

S. C. Plans Good Fight

OTTAWA (CP)—Social Credit Leader Solon Low said Monday his party will have sufficient funds to put on a good fight during the March 31 election campaign.

Mr. Low and his colleagues in the last Parliament met for three hours Monday morning at a caucus to discuss party plans for the coming campaign. He expected to announce his travelling plans within a few days.

Mr. Low said it is too early to estimate the number of Social Credit candidates who will stand for election. However, the candidates likely would be concentrated in Alberta and British Columbia.

In the last Parliament the Social Credit party had 19 members, including 13 from Alberta and six from British Columbia.

OTTAWA JOTTINGS

Last Hours Of The House Were Filled With Tension

By John A. Macdonald, M. P.

The final last week's proceedings in the House of Commons went on more quietly but still under considerable tension. Election talk filled the air and interest is still keen. One of the finest outcomes of the last June 10th change of government was a renewed interest in the affairs of our government such as had not been the case for many years.

A week ago a group of members were selected to tour Canada's largest aircraft plant in Montreal. It was a pleasant change from the many hours of work each day, seven days a week, that many of us have been putting in here since our arrival in October.

The plant is a very impressive one and has ten thousand employees now working on several types of aircraft, missiles and equipment for the Army. Dr. Phillips, the able and energetic member for Prince, and myself were extremely interested in the new Argus aircraft which is being manufactured there.

AT SUMMERSIDE

A number of these enormous new sub-hunting aircraft will be based at Summerside when accommodations have been built. The Minister of National Defence and Dr. Phillips recently announced that contracts will be let for nearly eight millions of dollars which will be of great benefit to the whole of the province.

The Minister of Public Works announced a large series of projects which will cost something over a hundred million dollars. In this aggressive and comprehensive programme is included the amount of $862,890.00 for completion of Railway wharf construction at Georgetown, Prince Edward Island. Additional items will be announced later for various sections of King's County which will provide a great deal of work in the coming season.

CORRESPONDENCE

Since coming here last fall, the correspondence which I have handled has grown to an unusual amount for a private Member of Parliament. It has been gratifying as the letters have been most pleasant and have given me a valuable contact with my constituents and their problems. Many of their problems I have been able to solve; some of them I have not been successful in solving. Even in case of the latter I have been very pleased with the many kinds letters of appreciation which I have received. They are greatly appreciated for many long hours of work.

An interesting ceremony took place in the unveiling of a picture of Hon. Thomas D'Arcy McEee to be hung with the great and highly respected native of the province from Souris Dr. Emmet J. Mulhally gave a resume of the life of this great statesman. It was good to meet the Doctor again and his friends from Souris area will be interested to know that he is looking and feeling very well. His part of the ceremony was admirably carried out as he has done in the many endeavors of a long and useful life.

Roland Taylor Wins Hands Competition In Camera Club

Another large attendance was on hand for the fortnightly meeting of the Charlottetown Camera Club on Monday evening. The entries in the black and white competition "Hands" were judged by Mr. Cleve Craswell. First place went to Roland Taylor for the print shown above, second to Margaret Mallett and third to Rev. F. H. Littlejohns. Mr. Craswell also passed around some copies of his own "hand portraits"—several of which have been accepted for international salons.

A simple test was demonstrated to determine immersion time for hypo used in fixing prints and film.

Roland Taylor gave a talk and demonstration on exposure meters, using a variety of types in the low and medium price range.

Dramatic Workshop Gives Its First Performance

On Thursday, January 30th, the Montague Dramatic Workshop presented their first performance of "See How They Run" in Georgetown before a capacity audience.

"See How They Run" is a highly amusing farce which made a great hit with audiences in London, England where it ran for sixteen consecutive weeks. Mrs. D. M. Macdonald who directed the Montague Players, is to be congratulated on the excellent presentation of this comedy. There is some very fast action through all three acts, and the resulting laugh-provoking confusion was perfectly handled by all members of the cast. This is an enjoyable comedy, and many people will have a chance to verify this as the play will visit several Island centres in the near future.

The cast of "See How They Run" is as follows: Ida (a maid) Mrs. Vivian Fraser; Miss Skilton Mrs. George Hume; The Reverend Lionel Toop—John Hughes; Penelope Toop—Mrs. Elizabeth McGowan; Corporal Clive Winter—Norman Harris; The Intruder, Mr. George Boudreaux; The Bishop of Lax—Edwin McDonald; The Reverend Arthur Humphrey—Archie Hiltchey; Sergeant Towers—John White.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting itchy rear are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of these ugly pests they must be killed in the intestines where they live and multiply. And that's exactly what JAYNE'S Vermifuge does... kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Then they are expelled from the system in a normal manner and you are free of them.

For your own sake and the health of your children and loved ones, don't put off treatment. Get started with JAYNE'S at the very first sign of Pin-Worms. For once established these parasites are highly contagious and often spread through entire families.

