ARMY IN GOODS SPIRITS.

SPEARMAN'S CAMP, Natal, Jan. 31.—There is an optimistic feeling in all ranks here.

The troops are confident of ultimate success.

Great enthusiasm was aroused by the Queen's message and General Buller's speech expressing admiration for General Warren and General Cleary's Divisions, and hoping they would reach Ladysmith in a week.

JOUBERT AGAIN.

SPEARMAN'S CAMP, Feb. 1.—Natives persist in asserting that General Joubert was killed by shell outside of Ladysmith.

EUROPEANS AMONG THE BOERS.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—A letter appears today from a Hanoverian officer, formerly of 22nd German infantry, but now among the military advisers of the Boers, which says that nearly 10,000 trained European soldiers, including 300 officers, are among the Boers.

Referring to the military situation at Ladysmith, the officer says:

"Owing to the strength of our position on a circle of heights, like Seidan, we can't be brushed aside except by a relief column outnumbering us two to one."

BULLER AT IT AGAIN.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—It is reported here that General Buller has crossed the Tugela river at three different points and that fighting has been going on all day.

WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

SIR.—Your readers are thankful to you, Mr. Editor, for publishing the reports of the different factories of butter and cheese throughout the whole country, thereby enabling the farmers of all parts of this country to compare notes and learn many valuable and useful lessons. But the difference in many features of the products, and especially the difference in results generally, are very striking, some factories realizing 60c, some, 70c, some 75, some 80c, 82c, 86c, 88c, etc., etc., per hundred lbs of milk for the season.

It is not always (according to reports on hand) that the richest milk in butter fat either makes the most cheese or the most money for its patrons. Same also in butter factories. How is it also that milk poor in butter fat gives more butter from one pound of such fat? Take Park Corner factory, 3.25 per cent. butter fat to 100 pounds gives 1.26 pounds of butter to one pound of butter fat. Summerside again for instance, with milk average 3.52 per cent of butter fat, produced 1.16 lbs. of butter from 1 lb. of butter fat.

Why, Mr. Editor, we are heavily taxed to support an inspector whose business was to see that a uniformly high grade of butter and cheese was made. Is he doing his duty—or what's he doing? Is he a mere figurehead? Does he attend the annual meetings of those factories and instruct the farmers and officers of those factories? If not, why not? Don't you think too, Mr. Editor, that the cheese inspector and Dairying Association might collect and print in book form the annual statement and results, respectively, of all the dairying stations on the Island? No doubt a good thing to do.

Now 'tis a fact that many patrons in different localities are not satisfied with the manner of conducting the business, while others, whose officers are capable, reliable and trustworthy, are highly pleased. The test-readings too is a very sore point with many patrons. When the self-same sample of milk reads high or low in different stations it is no wonder the patrons would be a little disgusted. Then there are so many careless and incompetent cheese makers whose sense of duty is scarcely strong enough to extract them with so important and delicate a business as testing milk. Many believe the test any how is not bona fide, but merely approximate. I will say no more just now, but express the hope that our cheese-instructor will explain away some of these vexing problems; also I would like to hear from managers of factories.

Suffering caused by Piles

Is Quickly Ended when—

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is applied

Besides the intense agony caused by the itching, burning sensations of piles, there are other symptoms which produce restlessness and at times excruciating pains known only to the victim of piles.

What would one give to be free of this terrible disease? And yet there is a cure—a positive cure—which does not cost much and is not painful or difficult to apply.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is, so far as is known, the only absolute cure for blind, itching, bleeding and protruding piles. It gives relief at the first application and affords a perfect cure in the most aggravated cases.

Mr. Isaac Foster, Erieview, Ont., says: "I was troubled with itching piles for two years and could not sleep at night. I was half-crazed and tried everything. Finally seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised I tried it and found it good. After a second application I found relief, and one large box cured me. Have never been bothered since, and I can recommend it to all suffering from the same trouble."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is for sale by all dealers, or Edmansco, Bates & Co., Toronto.

shippers or any others interested upon this subject.

It goes without saying that our stations all could do much more business, and for a time at least the returns from milk are our principal revenues as farmers. Therefore we cannot have too much light.

Yours truly,
A PATRON.

WEDDING BELLS.

