The Farmer.

AN OLD POEM.

Of all pursuits by man invented,
The farmer is the best contented;
His calling's good, his profit's high,
And on his labors all rely.

Mechanics all by him are fed,
To him the merchant looks for bread;
His hands give meat to everything, Up from the beggar to the king.

The milk and honey, corn and wheat, Are by his labors made complete;
Our clothes must first from him arise To deck the fop or dress the wise.

We then by vote may justly state The plowman ranks among the great;
More independent than them all,
Who dwell upon this earthly ball.

All hail ye farmers, young and old!
Push on your plows with courage bold;
Your wealth arises from your clod, Your independence from your God.

If then the plow supports the nation,
And men of rank in every station, Let kings to farmers make a bow,
And every man procure a plow.

Telegraphic News.

LONDON, July 21.

W. E. Forster, presiding at the Toben Club dinner last night, made a speech on the Eastern question, taking the same general grounds against the government's policy as Gladstone had done. He said he and other Liberals, who had been so situated as to challenge the government while negotiations were pending, had not done so lest strong opposition might encourage Russia in her warlike attitude, or if weak would encourage our own rulers; but he declared that the Liberal leaders are now agreed.
They will make their protest and take a division regardless of their weakness or strength. They will give the country an opportunity, by long debate and thorough ventilation of the subject, to maturely consider whether or not they approve of the government's action.

PARIS, July 20.

The amphitheatre, for bull fights, and five houses in front of De Narsu have been destroyed by fire. No person was injured.

FERROL, Spain, July 20.

The British steamer Staffa, from Newcastle to Malaga, collided yesterday with the steamer Europa, of the Anchor Line, the Mediterranean ports, via Gibraltar for Liverpool. The latter sank, but the crew and passengers were saved. The Europa was built at Glasgow in Glasgow in 1867, and rated 2,277 tons.

KIEL, July 20.

The official inquiry into the iron-clad disaster on the British coast resulted in a verdict acquitting the officers of the Grosser Kurfurst and Koenig Wilhelm, and attrib-uting the collision to a mistake of the helmsman of the Koenig Wilhelm.

LONDON, July 20.

The liabilities of George M. Kiell & Co., whose failure was announced yesterday, are estimated at $1,525,000.

BERLIN, July 21.

The Emperor was able to drive out today. He is still feeble.

Gen. Grant was enthusiastically received in Sweden. King Oscar gives him a state dinner in Norway.

Coming elections will be bitterly contested. Government expects a good working majority.

PARIS, July 21.

Miners strike at Auzin continues, and there are labor troubles at Bordeaux, Marseilles and St. Etienne.

DR. TUPPER arrived in Sydney on the 17th. Regarding his arrival, we find the following in the telegraphic columns of the Halifax Chronicle:—

SYDNEY, C. B., July 17.

Dr. Tupper arrived here yesterday by the "Neptune" and is the guest of Senator Bonri-not. About 11 o'clock last night a crowd was seen a short distance out of town with a sort of a frame work with two chifflies on the scaffold supposed to represent Dr. Tupper and Senator Bonri-not. The whole was carried in front of Bonri-not's residence and set on fire, while the crowd dispersed hooting, yelling and blowing horns.

Fifteen boys, including two servants of Newton L. McKay, attempted to create a disturbance in front of Senator Bonri-not's residence, where Dr. Tupper is stopping, at a late hour last night, but two gentlemen who were passing dispersed them.

Mr. Jennings, the London correspondent of the N. Y. World, writing to that paper of the Berlin Congress, says that Bismarck is immensely taken with "Dizzy," and declares he is the only man he has met for some years really worth talking to.

That may be because "Dizzy" so seldom does talk that when he unbosoms himself he is really worth listening to. It is an odd thing, but it is true, that no one in London can really be said to know this strange, lonely sort of man who has by his great abilities placed himself at the head of the English Government. He has no confidants, and few personal friends. Mr. Jennings says he asked a gentleman who ought to know him well whether he talked much to him? "He never talks to anybody," said he; "sometimes, perhaps, to Monty Corry, but only on matters of business. He will not dine out, as a rule, and when he does go anywhere the chances are that he will not say much."

Mr. Huntington's Mine.

Mr. Huntington has done Canada at least one honor; he has conferred his valuable name on a species of stock, which in honor of him appears to have been called "the Huntington's." A meeting of the "Huntington Copper and Sulphur Company" was recently held in London, and we make the following extracts from the report:—

Mr. Gray, who has just returned from Canada, said he had visited all the properties of the company that were accessible. It would doubtless surprise the shareholders to learn, as it had surprised himself to discover, that a considerable portion of what was designated in the prospectus as "valuable and heavily timbered lands," and for which they paid at the rate of about $47 per acre, was inaccessible to ordinary people like himself—(a laugh)—consisting as they did to a very large extent of swamps and high rocks, truly described in the Government records as "waste lands." He visited the mine and went through all the workings, and it was only too evident that but a small portion of the 2000 tons per month which were promised in the prospectus could be obtained from the mine notwithstanding all the expense they had been at in opening it up. Mr.
Gray concluded by seconding the motion for the adoption of the report.

The Chairman referred to the prospectus of the company, and said that he and some, if not all, of his co-directors were influenced by that prospectus. One day in the Exchange he met a director, whom he would not name, and said to him, "Mr.
So-and-so, I am astonished to see the Huntingtons going down; how is that?" and the reply was, "Well, I cannot understand it, for there are $60,000 worth of ore lying at the mouth of the mine." That $60,000 worth of ore had turned out not to be worth a single penny.

And this Mr. Huntington, whose name is thus dragged before the London world, is the Postmaster-General of Canada, and talks most virtuously about the "Pacific Scandal!"

A Charlottetown correspondent of the Provincial Wesleyan writes: "I have just received the Wesleyan containing your tribute to the memory of the late Geo. Walter Beer, son of Geo. R. Beer, Esq., of Charlottetown, P. E. Island. 'He was sharp, decisive, intelligent, generous, brave.' In those few words you have brought into clear and distinct relief the prominent qualities and characteristic traits of his life. Of all the young men I have known in larger commercial communities of the Lower Provinces, there were few who gave the same promise of active, high-toned and successful business-life. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and was closely identified with some of its most important enterprises in this City. He was the Secretary of the Youth's Branch Missionary Society, and contributed largely to its success.
Perhaps the most remarkable incident of Walter's sudden departure from us, suggestive of his early summons, was the fact that, in his pocket-book, a will was found. It had been written a few months before. The genuine interest which he cherished in church work found expression in generous bequests to the Prince Street Methodist Church, and to the Branch Missionary Society. Very deeply we sympathize with the bereaved families. Sorrow has come upon sorrow.
Very recently the grave had closed upon the mortal remains of Mrs. L. L. Beer, early wasted by consumption, missed and mourned by a large circle of friends."

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in!
Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct cause of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

McGill College library contains 16,000

Griffin was bequeathed to it, consisting of 2,692 volumes and 559 pamphlets, the collection being most valuable, on account of the large number of works relating to Canadian history in it.
