Three Forums Highlight Nat. CWL Meet Here

The theme of the 44th national convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, which is one of the many conventions being held in this province during its "Centennial Year", and which will be held in Charlottetown from August 23 to 28, will be developed by means of three forums.

This method of bringing the theme to the fore was introduced by the national president, Mrs. Hermon Stevens, for the first time last year when this convention was held in her home city of Calgary. It proved to be such an effective innovation, that it was decided to repeat this section of the program again this year but to have just three forums instead of the five there were in Calgary.

Participants in these forums scheduled for 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings, August 25 to 27, will be drawn from the three Maritime provinces with Rev. Edmund J. Roche of St. Dunstan's University in the role of moderator.

Rev. J.P.E. O'Hanley, PhD, director of St. Paul's parish council, CWL at Summerside, will head the P.E.I. panel on Tuesday morning and deal with the theme — "The CWL motto — 'For God and Canada' — A Modern Apostolate" as it applies to the conversships of "Radio, TV and Films", and "Education". The CWL members of the panel on this occasion will be Mrs. James T. Pendergast and Mrs. Cletus Murphy of Charlottetown, Mrs. Wilfred Perry of Summerside and Sister Mary Carmel, of Kinkora.

The New Brunswick council of the CWL will provide the panelists for Wednesday when the theme will be discussed along the lines of the "Social Action, Social Welfare, Child Welfare" convenership. This panel will be led by the provincial director of the CWL, Rev. Leo J. Hynes of West Riverview. Monida Donoghue of Blackville, and Mrs. Richard Melanson of Moncton will be the two CWL members taking part.

The application of the theme to modern everyday life will be the subject for development by the Nova Scotia panel which will be introduced by Rev. John W. Devison of Westville, Pictou County, with Mrs. J. Colin Dunn of Dartmouth, and Mrs. Ernest MacKinley of Yarmouth as the other two participants.

Montague Clinic Has 132 Donors

Just 132 of the hoped-for 150 donors attended the Red Cross blood donor clinic at the Y Centre in Montague last night. It was gratifying to Red Cross officials to note that 32 of these donors contributed for the first time, and that visitors in the area turned up to add their donations to those of the local residents.

Murray Jackson, who headed the Y's Men's Committee which sponsored this clinic, stated that he was pleased with the response but that he hoped for much better results next year now that his committee has a general idea of the procedure to be followed for a successful clinic. He said he felt the Old Home Week program may have cut the attendance, especially due to the cancellation of the Wednesday program.

As has been the custom of the Montague clinics over the years, members of the local Women's Institute prepared and served the refreshments supplied for the donors by the Y's Men's Club. Other volunteers who carried out duties at last night's clinic in Montague were local nurses and two young ladies from the bank who looked after the registration of the donors. The Y's Men themselves were on hand to assist in setting up and dismantling of the equipment.

At the Legion-sponsored clinic held at their home in Cardigan 96 donors registered to exceed last year's attendance by 15. Francis Shepherd was in charge of the arrangements yesterday and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion branch provided refreshments for the donors, as well as other assistants.

Remands Given In Theft Cases

Magistrate A.J. Haslam, QC, remanded Basil Reginald McIsaac and Wilfred Thorne Hughes, both of Charlottetown, to Aug. 27 for hearing when they appeared in city police court yesterday on a break, entry and theft charge.

Donald George Jay, charged with driving without due care and attention, was remanded to Saturday.

Also adjourned to Saturday was the hearing of the case of Elizabeth Birt, charged with unlawfully selling liquor.

Bertram Carl Dyment was fined $50 and costs or 20 days on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Everything Set For Big Parade

Today is here! And it's time for the Gold Cup and Saucer parade, a mammoth, colorful affair filled with pretty girls, bands, clowns, pretty girls, floats, pretty girls — in fact, everything that transforms people moving down a street together into a real parade — including pretty girls.

Stars of the day and prettiest girls of the lot are The Evening Patriot Gold Cup and Saucer girls, who will be riding in convertibles in the vanguard of the parade.

