OBITUARY

Inserted by relatives and friends as a tribute to the deceased.

THOMAS J. W. MCCABE

At Charlottetown, on March 5, 1962, Thomas J. W. McCabe, formerly of Stanhope, passed out of this life in his seventy-fifth year, to become a citizen of the Everlasting Kingdom of God. His death, as his life, was one of serenity and peace, proper to a faithful servant of God.

Mr. McCabe was born at Stanhope, and after his marriage in 1916 to the former Gertrude MacAulay, remained there as a farmer and fisherman until 1955, at which time he retired and moved to Charlottetown.

The many acquaintances he made during his life attest to the kindliness of his manner which embraced all and made him a dear friend to many. His days were spent in outstanding sobriety tempered by an unassuming good humor which won the hearts of those who knew him. His cheerfulness and totally amiable personality kept him young at heart and account for the many friends he had among youth.

Always a valued member of his parish, Mr. McCabe was, above all else, a generous devoted and loving husband and father. In his singular faithfulness to his God-given duty as head of a family, he was a model of true Christian manliness.

Chief among his mourners are: his wife, his only son, Joseph, and seven daughters, Mary, Mrs. Ignatious Murphy, Marion Mrs. Reginald F. MacDonald; Caroline, Mrs. Courtney MacDonald; Agatha, Mrs. Ivan Whelan; Laura, Sister James Charles; Anita, Mrs. Fred Whelan and Clare, Mrs. Jack Weatherbie. One daughter, Kathleen, the late Mrs. Maurice Creed, predeceased him by seven years. Also left to mourn are his four sisters: Annie, Mrs. Thomas Horgan; Margaret, Mrs. Joseph Hennessey; Katie, Mrs. Aeneas MacDonald, Charlottetown, and Frances, Mrs. Daniel McIsaac, Sydney.

Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated at St. Eugene's Church, Covehead by Reverend Parnell Wood, P.P., who also conducted the service at the grave.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank Rev. Walter Reid, Rev. O. P. Wood, Dr. Farmer, Dr. Sweeney, the Sisters and Staff of the Charlottetown Hospital, the Hennessey Funeral Home, also those who sent Mass cards, Enrolments, Spiritual Bouquets, Flowers and messages of sympathy and all who helped in any way during our recent bereavement.

The family of the late Thomas J. W. McCabe.

Cuba Reported On Verge Of Starvation, Collapse

MONTREAL (CP) — In a copyrighted report from Gerald Clark, its associate editor, The Star says Cuba is on the edge of starvation and complete economic collapse.

Mr. Clark wrote from Kingston, Jamaica, following an eight-day visit to Cuba.

If you have ever seen anyone die of cancer you will understand what is happening to Cuba," Mr. Clark wrote. "I left there Saturday, dumbstruck at the shattering disintegration that has taken place since my last visit there just a year ago.

"In 1961 some people in Havana grumbled and cursed the steady ingrowing of communism. But at least they looked healthy and ate well.

"In 1962 the grumbling has taken on ominous proportions," with women battling in market places for food for their children."

Mr. Clark recalled that a year ago he had written that any invasion of Cuba would be met with stiff resistance. This had been confirmed a few weeks later when Cuban exiles had tried to recapture the country.

"Today I would not make such prediction because the situation has changed drastically. Castro still has a rigid core of fanatic supporters, particularly among the teen-agers who are being steadily indoctrinated. He also has an effective secret police, who even took to following me in Havana. He can boast of at least 300,000 armed militia men and women. But their loyalty is less certain; they themselves are ill-fed.

"The main force in Cuba, however, is the big flexible mass of people who last year wavered in their enthusiasm but did not join the vociferous group of anti-Castroites in open condemnation. So long as their stomachs were full there was relative contentment and the remarks were restrained.

"But now hunger has brought on bitter and open resentful comments even by people who a few months ago classified themselves as supporters of the revolution."

He quoted an unnamed Cuban Communist as saying "The United States has won this round." He said he was astonished by the frankness of members of the Eastern bloc—especially East Germans—who said that the Cuban revolution was a failure. A Yugoslav said "you can say that Cuba is near collapse."
