Common Sense.

The admirable lecture delivered by J. H. Fletcher, Esq., on this subject at the Upper Prince Street Methodist Church, on the 1st inst., was well attended considering it was New Year's Day. The lecturer proceeded to show the advantages conferred on society at large by the exercise of common sense. He instanced some of the great men of Europe and America who won positions of honor and conferred blessings on mankind more because of the common sense they displayed, than by any other power or genius they possessed. Men of evenly balanced minds and strong common sense, became masters in history, giants in critical essays, profound in statesmanship, brilliant in oratory, skilful in military genius, leaving behind them imperishable records of noble deeds nobly performed. The lasting advantages resulting from the exercise of good common sense in all the relations of life were well portrayed. In "marital relations," especially was this inestimable boon more to be sought after than wealth. The man who lecturer, has caused for joy and rejoicing—she is a fortune in herself—a gold mine never failing in its yield. A man of common sense will "seize opportunities" for improving his own condition in life and for increasing the happiness of others, he will "keep his eyes open," as he travels along the rugged path of life, ever on the lookout for the main chance. He will not "aim at impossibilities." It is possible to fly higher than you can roost, and to bite off more than you can chew. Let any one start a twenty-four column daily paper in a six column town to "fill a long felt want," and if his hair don't turn grey in a night, it is because he wears a wig. The man of common sense will not "stand still," but will always exert his powers for good. It is not evidence of good common sense to despise a good name. Hero worship should be altogether ignored. Our schools should develop the idea of hero worship. If a boy inclines to military matters, let the model of a Wellington or a Washington be raised before him. If he leans to literary pursuits, let a Macaulay, a Milton, or a Longfellow be produced. If his mind bends to science, let a Newton, a Bacon, or a Watts, be placed on the wall.
If he leans to theology, let a Punshan, a Spurgeon, or a Wiseman, grace the room.
If to politics, let the portrait of Clay, Chatham, and Bourke, hang up in all their majesty. In whatever way a child's genius points, let nothing hinder him in the pursuit of his favorite study. The lecturer closing his very interesting lecture by enjoining "Woman." The most endearing words known to man are mother, wife, sister, daughter. The influence of woman in the home, in the church, and in the State, marks the milestones of human progress. He then instanced Grace Darling, the brave girl who manned a boat with her father and dashed out among the yawning waves to rescue the drowning seamen from a sinking ship.
Florence Nightingale, the Charity angel of modern times, and others, the glory of whose deeds would be sung by ages yet unknown. He spoke of the wounded soldier left to die on the field in the late American War, during a terrible encounter between the armies of Sherman and Johnston. In that awful moment, left in the woods, dying with pain and thirst, the poor wounded man saw two angelic forms move over the battle field, and as they approached him with kind words, and water to quench his thirst, he recognized two Sisters of Charity, whose white hoods shone like Celestial light brought down from the throne of Heaven.
Such is woman, fondest in decay, greatest in adversity, and noblest in every good word and work.
At the close of the lecture Rev. Mr. Burwash, who occupied the chair, after complimenting the lecturer, pronounced the benediction.

Correspondence.

Temperance at Springfield.
To the Editor of the Examiner.
SIR.—I had the extreme and distinguished pleasure on Friday evening last, of attending a Temperance Entertainment held at Springfield Hall under the auspices of Union Division, and having been for the greater part of my long and chequered existence a warm advocate of the temperance cause, I was gratified at the intense enthusiasm that pervaded all classes (especially the ladies,) at that meeting. Able and stirring speeches were delivered by Messrs.
Sinclair, Carruthers, Rogers, and by H. H. Pollard, Esq. Mr. Pollard's address was a masterly effort, and there was many an eye dimmed with weeping in that vast audience, as with hushed voice and bated breath, they listened to the tales of woe and suffering, caused by the demon drink. Mr. Pollard stated that it was his intention to offer himself as a candidate for Civic Honors at the coming election in this town, in order that the City Council might have at least one temperance man amongst them, who would bear aloft the temperance banner. The various performers did their parts admirably, and the rendition of the many pieces was such as to put to shame the attempts of many of our city swells, who would sneer at the idea of classing them with the amateurs of Springfield. Mr. Thomas Haslam was the efficient chairman and general manager, and the manner in which he filled his position, surrounded, as he was, by hosts of the fair sex, was highly satisfactory to all.
Springfield, Mr. Editor, is remarkable for two things, viz.—the hospitality of the people and the scarcity of old maids. The extreme kindness of the people is proverbially, and it was very slowly and regretfully that I turned my face again towards Charlottetown, after a protracted absence of some weeks.
Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I remain, Yrco.
Ch'town, Jan. 3, 1883.