So be sure to ask your druggist for JAYNE'S, famous for worm remedies for over one hundred years.

HEADED FOR HOME

Below famed Mount Ves. vius at Capadachino airport near Naples, Italy, airmen load an RCAF North Star with equipment for transport back to Canada. From this base, the RCAF's No. 114 Communications Flight has been transporting supplies to the United Nations Emergency Force in Egypt. This role is now being taken over by commercial airlines.

Another RCAF unit based at El Arish in Egypt will continue to fly for the UNEF on communications and reconnaissance duties. (National Defence)

Exploring Old Mexico Delighted Georgetown Man

Raymond Lavandier, Georgetown Merchant, returned recently from a four weeks trip, which took him through the greater part of the United States and Mexico. Mr. Lavandier was greatly impressed by the many wonderful places he visited.

One of the noticeable things in Mexico was the almost complete absence of what we know as middle-class citizens, the population there being mainly divided between the rich and poor. The cities are growing at a rapid rate and the newer sections contain many beautiful and modern structures. Naturally in so old a country there are a great many historic sites, cathedrals and shrines to be seen. Mr. Lavandier brought back with him a wealth of photographic proof of the many wonderful sights the country presents.

HIGHLY SEASONED

In Mexico, though the food is good, it is very highly seasoned as that is the way it is preferred by the populace. The Mexican dollar is called the peso and is worth about eight cents in our money. Prices are very reasonable but this was not so in the Pacific Coast resort city of Acapulco, which caters to the higher-class American tourist trade. Generally throughout the Country a six course meal would cost fifteen pesos or one dollar and twenty cents of our money. Good hotel accommodations are about three dollars or twenty-four pesos.

BY AIR AND TAXI

Mr. Lavandier left home on January 4th, and from Charlottetown to Montreal he travelled by Maritime Central Airways and to Boston by Trans Canada Airways. From Boston he flew by American Air Lines to New York City. From there to Washington and on to Houston, Corpus Christi and Brownsville, all in Texas by Eastern Air Lines. From Brownsville, all in Texas, by Eastern Air Lines. From Brownsville on the Mexico-Texas border he taxied into Mexico and continued his tour in that country by luxurious buses.

He travelled a distance of 2,000 miles in Mexico all by bus on a tour which criss-crossed the country from East to West and back, touching both the shores of the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific Ocean, and calling at all the major cities from north to south. The first major city visited was Monterrey. This is a mountain city of half a million population and is noted for the orange groves surrounding it.

Saltillo, with a population of seventy thousand was next visited and the chief claim to fame of this city is in its industries in sugar cane, peanuts, pineapples and coconuts. The city of Torreon with a population of about a million is only fifty years old and is noted for its mining, which include gold, silver, steel, lead and uranium. From here the route led to Durango, a small city of lovely homes and churches and noted for its cement manufacturing industry.

From Durango it is an 18-hour trip by bus to the city of Guadalajara which is the second largest city of Mexico and has a population of close to two million. The Mexican place names which begin with the letter "G" as does Guadalajara are pronounced as if they started with the letter "W". In this city Mr. Lavandier had a very interesting visit to some of the City's noted glass manufacturing plants.

MEXICO CITY

Another eighteen hour bus drive took the visitor to the Capital Mexico City, which is situated one and one half miles above sea level and has a population of four millions. This is one of the most interesting cities of the world, with its old Spanish architecture and also the most modern of buildings. Here Mr. Lavandier visited the Museum of Fine Arts, which is built of pink marble and cost the enormous sum of twenty-four million dollars. This building sank about three inches during the severe earthquake of last autumn.

Here he also visited the world's largest University, which is built on pure lava from a volcano. This University can accommodate thirty thousand students and at present has an enrollment of twenty thousand students.

The great pyramid of the Sun and Moon is situated here. Built by an extinct Indian race about eight thousand years ago it is two hundred feet in height and seven hundred feet at the base. Mr. Lavandier claimed to step to the top and when you consider that the pyramid is a mile and a half above sea level and another two hundred feet to its top, one can realize, when told by Mr. Lavandier the summit and when there it is next to impossible to breathe deeply. Our tourist also visited the world-famous Shrine and Cathedral at Guadalupe, which was built in 1531.

The next stage of the journey was by bus through two hundred and fifty miles of mountain and cactus country to the resort city of Acapulco on the Pacific Coast, which is one of the entertainment show places of the world.

ENTERTAINS W. M. S. — Mrs. Chester McLure, Montague, was hostess to the members of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society on January 14th. In the absence of the president, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. D. A. Campbell. Mrs. Marven Johnston was in charge of the devotional period. Roll call was answered with a verse of scripture and followed the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Mrs. A. D. McLure. The financial report was read by the treasurer, Mrs. H. E. Nelson. An interesting resume of a chapter from the study book was given by Mrs. A. C. MacKay. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. A. F. Campbell and Mrs. Harry Millar.
