris were recent visitors to Bothwell and vicinity.

Mrs. Preston Jenkins, who had the "Minnie Carmichael", and his daughter was born on board ship, another of his ships is shown as it was painted in Hong Kong, with the peculiar Chinese conception of the water sloping down in the direction in which it flowed, and the ship going upstream, or up-hill.

A painting of the famous rescue of the crew of the "Amitie" by Captain Douse of the "Jenny Lind" was loaned to the exhibition by Mr. Victor Purdie, grandson of Captain William Douse. The "Amitie" was bound for Liverpool when she was wrecked off Newfoundland, October, 1847, and the 12 survivors including Captain Allen were exposed three days and nights, waste-deep in water, to the sea before found by Captain Douse.

Unfortunately a complete account cannot be given of this exhibition, but other items, such as an early photograph of L. M. Montgomery and a hand-written letter by her, reproductions of photographs of the first streets of Charlottetown, hand-woven clothes and hand-made utensils of all kinds, may be mentioned. Much praise is due to the contributors of these articles and to the members of the Historical Society, for work that has been done to make the exhibition a great success.

Link With Boswell

The last duel fought in Scotland was between a Whig, James Stuart, and a Tory, Sir Alexander Boswell, in 1822. Sir Alexander was son and heir of James Boswell, the biographer of Dr. Johnson, and was created a baronet in 1821. His near relative, Dr. Alexander Henry Boswell, came to the Island in 1834; his brother's portrait is among the exhibits along with an account of the duel and what precipitated it.

Captain T. G. Taylor used to trade for tea and wool in China and Australia, and was a captain at the age of 23. His wife sailed with him on a three-year trip in
