Interesting Program Given At Queen Charlotte School

A beautiful pageant in colorfilm on Switzerland, "Paradise on Earth" was presented by Anton Lendi, internationally known traveller and commentator at Queen Charlotte High School last night before an appreciative audience. The dramatic and entertaining commentary by Mr. Lendi, as he took his audience "through the land of a thousand valleys", from perennal snows and glaciers to sun-drenched valleys, added most effectively to the film presentation. Mr. Lendi, who was born in Switzerland, came to Canada in 1933. He served with the rank of Captain in World War II in Canadian Army Intelligence for six years. Two other features of the night's entertainment were a presentation of books for Q.C.H.S. library by Earl of Hillsboro Chapter, I.O.D.E., and the singing of two numbers by Queen Charlotte high school Girls Glee Club. The assortment of books and a year's subscription to three magazines presentation was made by

He would be glad to receive good books for the library at any time from any source. Showing a marked improvement since their earlier appearances before the public, the Queen Charlotte High School Girls Glee Club under their instructor, Ruth Boswell, sang two choruses "High Upon A Hill-top" and "Just a wearin' for You." Both numbers were heard with pleasure and appreciation. Mrs. K. A. Parker was accompanist. Ralph Rupert, Master-of-ceremonies in his opening remarks extended a welcome to the audience and expressed appreciation.
