pushing and fighting.

The remainder of Carnival Week was simply anti-climactic.

Just the same, a lot of work went into Carnival and I would like to thank the people who helped out so much.

First of all, there's Deb MacMurdo for all the time she spent in booking the bands; Sue Hornby and Mary Anne Hutchinson for selling tickets; Mike MacMahon for looking after the Fashion Show, talent pub, pie throwing, lottery and advance sale of tickets; Claire Currie and Maria Driscoll for decorating the Confed. Centre; Pat Turnbull-Turnbull for making all the posters; the SUN staff; CIMN; Vince Mulligan for the Intramurals; Joan MacFarlane and the Drama Society for Campus Cabaret; Beaver Foods for the Grafitti meal; John Neville and Mickey Place for handling the finances;

Gord Coffin and the Campus Police for an excellent job; the bartenders; Kevin Gauthier for booking buses; Jim Picone and his limousine service; Barry Chandler for his numberless graphics; Lee Donnelly and his 1500 photos; Pat Ingraham for typing all the Winter Carnival reports; the advertising committee; Olands Brewery; Debbie MacDonald for looking after the Queen contestants; all the people who helped set up the gym each evening; President Baker and Rebecca Smith for Emcees at the Cabaret — and last but not least, Clyde Bell for bringing some order of a chaos after the events in the Barn.

I hope I haven't missed anyone but if I have, then thank you.
Gerald McKenna
Carnival Chairman.
