Kensington Man Sent To Supreme Court

Leonard Philip Thibeau, 20, of Kensington was committed for trial in the Supreme Court on a charge of breaking, entering and theft at a preliminary hearing held in Summerside yesterday before Magistrate R. S. Hinton, K.C. The charge arose from a Remembrance Day break into the jewelry and drug store of William J. Semple of Kensington when jewelry valued by Mr. Semple at $1,186.00 was taken.

At the conclusion of the hearing Norbert Frederick Noonan of Cape Traverse, now employed in Kensington, pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods and his sentence was suspended for two years by the court.

Owner Gives Evidence
The first witness in the Thibeau hearing was Mr. Semple, the store owner, who told of coming to his store on the morning of November 11 and finding a window of the building broken. He investigated and found that watches, rings and cigarette lighters to the value given above were missing from a showcase.

Mr. Semple then testified that Frank Arsenault of Kensington gave him a watch about the 28th of December which was identical to one taken from his store. This watch was produced in court. Other watches were introduced in evidence which the witness said were identical to watches stolen on that night.

He positively identified a diamond and ruby ring as his merchandise and also positively identified two pocket watches. Cpl. Wm. Beatty, R.C.M.P., told of going to Kensington on November 11th to investigate the break. He said that on November 13th he found two watches and a watch case at the east end of the Kensington Athletic Field near some fox pens and about 200 yards from the home of the accused.

Cpl. Beatty said that on December 28th he searched premises occupied by Norbert Frederick Noonan in Kensington. Mr. Noonan handed him a watch and the search turned up another watch. Noonan also handed over a diamond and ruby ring.

Cst. L. H. Beveridge, R.C.M.P., corroborated the evidence of Cpl. Beatty.

Bought Watch

Frank Arsenault, Kensington, testified that he is an uncle of the accused and that on the Saturday night before Christmas the accused had asked him if he wanted to buy a watch. Witness said he bought the watch and paid $3.00 for it. He identified the watch in court.

Later that evening he went to see his brother-in-law, Fred Arsenault, wearing the watch, and Mr. Arsenault told him of the break in Semple's store and advised him to go and see Mr. Semple. Witness said that he then went to the Semple store and Mr. Semple kept the watch, reimbursing him for the amount of $3.00 which he had paid for the watch. Witness said that later that evening he again talked to the accused who told him "I should not have taken it back but that I should have said I got it in Summerside."

Norbert Frederick Noonan said that his home is in Cape Traverse but that he is employed in Kensington. He said that around about the last of November or the first of December he bought a watch from the accused. He identified the watch. Later witness said accused came to see him again and asked him if he wanted to buy another watch and he had asked the accused if he had a girl's watch. Accused replied, "Yes". Witness continued, "He went and brought me down a watch. I bought it. I gave him a dollar or two. I gave it to a girl for Christmas."

Witness said he also bought the diamond and ruby ring from him as well as another watch. "I think I gave him $7.00 for every thing," he said. Witness testified that the accused had told him how he got in Semple's, that he had got in a window and came out a front door.

Mr. Harold Goodwin represented the Crown. The accused did not have counsel.—S any approval by the nation." President Truman, who has announced he will send an unspecified number of troops to Europe as soon as possible, contends he does not need Congress' approval to do so.

Major Policy Speech
In the first major foreign policy speech of the new 82nd Congress, Taft contended that the United States was "sucked into the Korean war" and charged that President Truman had "no authority whatever" to commit U.S. troops in Korea without consulting Congress. "It is ridiculous to talk about avoiding a war with Communist China when such a war already exists," he added.

"When American boys are being killed by Chinese armies, and Peiping announces that they are fighting the United States and trying to destroy American forces, we might as well have a declared war," Taft said he would not advocate a withdrawal from the United Nations "at this time." But if Russia continues to exploit the veto to block U.N. action toward peace, he said, then the U.S. should take the lead to dissolve the U.N. and set up a new organization.

Civil Defence Plans Discussed For Summerside

In case of an emergency, if this town were attacked, this Province, which has been designated as a safe area, could handle between eighty and one hundred thousand evacuees. This was stated last evening by Mr. Peter Pate, Prince County representative on the civil defence committee for the Province, at a meeting held in the Town Hall.

The committee, composed of members of the Summerside branch of the Canadian Legion with Councillor Sheen representing the Town and Councillor Driscoll representing the Province and Flight Lieutenant Waugh of the R.C.A.F., met with Mr. Pate to draw up plans to make a complete survey of the Town regarding housing facilities, the number of nurses, doctors, carpenters, electricians who would be available if strayed were to be bombed and it became necessary to evacuate the people to this province.

F.L. Waugh of the R.C.A.F., stated that Group Captain Richards had expressed a wish to cooperate in every possible way with the central committee. Information gathered by this committee will be made available when necessary and Mr. Pate said that all women institutes in the Province would be organized just as soon as the provincial survey was completed.

There will be a central meeting held on next Thursday at Charlottetown at which General Worthington, National Defence, Ottawa, will be present when presumably further and far reaching plans will be outlined for the civil defence committee to carry out.—S from fallen Seoul.

200,000 Threaten Wonju
Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said 200,000 Chinese and North Korean troops were swarming toward the vital defence link and road-rail centre of Wonju. Wonju is 55 miles east and slightly south of Seoul.

The Red offensive pressure eased in the west. That drive had carried into the desolated South Korean capital of Seoul for the second time in a little more than six months. Associated Press correspondent Tom Lambert reported that Communist patrols of about company size clashed Friday night with Allied units south of Seoul.

Lambert said this indicated that the Chinese Reds were not following the tactics used by the North Korean invaders who captured the city last June. The North Korean Reds halted in Seoul to absorb the city and regroup their forces. The Chinese Reds apparently planned to drive through the capital without a prolonged halt.

Reds Push On

Chinese Reds swarmed quickly through Seoul and into its southwestern industrial suburb of Yongdungpo. They were not yet reported in Inchon, which the Allies abandoned Thursday night and Friday morning.

There was no mention in dispatches of the Eighth Army's location. New censorship regulations forbade mention of the Allied defence line and identification of Allied units by nationality or number. Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, commander of the Eighth Army, said after a trip to the front south of Seoul: "Everything is going fine up here."

He meant that Seoul and Inchon had been evacuated with little loss of life and that his retreating divisions had so far succeeded in not being overrun or cut off.

Seoul Bombed

With most of Seoul's 1,500,000 population moving south. U.S. Fifth Air Force planes smashed at the burned and wrecked capital without mercy. Associated Press correspondent William C. Barnard flew over Seoul and said it was lifeless. Smoke still rose from fires set by evacuating troops and fleeing civilians.

However, Red capture of Wonju in East Central Korea would put the Reds in position to stab at the flank of the U.S. Eighth Army as it retreats southward in a withdrawal reminiscent of the bitter Allied pullbacks in the early days of the war last summer.

needs and pointed to the United States where in rate cases exceptions have been provided, principally on basic and primary commodities. This was done to lessen the impact of increases on persons and industries where long rail hauls are involved.

Potato Rates

A number of reports were presented at the meeting, including Newfoundland freight rates, a livestock case and a potato case involving rates on potatoes from Maritime points to Eastern United States destinations. The last includes an application of Eastern U.S. railroads for a further four per cent rate jump. If this is approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Commissioners, it would apply to Canadian Board of Transport traffic between Canada and the American areas concerned and on Canadian export and import rates related to their opposite numbers
