Maple Leafs Set to Meet Huskies in Junior Final

CALGARY (CP)—When Montreal Notre Dame de Grace Maple Leafs met Edmonton Huskies in the Canadian junior final tonight, to determine last year it was three degrees below zero and biting snow and winds from across McLeod stadium turf.

The Huskies however were not bothered by the weather and downed the Maple Leafs 5-3, the second straight time they have defeated the Leafs for the Regina League Junior Cup.

For today's game, which gets underway at 6 p.m. MST, weather officials predict cloudy skies, west winds of 15 miles an hour, a game-time temperature of about 35 degrees and a 30 per cent chance of snow.

The Leafs will determine which sort of weather would favor their team. The Huskies have seven rookies but a rich sprinkling of veterans, are lighter than the Maple Leafs and have a tough defence.

Leafs coach Joe Hutton, in a head man role after being line coach for the last three seasons, says his team "will be running well, primarily. We won't be run right into those holes as we have to."

The Leafs earned their way into the Canadian final by scoring a 3-0, come-from-behind victory over Windsor.

AKO. Huskies made a bit by trouncing the inexperienced Regina Rams 6-3.

Some typical Maple Leafs line-up: Ron Williams, two-way tackle, five feet 11 inches, 226 pounds; Bruce Scott, defensive tackle, six feet one inch, 235 pounds; Gary Mathers, two-way tackle, six feet one inch, 222 pounds; Ron Roman, back-up defensive end, six feet, 226 pounds.

Liston Meets Clay

The battle between heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and defeated champion Sonny Liston is that way away. Liston is the favorite with the odds makers, but last February he was a heavy favorite and it didn't turn out much good.

Liston is training hard at a off-season summer resort in Plymouth Mass., in preparation for the world championship fight which will be held here from now in the smoke-filled Boston Garden.

There were a few brave souls who after February's fight were said that they knew Clay was going to win the championship, but the only time Clay entered the picture before the fight was when people were discussing how long it would take Liston to send the 'Louisville Lip' to dreamland. We thought it would be a good idea to ask a few of the local fight fans who they think will be the heavyweight champion of the world after next Monday's fight. The following is what we came up with:

JIM PENDERGAST... I think that Liston will demolish Clay inside of two rounds. Liston won't properly conditioned for his fight in February and he had a few of them in the ring and knock him out.

WILF McCLOSKEY... Clay will be the world heavyweight champion on Nov. 15. Liston had his worst loss the last time and I think he won't be on the hill now.

DAN McCORMACK... Liston is the better fighter and I think he will silence Clay and regain his championship. Clay is just as good a fighter and I think it will be over in eight.

JOHN SQUAREBRIGGS... I think Liston should win it, but you never know. I haven't had much faith in the fight game ever since I witnessed the sorry exhibition at the Coliseum in New Orleans and Billy Conn.

PUS CULLAGHAN... I will go along with the 'Louisville Lip' because he has much more heart than Sonny Liston.

HARRY SENTNER... There is no question about it. Clay will be the heavyweight king after next Monday night. He is a better boxer and besides he has the necessary speed. Clay and Liston are even.

CARMAN SMITH... I hope that Liston carries his head off his shoulders and I think that he has the punch that is needed to defeat Clay.

HARRY TAYLOR... Cassius Clay is just too good for Sonny Liston. The British lion will be just as good as a gimmick to attract attention and I think that you ever get to know Clay well that you would find he is just as good as any other fighter.

Just for the record we called for Sonny Liston to put an end to a fight with Clay and Liston. Liston is a better fighter and confident than when Liston is conditioned properly that he has the necessary artillery and a sufficient amount of skill to demolish a boxer who makes as many mistakes as Clay.

Tid Bits From Here And There

Atalby Murray, founder of Notre Dame College in Windsor, Sask., led Monday his address to the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce. The CBC will originate live radio network coverage of the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay return heavyweight championship fight. The broadcast will begin at 10:30 p.m. with a 15 minute pre-fight warm-up. Exhibition Game Turns Into Brawl

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP) It was only an exhibition game but both players and fans took things seriously Tuesday night when Halifax Schombers and Windsor-Dartmouth Maple Leafs met in a pre-season Maritime Senior Hockey League game.

Windsor-Dartmouth won the penalty-filled game 4-2, but it spilled the six goals most of the action was in the form of brawling that became so widespread in the third period that the game was called with two minutes to play. Officials said that the game was out of control as players fought among themselves with some of the fans taking part.

There were so many penalties in the third period that reporters and officials lost count. It was believed there were at least 25. Only three or four players escaped the period without some sort of penalty.

Major and misconduct penalties were being lashed out as the teams brawled at the 18-minute mark. There were 18 penalties in the first period and 12 in the second.

Defenceman Cliff McKay was the scoring star for Windsor. He had two goals in North Annapolis and overseas for young people to study wildlife and earth sciences.

During the discussion period several offers of annual financial assistance sources were offered and with these in mind it was suggested that the fund should start immediately to build a fund to supply the artificial ice in perhaps a period of three years.

It was the decision of the meeting that his was a good idea and the only way in which the community could have a rink for Wednesday night at the Charlottetown club. (Spares needed)
