A TOOTH OF GOLD.

The Truthful Narration of a Dentist Who Knew His Business.

The man in the chair of torture was congratulating with the doctor of dental surgery.

"That's all right," said the dentist, "but you are foolish not to let me build a tooth up with gold for you."

"What's the use? It will cost me $100 to say, and I cannot afford to cut my $200 board with a $10 tooth. It is too much dead capital."

"Is it?" smiled the dentist. "Listen to a story. About ten years ago I was trying to make a living in the west in partnership with a fellow who wasn't any luckier than I was. We worked around to the north, where the winters are as bad as they are in the Klondike, and our funds kept getting lower and lower until starvation set down to table with us. The weather was getting colder, too, and the last wagon train out was booked for the following Sunday, then two days away. It was our last chance, for to remain there for the four months till the trail was open meant death, sure. The price to go with the train was $25 each. Just what $25 amounts to you will never know until you need it as badly as we did."

"We hadn't a cent on earth, and nothing to put up to get on with. It was indeed a cold day for both of us. By Saturday noon we had given up all hope of getting out and had retired to our shanty. As we sat gazing in stupid despair at each other my partner grinned a ghastly grin and the gleam of the gold in his filled teeth caught my eye. I concealed my feelings and quietly asked him how many teeth he had filled. He told me there were six, and one of them was nearly a solid gold tooth and had cost him $50. In a minute I had communicated my idea to him, and in another minute I had my tools, for I had been studying dentistry then, at work in his mouth, digging away like a miner. It was a rich field, and in half an hour I had out every bit of gold in those teeth of his and had beaten it up into a wad that we took to the owner of a saloon who knew what raw gold was worth. He looked it over and offered $80 for the wad.

"My partner kept his mouth shut and so did I, and when the train moved out with its wagons next day we had our place in the front row and $5 apiece spending money. Six months later we struck luck and I filled my partner's teeth and never charged him a cent."

"Go on with mine," said the man in the chair, "and charge me the same."—Washington Star.

Artificial Teeth on Metal Plates

A dentist who knows his business, and one that has any regard for his patients will always advise them to have a metal plate.

PROF. MELVILLE B. BUCKLEY, Instructor Boston Dental College, Boston Mass.

In view of the vast amount of injury done to the mouths of wearers of rubber or vulcanite plates, by the retention of undue heat, owing to the non conductivity of rubber, and as aluminum is now so cheaply produced, and making as it does a rigid, light, clean, unobjectionable plate there seems no reason why any person should wear a rubber or vulcanite plate. Not only this, but better results in fit and adhesion are obtained in difficult cases, than in the use of rubber.

The above quotations are from hundreds of eminent dentists whose close observation in many years experience in plate work has learned them the many advantages of metal over rubber.

Many persons who are compelled to wear artificial teeth on a plate find that the ordinary plate causes heating of the mouth, bad taste, shrinkage of the gums, etc., finally causing the plate to get loose, sometimes sore lips, sore mouths and sore throats, and caused directly from the wearing of an ordinary plate.

We recommend a metal plate either of Gold, Platinum, Aluminum.

It is a conductor of heat and cold, it is non-irritating, and is thinner, lighter, and stronger than any other plate.

We have testimonials from persons for whom we have made metal plates—not one would wear an ordinary plate again. You can have your impression taken, and a metal plate made same day, fully guaranteed because we make them ourselves, and know all about the material used. Call and see specimens of our work.

Every piece of work done by us must give entire satisfaction to the patient, else we will not allow it to leave our office.
