S'side Council Accepts Bid For Debenture Sale

On a $400,000 twenty-year debenture issue the Summerside Town Council last evening accepted a bid of $98.48 per $100 for a net cost of money of 5.33 per cent from a syndicate composed of Wood Gubby Co., Royal Bank of Canada, Royal securities Ltd. and Eastern Securities, Ltd.

Bids of $97.39. From Dominion Securities Ltd. and Syndicate, and $95.819 from Nesbitt Thompson and Co. Ltd and Syndicate were also received.

The resolution authorizing the bond issue was introduced by chairman of the finance committee W. E. MacCausland, who stated that the price received by the town represents a saving of more than $25,000 as compared with offers received six months ago.

Reporting in regard to the collection of taxes, Coun. MacCausland said that 92 per cent of real and personal taxes have been collected, amounting to $274,051., while only 65 per cent of ($14,280) poll taxes have been paid. He said that $8,000 of real and personal Property taxes would still have to be collected in order to produce the budget figure of $282,000. Receipts from poll taxes were discouraging, Coun. MacAusland said, in that receipts of $9.000 had been estimated, and to November 30th, $5,000 of this amount had not been received.

He said it appeared that more effective steps would have to be taken to collect these taxes, as well as arrears in real and personal taxes.

He said it might be worthwhile to consider the possibility of having a full time tax arrears, because, he said, this is the first figure a bond house or a bank looks at in evaluating a towns credit.

The assessment revaluation, now only about a third completed, and is due partially to incomplete information when the properities were measured, and to the four-day week which the assessors are working. Coun. MacCausland said the slow-up only came to their attention recently and that some method to speed the assessment revaluation to completion would have to be found.

Referring to newly installed office equipment, Coun. MacAusland said that the pay roll system which formerly took 14 hours to collect the data, write the cheques, and make the distribution to the proper accounts, is now completed in four hours. When all departments are put on this machine much time will have been saved, and an additional feature will be that monthly figures will be available for regular council meetings, he said.

advocated. In closing she advised the reading of all reports in the Federated News, and she showed many pamphlets that are available.

Fifty members then partook of a delectable dinner supplied by the Spring Valley W.I. Toast to the Queen was proposed by Mrs. Arthur Campbell. Toast to the W.I. was tendered by Mrs. Laird and responded to by Mrs. Arthur Profitt who gave quotations from Mrs. Frances Oakes Baldwin. A vote of thanks was tendered to Spring Valley W.I. and the president, Mrs. Keith Harrington suitably replied.

Meeting closed with the Queen.

Trinity E.A. Has Meeting

The December meeting of Trinity United Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held on last evening in the Church Parlor. A most inspiring Christmas program was conducted by Mrs .Allison MacLean. A responsive call to worship opened the meeting. A solo "There's a Song in the Air" by Miss Ruth Cairns was enjoyed. A responsive reading by Mrs. MacLean, assisted by Mrs. H. S. MacEwen, Mrs. William Roach, Mrs. George Muttart and Mrs. Clive MacLaggan was followed by a period of Carol singing.

A series of slides "Each with His Own Brush" told the Christmas Story. These were paintings of the Nativity and Life of Christ by Chinese, Japanese and Indian artists. At intervals hymns were sung. Mrs. Erland Ramsay sang "Master, the Tempest Is Raging" and Miss Ruth Cairns sang "O Love that wilt not let me go". Mrs. MacLean led in prayer and the hymn "In Christ there is no East or West" was sung. The offering was received by Miss Mabel Linkletter and dedicated with prayer.

Mrs. Carl Crockett, the president, was in the chair for the business session. Several visitors were welcomed and invited to join the Auxiliary. It was reported that the box of used clothing had been received by the Depot in Toronto. It was moved that the envelope system be continued again next year. It was decided that Christmas greetings would be sent our special missionary for prayers, Miss Christine MacDougall, in Trinidad. The Treasurer reported that we had exceeded our allocation. The next meeting, which is the annual meeting, will be held on Tuesday, January 7th after the Week of Prayer service.

21 Women's Institutes Held Leadership Course

A leadership course which was represented by twenty-one Women's Institutes was held in St. Mark's Hall, Kensington, on Thursday, November 28th with Mrs. Arthur Campbell, convener of cultural activities as chairman. The president, Mrs. Morris Caseley presided. Mrs. W.J. Harrington acted as secretary. Meeting opened with Ode and Collect.

The president after a few opening remarks introduced the supervisor, Miss Theresa MacLeod, Mrs. Harold Laird, editor of the Federated News, and Mrs. J.G. Ramsay, third vice president.

Springfield W.I. then dramatized a meeting improperly conducted. It contained evidences of members rushing in late and unprepared. Very informally each stated her reasons. A tap with heels brought the meeting to order. Roll call was finally answered with "present" instead of the properly prepared answer.

Minutes were left at home, no funds were available and no reports given. A dainty gossip besprinkled through the business items. Even a demonstration of a courting couple was dramatized. The president counted the votes by ballot and when the members knew that no lunch was to be served the meeting adjourned.

Later in the programme a demonstration of a perfectly conducted meeting was given by the same members. The supervisor then gave a talk on the correct procedure of a meeting. She told the officers to take their appointments as compliments, as the meeting must feel they were competent to fill their positions. She referred to the different ages and said this was the sputnik age, and age of meetings.

No criticism should be meted out to those who have interest enough to keep meetings going. One feature stressed was beginning on time and having a certain time alloted. Successful meetings depend on interest shown. Variety of programme can be gotten by planning ahead, viz different phases of education, citizenship, agriculture and home economics, pamphlets of which are always available. She stressed the importance of taking even a minor part in the programme competition, and in closing advised the benefit received from panel discussions, lectures and a symposium.

A singsong then followed conducted by Mrs. John Hickox with Mrs. George Dunning at the piano.

Highlighs from the national convention recently held in Ottawa were given by Mrs. L. G. Ramsay. The first meeting was welcomed by the Prime Minister Mr. Diefenbaker, and met at the Chateau Laurier. Mr. Diefenbaker said he would welcome more women into our government, especially the Institute women who did so much for their communities. Later our Island delegates were entertained to dinner in the Parliamentary Restaurant by the four federal members.

Throughout all the programmes home improvement in the community was stressed with each creed. It is due Island delegates who took away with them five hundred bags of Island manufactured potato chips for the sake of advertising our Island potatoes. These were given to different ones who pronounced them "Best ever". Mrs. Ramsay spoke on the wonderful display of handicraft, especially the plaids of Nova Scotia, and also spoke of the interesting topics discussed with the national conveners, one special feature being Mrs. Adams' trip to Ceylon.

Mrs. Laird in her report stressed the need of a national office in Ottawa, as their activities required further space. Reading campaigns were advocated, also museums, donations being supplied by W.I. members. Conservation was reported successful in each province. Choirs for institutes and conventions were
