Considering that all the Great Georges have passed from the scene of action, Little Georges being exempt from such honors, on account of inability, shall henceforth pass into obscurity, like all their ancestors, and substitute in its place a name which will give new life and vigor to the artistic skill and mechanism displayed on so successful a Street, each day; therefore, I proclaim its name shall henceforth and forever be called

It is a curious coincidence that Louis XIV of France took Strasbourg by assault from the Germans on the 28th of September, 1681 and that it surrendered to the German forces under Gen. Werder, exactly 189 years after, on the same day of the month, the 28th of September, 1870.

TRAGEDY AT NIAGARA.—A despatch from Chilton, Ontario, dated Nov. 21, states that Mrs. T. M. Avery, of Chicago, a lady of high social position, registered her name as Mrs. Hill, committed suicide by throwing herself into the Falls from the Goat Island bridge. No explanation of the sad tragedy is published.

The St. John Telegraph of the 24th ult. states:—On Friday last, Capt. Betts, of the Dominion schooner "Water Lily," seized the American schooner "White Fawn," for infraction of the laws for the protection of Dominion Fisheries. It appears that the vessel was caught in Head Harbor, Campbell, where the captain was purchasing herring, intended to be used as bait for fishing on the Banks. The captain, we are informed, pleads that he went into Head Harbor and purchased the bait under the impression that the law making it unlawful for him to do so, was repealed. The "White Fawn" is the second vessel seized and brought to this port by Capt. Betts, the other being the "Romp" of Eastport. The "White Fawn" is a very fine and neat little schooner of 84 tons register, owned by Messrs. Marshall, who, with the cook, was brought to the city, the remainder of the crew, some ten men, being allowed to go. There are on board 5,000 fresh herring and 15 tons of ice. The vessel lies at Rodney wharf, Charlottetown, where she will probably remain until the case is disposed of by the Admiralty Court.

PERILS OF THE SEA.—MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—Capt. Shaw, of the sloop Howland, which arrived here on Saturday from Bay of Islands, Newfoundland, met, at that place, Capt. Gallop and the crew of the schooner William Inman, and learned from them that they had been shipwrecked, and escaped almost by a miracle. The William Inman was bound from Labrador to Halifax, with a cargo of fish for Messrs. James Butler & Co. While lying to off Cape George, her down on her beam ends, carried away boats, &c. The Captain's younger brother was drowned in the cabin. The remainder of the crew fled to the wreck, which drifted about four days. On the third day the cook died from exposure. Joshua Gallop, another brother of the captain, conceived the idea of making a canvas boat out of the fore-sail. His companions had little faith in the scheme but as it seemed to be the only chance of escape, they went to work with a will, and soon completed one of the rattle skiffs in which life was ever entrusted to the ocean. In it the worn-out crew embarked, and by good management they succeeded in reaching land at a place called Chimbley Cove, which was altogether uninhabited, and afforded no means of obtaining food. While yet starved, appeared to be certain, they found some fish, which had been thrown on the shore from some vessel visiting the place; and on this very palatable food they existed four days, when a vessel hove in sight. They attracted the attention of the persons on board, and a boat was sent ashore. The vessel proved to be the schooner Barbeck, Capt. Harst, bound to Bay of Islands. The shipwrecked crew were taken on board and conveyed to that place.

The William Inman received her name from a shipwreck. About two years ago, Mr. R. B. Currie, of West Dublin, Lunenburg, left that place in a small vessel owned by him for Halifax. The little craft experienced bad weather, was driven off the coast, and sustained great damage. While she drifted about the ocean, unmanageable, an Inman steamer—the City of Baltimore—if not remember rightly—came in sight, saw the wreck, and ran down to it. Mr. Currie and all on board were rescued and taken to Liverpool, where Mr. Inman showed them kindness and attention, and they were remembered by giving the name of William Inman to a vessel he was building—the same, that we now report wrecked.—H. Chron.

Try Mason & Henderson for fashionable winter goods. They have now completed their stock and can furnish you with every article required at most moderate rates. They have established themselves in Heard's well known stand.

DEALERS in Furs, Buffalo Robes, and all such articles, conducive to comfort for winter wear, will do well to try A. B. Smith's Fur Store, where they will get the above articles made to be new and free from moths. To the ladies we would especially recommend Smith's stock of furs. Give him a call—South side of Queen Square, opposite the new market—where in price and quality he will give you the best of satisfaction.

Howson's Pills and Ointment.—The Good Friend.—Human suffering is so confessedly universal that the man who successfully relieves it is worthy of all praise. The above-named preparations were first compounded many years ago by Professor Howson, who, since that time, has had repeated confirmations from all quarters of the globe of their surprising powers in curing both internal and external diseases. These medicines give the greatest and speediest relief in all cases of dyspepsia, heartburn, and colic; they are also the safest and most efficient operients. The Ointment, when briskly rubbed upon the skin, by exerting the most wholesome and refreshing influence on under-lying nerves, vessels and glands, checks inflammation in the throat, chest or bowels.

At that point a large party of Prussians were encountered, and after a sharp action were dispersed and their stores and stores destroyed. The Prussians returned to camp without serious loss. One of these gave chase, but he pursued the Baltimore for several hours, but the latter being the fastest vessel soon left the Frenchman astern. The Baltimore came round the north coast of Scotland.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A Tours despatch says that "General Duroc, with 100,000 men, made a great sortie from Paris yesterday, and crossed the Marne. The movement was completely successful." The details of the action are momentarily expected.

It is reported that the Prussians have suddenly evacuated Amiens, retiring on Paris. This movement is regarded as little as very significant. It is believed that a great battle is proceeding around Paris to-day.
