

Reviews Year's Activities Of Side Board Of Trade

Following is the report of the retiring president of the Summerside Board of Trade, Mr. William Hayward, given at the annual meeting this week.

In 1950 the Summerside Board of Trade was an organization of 35 members; it now has 34 corporate memberships and 97 individual memberships; "but with all our numbers," he added, "we wonder if our Board of Trade of today is made the potent force that our forefathers once made it. Perhaps we are not as aggressive as they were; possibly other organizations and service clubs now take over work which once automatically came before the Board of Trade. They were progressive people as witness the growth and stability of the Town and surrounding district. In any event, considering our numbers, the attendance of members at regular Board meetings continues to be relatively small and does not accurately reflect the interest which we believe you really have in your Board, a voluntary organization designed to promote the best interests of our members and our community. Your Council and various Committees have been active, however, and have endeavored to take care of those matters requiring urgent attention.

"Looking over the various activities which have been handled through the year, the most important you have dealt with, and are following up where necessary, are: CROSSING SIGNALS

"The matter of requesting that adequate signals be placed at the dangerous Albany Railroad Crossing on the busy Arden Road; the matter of directional signs on the new highway from Borden to Summerside;

"The turnoff from the Trans-Canada Highway at the Albany corner intersection with the Arnett Road, which we are assured will be given favourable consideration by the provincial authorities;

SMALL INDUSTRIES

"To encourage the development of small industries in the district based primarily on agriculture and fishing and more specifically to extend the application of Carapell & Burns, Ltd., Bedouque to the newly formed Industrial Establishment Committee of the Department of Industry and Natural Resources; technical and financial assistance in getting their recently established packing plant on a broader base;

"To renovate the stock loading ramp and adjacent facilities for the handling of livestock at the C. N. R. yards;

"To endeavour to remedy the situation where only one switching track is laid to the shed of the new marine wharf, and to have the sea wall, which is to be built at the shore end of the new wharf, extended or straightened to provide additional parking space for trucks awaiting unloading;

SUMMERSIDE AIRPORT

"To look into the matter of the grave loss to the community through transfer of personnel at the Airport and to endeavour to have some other unit or units take the place of the Schools transferred to other districts in Canada. We might say that our representations to the authorities have received acknowledgment and consideration and we are hopeful that arrangements will be made for additional personnel in the not too distant future. These items from among a number of other projects have kept your Council and Committees busy.

"This Board is a member of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade and the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and three of your members, Mr. John Mungall, Mr. Charles Linkletter and your President, are either Directors or Members of Committees of these very important organizations. Having had the privilege of attending directors' meetings of both bodies I can say sure you that a good deal of study and hard work goes into the framing of policy for the continued development of a system of initiative and competitive enterprise which marks Canada's growth.

"The Maritime Provinces Board of Trade headed this year by Mr. Alan Holman, who an immediate past president of this Board, is specifically interested in improving the overall trade and economic picture as it affects the Atlantic Provinces and consequently as it affects us in Prince Edward Island, while the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is more especially interested in the broader outlook for general business over the whole of Canada and consequently it too affects us in Prince Edward Island. I assure you again that these organizations really do have the welfare of the small business man at heart. We were very pleased to welcome to Summerside in May last Mr. W. J. Borrie, President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, who addressed a joint meeting of the Board of Trade members and representatives on the work of the Chamber.

HEALTHY AGRICULTURE

"Coming now a little nearer home, it would be rash of me to make any predictions as to what the immediate future holds for us, for our economy is so largely tied in with the general well being of our agricultural industry that prosperity or recession in all our local businesses is to a great extent dependent upon how well our farmers are making out.

"Prices obtained for farm products determine the level of personal spending which in turn is one of the factors that determines the level of employment. A healthy agricultural industry is an objective of prime importance to us all. We believe our trade with our nearby Provinces, particularly Newfoundland, can be increased now that we have additional facilities in our new pier, and this was the subject of an address by Mr. W. E. Agnew of the Department of Industry and Natural Resources before the Board in April last.

"We are inclined to talk about our geographical disadvantages as far as marketing our products is concerned, to ask for freight concessions, lower transportation costs, and improvement in shipping or the lifting of tariff restrictions, and while all these are worthy objectives I suggest that we strive to produce higher quality products than more and more people will want, when some of these disadvantages will gradually disappear and we'll find the markets we want. We have 1,500,000 people living in the Atlantic Provinces, yet we import a great many items which we believe could be very well grown, developed and marketed from here which brings us to the activities of one of the Committees of this Board, the Industrial Development Committee, headed by John Mungall. That Committee is not geared to the introduction or establishment of new industry only but is also anxious to encourage the further development of such industries as we have already in our midst.

This Committee is responsible too for the dinner, consisting of island products, which you have just enjoyed and we trust that the splendid display in the building this evening of island products, grown or manufactured, will spark renewed interest in and create a demand for our goods.

Summerside deriving as it does very considerable business from the airport and its personnel is naturally most vitally concerned with the future growth and operation of the base. We are hopeful that its facilities will be some expansion of its facilities in the fairly near future. There has always been a very pleasant business and social relationship existing between the officers and personnel who take care of this station, and the town's people, and in future this will be improved still further, for, as you have seen, we have just welcomed two of their senior officers into the active membership of our Board of Trade, the tourist industry is important business which should continue to receive careful consideration from all quarters. Your Committee handling this for the Board did good work last year and are to be commended. In May last they had Mr. George Fraser, tourist and public relations director for the Prince Edward Island address Board members on the importance of looking after our increasingly valuable tourist business.

The transportation committee, the civic affairs committee, the agricultural committee and the membership committee have all performed valuable work for your Board during the past year. Reports on their activities by the chairman of these committees are being made available to the press. I wish to express my gratitude for the co-operation of the chairman and members of all committees as well as to the members of the board.

We appreciate the interest shown in the work of the Board by the press; we acknowledge their editorials and the assistance given in reporting monthly meetings, etc. Furthermore, I would also wish to express my thanks to the members of the Federal Government, the Provincial Government and the Mayor and Town Council for their sympathetic consideration of any matters brought to their attention.

Finally, I bespeak for my successor the same consideration and assistance you have given me during by term of office. Let us continue to make the Summerside Board of Trade a vital factor in the business life of this community.
