A LESSON FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Dawson of Toronto Cured of Female Weakness by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Toronto, Nov 21.—The case of Mrs. Ellen Dawson, of 640 Gerrard St. east, who has been restored to vigorous health, by Dodd's Kidney Pills, after six years of agony from Female Weakness, and Palpitation of the heart, is causing widespread interest in the east end.

Mrs. Dawson writes that she used three so-called kidney cures and was treated by one of Toronto's most prominent physicians without deriving the least benefit.

The first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills gave her pronounced relief; eight boxes cured her thoroughly.

Mrs. Dawson's case furnishes a lesson every woman should learn. Dodd's Kidney Pills are women's best friend.

A Brazilian Indian Story.

Here is a Brazilian Indian story, says the New York Times. The jaguar and the monkey met. The jaguar had a luscious bunch of plantains which the monkey craved. "I will gladly give you the plantains," said the jaguar, "providing you catch a fawn for me." "Agreed," cried the monkey. "But," added the jaguar, "if you don't get the fawn you must promise to let me bite a mouthful out of you." "Agreed," once more cried the gleeful monkey. The monkey ate the plantains, and the little matter about the fawn quite slipped his memory.

Then one day the jaguar met the monkey and insisted on taking his pay out of the monkey's hide. The business, becoming serious, was left to the peccari to decide. "It seems all right enough," said the peccari, "only this: How am I to determine what is the exact size of a jaguar's mouthful and also where is he to bite? He had better refer the matter to the big snake." The big snake took the subject under consideration. His judgment was that he would have to swallow the jaguar, the monkey and the peccari. The jaguar and peccari he did at once assimilate, but the monkey, being nimble, escaped.

What Bothered Him.

"When I was a young man," says a well known civil engineer, "I was surveying the route of a proposed railway. An old farmer with whom I stopped for a time admitted one day, when he saw me figuring in the field, that mathematics always seemed a wonderful thing to him. Being young and enthusiastic, I began to enlarge its wonders, telling him how we could measure the distances to different planets, and even weigh them; how we could ascertain the height of mountains without scaling them and many other things which I meant should astonish him.

"You can imagine how he set me back when he replied to this brilliant array of facts by saying: 'Yes, yes, them things does seem kinder cur'us, but what allus bothered me was to understand why you have to carry one fur ev'ry ten, but if you don't the durned thing won't come out right.'"—New York Tribune.

A Burglar's Mistake.

"When I looked into the dining room of a house that I was in one night," said the retired burglar, "I saw a man sitting in a chair propped upon the dining room table. That seemed a singular place for a man to get to sit, drunk or sober, but I thought I'd have to give him a chance to get tired of sitting there and go to bed before I began, for if I didn't he might wake up any minute and interrupt things. So I took a seat in a big leather chair in the library, next room, and waited for him to wake up. When I'd waited what I thought was a reasonable time without hearing from him, I looked in again, and there he was, still sitting there, just the same.

"But this time, even in that light, there was something peculiar about him, and I ventured to turn my own light on him now, and then I saw that it wasn't a man at all, but a suit of clothes, with a hat on top, set up there to dry after being wet in the rain. The man that had worn them had been abed and asleep for hours, but his clothes had served for a scarecrow mighty well, for I'd sat there waiting for them to go to bed so long that it was now too late for business."—New York Sun.

"Billington's Sea."

There is tangible evidence that the pious passengers of the Mayflower were not entirely without a sense of humor. Back of Plymouth over the hill upon which they planted their cannon is a large fresh water pond, perhaps a mile in diameter, which, it appears from the records, was discovered by John Billington while he was prowling around one night, probably on a scouting expedition looking for Indians. In the morning he reported that he had found the sea in that direction and there was a lively dispute between him and the other pilgrims as to the accuracy of his information. He stuck to his theory with the same tenacity that he adhered to his religion, and to this day that pond is called "Billington's sea."—Chicago Record.

What a precocious child that boy of Trivvins' is! exclaimed the cross grained citizen.

Why, it sits for hours without saying a word.

I know it. That's more than his father can do.—Washington Star.

Asthma Gasps

The wheezing and strangling of those who are victims of Asthma are promptly relieved by a few doses of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

"How that boy of mine has improved in his penmanship!" exclaimed Mr. Billus with fatherly pride, glancing over a letter he had just received from his eldest son, away from home on his first visit.

Then Mr. Billus began to read it, and he understood. It began, "Dearest Lucy."

No, it wasn't the letter the boy had meant to send his father.—Chicago Tribune.

Piles Cured without the Knife, by Dr. A. W. Chases's Ointment.

Mr. Geo. Browne, painter, of Woodville, Ont., Victoria Co., says:—"For thirteen years I was a sufferer from bleeding piles and the intense agony which I passed through during those years and relief I obtained by Dr. Chase's Ointment prompts me to give this testimonial. My physician wished me to have an operation, but I felt I could be cured without the knife. Three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment stopped the bleeding and effected a permanent cure."

Sir John Fowler, who was engineer-in-chief of the Forth bridge, for which services he was created a baronet in 1890, is dead. He was born in 1817.