About one dozen bands will be making plenty of noise up and down the route after the parade begins at 10 this morning. Included are the Royal Canadian Dragoons, Katahdin Rangers, Dr. Maude Burbank's band from Moncton, with the 83-year old lady bandleader herself riding along in a convertible close at hand, and many more. Christopher Gledhill, provincial music director, will adjudicate the bands.

B Earle MacDonald is chairman of the Cup Parade committee, and he is promising one of the biggest shows ever in this highlight of Centennial year's Old Home Week.

Many visiting personalities are taking part in the parade this year, like the mayor of Ellsworth Maine, and Maine's Blueberry Queen.

MR. GLEDHILL

Band concerts will be given throughout the afternoon in different places around the city, and then at 7.30 and 8 p.m. respectively there will be grandstand shows put on by the Balmoral Girls Pipe Band and the P.E.I Regiment Band. Royston Mugford's P.E.I. Centennial Choir will perform during the evening before and in between races.

And then comes the windup of the whole day — the Gold Cup and Saucer race and the naming of Miss Gold Cup and Saucer 1964.

SUTHERLAND TROPHY AWARDED

Everybody is happy when it comes to the presentation. Ayrshire judge Rowan Stansell is all smiles as he made the presentation and Barbara MacRae is certainly pleased with the award. The award, the Sutherland Trophy, is for record of production cows. Barbara, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacRae, Parkdale.

Dual Shorthorn

The Wood herd from Mt. Herbert, which has been showing Dual Purpose Shorthorns for 34 years, topped the show in this breed at the Provincial Exhibition grounds this week when they added the senior and grand female championships yesterday forenoon to the junior female championship they had won on Wednesday after noon. The herd is owned by Sterling Wood and son, Robert.

The overall showing won them (unofficially) both the premier breeder and premier exhibitor awards. They won both awards here last year and also at Halifax.

One of the most successful new exhibitors at the fair was Alden Gamble, Fortune Cove. He had three firsts, four seconds and several thirds in the final half-day of the show which is an unusually good showing. Mr. Gamble has shown several animals here previously but this is the first time he came to Charlottetown in strength. Judging by his success, he'll be back.

Judge Bill Black, Mofatt, Ontario was warm in his praise of the animals. "You wouldn't find a better championship class of females at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto", he emphasized.

Junior get-of-sire — 1. Sterling Wood and Son; 2. Alden Gamble; 3. Daniel P. Jewell.

P.E.I. Acadian Teachers Hold 1964 Convention

MISCOUCHE — The annual convention of the Acadian Teachers of Prince Edward Island was held here yesterday. The convention began in the morning with Solemn High Mass celebrated by Rev. Jean Buote, assisted by Rev. Pierre Arsenault and Rev. Joseph LeClair.

The business sessions were held in the auditorium of the regional high school throughout the day.

A forum on biculturalism was presided over by Gerard A. Marcoux of Moncton. Other members of the panel were Dr. J.A. Doiron of Summerside, J.E. Arsenault of Charlottetown, Martin Legere of Corraquet, N.B., Rev. Pierre Arsenault, Summerside and Euclide Arsenault of Wellington.

A lesson on primary methods was given by Sister St. Pierre Chrysologue of St. Pascal, Quebec.

A recreational period in the evening consisted of an orchestra number a folk dance, Acadian songs and a pageant entitled "Canada".

Trophies were awarded to Jeannita Arsenault, Abrams Village and to Helene Poirier of Leoville for the highest marks in the French examinations set by the St. Thomas Aquinas Association. Prizes were also awarded to teachers who had written a French examination yesterday afternoon. Winners were Sister St. Cyrille, Martin Legere, Alice Bernard and Sister St. Mary Eugenia.

Guest speaker at the evening session was Martin Legere, past president of the New Brunswick Acadian Association of Education and president of the Caraquet Regional High School Board. Mr. Legere spoke on the problems of the Acadian people in the Maritimes, biculturalism, the problems of education and the importance of education in an ever-changing world.

Next year's convention will be held in Egmont Bay with Alfred Hache as president and Alice Bernard as secretary.
