

Seaside Police Robbing One Break, 2 Attempts

SUMMERSIDE — With the discovery of an attempted break at Crockett's Jewellery Store on Water Street yesterday morning, it appears that thieves very active in the town over the weekend.

Sunday an attempted break was discovered at the Jewellery Store on Central Street and also a break at the Capitol Theatre on Central Street. The intruders there netted the intruders well over $500 from the safe.

It is believed the attempted break at the jewellery store occurred late Sunday night with thieves trying to gain access to the building by entering an alleyway between the Royal Bank and the Jewellery store.

Several iron bars over the office window were torn away and an attempt was made to remove a fan from the air vent.

The alleyway between the two buildings is also blocked at both ends, at one end with a heavy cement wall and at the north end by a steel gate. The thieves had to climb the gate in order to get into the alley.

Police reported last night that no new leads have been uncovered regarding the three breaks.

United Fund Director Says Success Assured

BY JEAN MACISAAC
Guardian - Patriot Staff Writer

"With a start such as has been made, the United Fund of Prince Edward Island cannot be anything but a tremendous success," Jack Ambler, executive director of the P.E.I. United Fund, told The Patriot yesterday.

Mr. Ambler arrived here with his wife and family from Moose Jaw, Sask., late last week to take up permanent residence as full time director for the fund. This is his first visit to the province which he described as "very neat" and "really living up to the tourist literature about it."

It is a matter of having several organizations in one. In a city there is one central office to which every campaigner reports; here, some other method must be used.

BASIC PLAN

The basic plan is to have a provincial campaign cabinet to oversee the campaign. Within this there will be several smaller committees to take care of individual aspects and areas of the campaign, Mr. Ambler explained.

Mr. Ambler does not anticipate any special difficulties in a province-wide campaign, but it may have some problems that do come up which will be relatively easy to overcome with the co-operation of those concerned. He emphasized that the fund needs the full co-operation of people's "time, energy, and anything else they can contribute."

The first step will be to work together a complete "campaign cabinet" with the board of directors, he stated. It is hoped to meet as soon as possible with the individual agency members of the fund to get to know their activities and the purposes they serve.

He is expected that the campaign will get underway in October, national month for the United Fund.

With the fund being organized on a province-wide basis, the big difference from a city campaign is that there will be specific breakdowns into geographic areas, and within these areas will be found the regular divisions used in a city campaign, he said.

Assault Case Is Dismissed

SUMMERSIDE — A common assault charge against Allison Mills of Summerside was dismissed by Magistrate R.S. Hinton QC after evidence was given by two witnesses and the defendant.

The complainant was Walter Hees of Summerside. The Crown claimed Mills assaulted him on July 22 by slapping him on the face and twisting his arm. Mills admitted slapping him on the face stating he did so because of the "strong word" in front of his mother and another woman present. The incident took place at the home where Croken was a boarder at the time.

The magistrate stated that he believed there was provocation justified especially in a home where the complainant had been ordered out.

Donald Peters, Summerside, was fined $20 and costs for speeding on Fitzroy Street. He was apprehended by police officer Sigurd MacKinnon.

Conley Slapped With Heavy Fine

BOSTON (AP)—Pitcher Gene Conley, the apologetic wanderer, was slapped Monday by the biggest Boston Red Sox fine since the Ted Williams springing incident—an estimated $2,000.

The ball club refused to renew the exact amount, except to call it "a very substantial" sum. Conley was reinstated effective immediately.

The fine was imposed by manager Mike Higgin's who later discussed his action with retired Tom Yawkey. The latter personally fined the new owner Williams $5,000 for a series of springing episodes six years ago.

Conley also will lose his salary for the four games he missed in the vicinity of $600.

Ralph Houk Jubilant Over All-Star

CHICAGO (AP) — "Maybe," said grinning Ralph Houk, manager of the jubilant American League All-Stars, "we should have a third All-Star game and play this thing off."

American League squad were gleeful over Monday's 3-4 homer-splendid triumph over the National League. The NL had triumphed 3-1 at Washington July 10.

Former Leon Wagner of Los Angeles, whose three-run homer in the fourth started the American League ball rolling, put it succinctly.

"You just have to live it ball with them, and we did it better today."

Rocky Colavito, Detroit Tiger outfielder, slammed a three-run homer and also thought he was robbed of a double in the third when National League Tommy Davis of the Dodgers bumped the leftfield wall playing a Colavito ball.

Davis said he bumped the wall just before the ball reached him and his sun glasses slipped down. He dropped the ball and was charged with an error.

ant Governor, F. Walter Hyndman, was commissioned on March 31, 1958. While there is no set term for Lieutenant Governors, it is generally conceded that five years is the most normal period. This means that Lieutenant Governor Hyndman's term would not normally expire until March 31, 1963. He could, of course, retire before this if he so desired.

It is not possible to obtain any official government comment on the appointment of the next P.E.I. Lieutenant Governor. Such decisions are the prerogative of the Prime Minister who usually consults with one or more of his ministers from the province concerned. However, if Mr. Shaw did decide for reasons of age or health, to step out of the active political arena, it is considered here that he may well be in line for the next Island appointment to the vice regal post.

If Mr. Shaw is to succeed Mr. Hyndman in the post his appointment will have to be made under a conservative government in Ottawa. It is normal practice for the party in power to name one of its own number as Lieutenant Governor when vacancies occur or normal terms conclude.