Debating Society at Elmira.

Pursuant to notice, the young men of Elmira met at their Debating Hall, on Saturday evening, the 22nd inst., for the purpose of organizing a debating society.
The meeting was organized by appointing Mr. Wal. J. Campbell, Chairman, and the undersigned Secretary.
Mr. Raymond McPhee, Teacher, was first called upon to address the meeting, who, in a very pointed and eloquent speech, showed the benefits accruing from a debating society, and the losses sustained by the community from want of one. The undersigned was next called upon. He fully endorsed the sentiments of the last speaker, and proved from personal experience and from facts, that the benefits derived from debating societies could scarcely be calculated. Speeches were then made by Messrs.
M. J. Speeches, Elijah E. Pierce, Angus McPhee and others, very much in favor of the society. The Chairman being asked for his opinion, gave it in a very able and comprehensive manner, showing up the loss we were at from want of social intercourse, and that our progress, as a community, was very materially retarded from want of a debating society. After hearing from Mr. R. Mc-Phee, and the undersigned, it was unanimously agreed that we organize a society, to be known and designated by the name, "Elmira Debating Society."
The following officers were then elected:
Mal. J. Campbell, President.
John F. Campbell, Vice-President.
John F. Mellick, Secretary.
Raymond McPhee, Financial Secretary and Treasurer.
Thomas Pierce, Doorkeeper.
Nights of meeting—Tuesday and Saturday of each week.
John F. Mellick, Mal. J. Campbell and Raymond McPhee, were appointed a committee to draw up a constitution. Mr. M. J.
Campbell proposed the following subject for next meeting, viz.: "Which is the most pleasing to the eye—the Works of Nature or the Works of Art," which was adopted.
After transacting other business in connection with the society, the meeting quietly dispersed.
JOHN F. MELLICK,
Secretary.
Elmira, Dec. 22nd, 1882.

Current Notes.

Large quantities of dynamite have been shipped from Switzerland for France.
Montenegro is understood to have accepted the terms of the territorial settlement offered by Turkey.
Cholera is making havoc among the Mo-hammadan pilgrims in Arabia. There are deaths daily at Medina.
A Durban despatch says the British resident has informed the Zulu chiefs that all the appointments made by General Wolseley after the Zulu war have been cancelled.
Ruffianism and violence towards peaceable citizens have been very frequent of late in the streets of the British metropolis, and the Magistrates are resorting to severe measures for their suppression. In a recent case two youths were sentenced to fifteen years penal servitude each for robbing a woman, and one of them, who knocked down and badly injured their victim, was further sentenced to thirty lashes with the "cat." This is a warning to this class of roughs across the water, to confine their brutality to their wives in future. They can inflict on the latter unfortunately any violence short of actual murder without endangering their own skins.

Civic—Ward 4.

An adjourned meeting of the Electors of Ward 4, was called to order in McPhail's wareroom, Mr. David Lawson in the chair, and the undersigned Secretary reappointed.
Mr. Ladner delivered an exhaustive address upon Civic matters, plainly stating his views in opposition to high taxation, and water work manœuvres, his policy being "reform."
James Curtis considered the water work question still fresh, and advises watchful-ness no matter who may be in power.
Human nature is frail and all are liable to be bought. Don't vote for unprincipled men who have proved false to their trust.
Councillor Chappelle looked upon the water work question as an exploded theory, water could not be introduced without a bill from the Legislature. The present Council had not rolled up a debt as did their predecessors.
Captain McRae thought the Council had betrayed the trust reposed in them. The pumps were neglected. Butchers were wrongfully deprived of their votes, and the bell tower leased for less than value.
Councillor Blake as a taxpayer had no desire to pay more tax than was necessary, but thought the present Council had been economical. Nothing but bad management had made City affairs as they are at present.
After some general remarks Mr. Ladner was proposed by Capt. McRae, seconded by Wm. Meikle, and Theophilus Chappell proposed by Mr. D. Nicholson, seconded by Richard Butcher. The question being put to the meeting, Mr. Ladner was selected as the candidate for Ward 4.
On motion a Committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. E. Purdy, G. W.
Miller, Wm. Pearson, John Jury, and Herbert Beer, to confer with similar Committees from other Wards and select a candidate for Mayor.
A vote of thanks was tendered the Chairman, and the meeting dismissed with three cheers for the Queen.
LEWIS P. TANTON,
Ward 4, Jan 2, 1883, Secretary.