On the evening of the 17th of January, 1900, a very happy and interesting event took place at the residence of Mr. Robert Stead, Wheatley River, when his eldest daughter, Miss Lydia A. Stead, was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Albert Craswell, of Rustico. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jno. Dystant and was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride, who was handsomely attired in a grey costume trimmed with white silk, pearl trimming and buckles, was given away by her father; and the bridesmaid, Miss Annie Coles, of Milton, cousin of the bride, also wore a very becoming grey costume, with silk and braid trimmings. After the nuptial knot was tied the guests repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast there awaited their disposal. Before leaving the table many a youth and maiden, amid funny jokes, secured a piece of wedding cake which they slipped through the bride's wedding ring and resolved to dream over. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and music. Messrs Robert and James Stevenson, who are distinguished for their vocal performances at public entertainments, favoured the audience with several select songs, etc., and the Misses Coles and Messrs Hazen, Houston and Herbert Coles also displayed their musical talent in a pleasing manner. The groom and bride presented the bridesmaid with a beautiful gold bracelet, while the bride showed how highly she was esteemed by the many valuable, ornamental and useful presents she received. We all wish Mr. and Mrs. Craswell a very happy future.

NEWTON CROSS NOTES.

The ice in Orwell is in fine condition for horse trotting, and some of our leading jockeys are taking advantage of it. Mr. Daniel McLeod is training his fine two-year-old Parklands.

Mr. N. G. McPherson, blacksmith, is kept busy horse-shoeing. Mr. McPherson is a first-class workman, and is courteous and obliging, and is doing a good business.

Mr. James Gunnip has a fine four-year-old Dean. Mr. Gunnip "stumped" Mr. A. Power to trot him for ten dollars. If Mr. Power takes up the challenge the race will likely take place about February 1st.

Our school is progressing rapidly under the careful management of Miss Cecilia Edmonds, of Elliotvale.

Mr. Davitt Smith has returned from Vernon River, where he has spent the past two months house carpentering. Mr. Smith is a first-class workman.

THE EXAMINER is anxiously awaited every week, as its newsy and well-filled columns and latest war news are appreciated in our country homes. SPORT.

TROUT RIVER NOTES.

The winter months are passing quickly. The young folks are taking advantage of the fine nights and good ice.

The leading jockeys are greatly interested in horse trotting. A match race was hotly contested the other evening, in which Grey Bird, owned by Mr. Thomas, came under the wire an inch ahead of Kimble Chief, owned by A. E. Stanley, while Yellow Joker, owned by James Edward, was content with third place. There were many spectators, the females being in the majority.

Fishing is the leading industry in this part. The lucky gentlemen are able to make $15 to $20 per day.

Miss Josie Hogan, of Bloomfield, is spending a few days with her friends at Trout River. During her short stay she has made many warm friends.

W. Dunn is doing an extensive business in the beef line.

The friends of Alex. Steele are pleased to notice that he is again able to visit them, having been under medical treatment for the past two weeks.

Mr. Wallace Turner, while returning home from Stanley by ice, met with an accident. His horse breaking through was entirely immersed, but after successful manoeuvres he was rescued. He has not been from the stable since, on account of some disease, likely the result of the accident.

Mr. Murdoch McMillan, Millvale, having the best grist mill on the island, is giving entire satisfaction to the surrounding country.

A young man while returning to his home by night some time ago came nearly being the victim of death. While crossing a bridge which has for some time been in a bad condition, he felt the planks shake beneath him and hastened to get off. No sooner had he done so than down went the bridge. Being so alarmed he called for assistance, although safely across. It is no fault of our supervisor that our bridges are so neglected, and he cannot be blamed for wishing to resign.

Obituary.

We are sorry to chronicle the death of Daniel McGillveray, eldest son of Daniel McGillveray, Esq., of Cherry Valley, which sad event took place at his home in Roxbury, Mass., on January 15th. The deceased had been in ill-health for some time and spent last summer with his parents in Cherry Valley. He returned to Boston in September feeling somewhat better. But it was only for a time, and, though under the best medical skill and most watchful nursing, death summoned him from this world. He had resided in Boston for fourteen years. He travelled extensively in the States as a representative of a large saddlery firm in New Hampshire. Lately he was engaged in the insurance business in Boston. The esteem in which he was held by the firms for which he worked is his best eulogy as a trustworthy and capable man. Socially Dan was a very popular young man, and leaves hosts of friends both in Boston and his native province who mourn his early demise.

His funeral took place on January 17th, to St. Joseph's cemetery, West Roxbury. To his family and parents we tender our sincere sympathy. R. I. P.
