

MR. AND MRS. ROLAND B. BABIN AND ATTENDANTS

Many Out Of Town Guests Attend Basilica Wedding

Saint Dunstan's Basilica was the scene of a lovely summer wedding when Teresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Doucette, Charlottetown, was united in marriage to Roland, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Babin of Edmunston, N.B. Right Reverend Menseigneur Patrick MacMahon officiated.

Mrs. Joseph Dougan was organist and Mr. Connie LeClair rendered several solos throughout the Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her bridal gown of white net over satin, the lace bodice having a scalloped neckline and the long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. Her finger tip veil of tulle illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book encased in a lace jacket, from which fell satin streamers with rosebuds attached.

Miss Thelma Doucette was maid of honor for her sister. She was becomingly attired in a street length dress of mint green taffeta with scoop neckline embroidery in crystallette and a matching detachable overskirt. She wore a small bandeau head-dress in matching shade, and carried a nosegay of yellow mums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Adeline Lavery, Toronto, friend of the bride, and Mrs. Gabriel Michaud, Madewaska, Maine, sister of the groom, wore identical gowns and accessories to the maid of honor.

The duties of best man were performed by Mr. Gabriel Michaud, brother-in-law of the groom. Mr. Danny Petrelli and Mr. Ron Gritenni, friends of the bride and groom, ushered the guests to their pews.

Following the ceremony the bridal party motored to Stanhope Beach Inn, where their wedding reception was held for sixty guests. Receiving with the bride party were the parents of the bride and groom, Mrs. Doucette, mother of the bride, wore a becoming gown of rose lace over taffeta with navy accessories and white carnations en corsage. Mrs. Babin, mother of the groom, looked charming in a black acetate nylon gown, with white accessories and white carnations en corsage.

During the dinner, the toast to the bride was proposed by Menseigneur Edgar Goulet of Shagway, Alaska, to which the groom capably responded. The toast to the attendants was proposed by Mr. Danny Petrelli and to the mothers of the bride and groom by Mr. Ron Gritenni.

The pianist during the reception was Mrs. William Campbell, Charlottetown. Several instrumental selections were given by Mr. Danny Petrelli and Mr. Arthur Doucette.

Immediately following the reception the bride and groom left on their honeymoon through Eastern Canadian cities. For travelling the bride chose a sheath dress of cinnamon brown with matching duster and ivory accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Babin are residing in Toronto. Out of town guests present included those from Maine, Toronto, Alaska, Allston, Mass., Moncton, Summerside, Borden, Victoria and Rustico.—Photo by Henry Doucette.

Chautauqua's great Amphitheater where major events are held, seats 8000 persons.

Miss Mills is at present visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chappel, Boston, Mass.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Visiting W. I. Enjoy An Evening At Alderlea

"They're coming." Granddaughter said last evening, "at least there are lights in the lane!" So we at Alderlea entertained the local W.I. last evening, and its guests, a sister group from a district which lies in that pretty countryside we know as "across the river." It can be said that ours is a friendly Institute, and never more genial we would say than when it plays hostess to another.

These forgatherings are therefore always exceedingly pleasant events, since it gives the members an opportunity of meeting women from the other communities who perhaps hitherto had been only names to them—to meet and always learn something new in the exchange of ideas, both for oneself and for the unit to which she belongs.

To find too that other rural women have similar interests and cares for our own: home, children, community and country uniting all in a common bond. We find that though we enjoy being a part of the visitations at any time of year, it is the summery seasons which lend themselves particularly well to all these occasions.

Our local Institute, this year with officers chosen from among the younger matrons, has followed various procedures in entertaining a visiting group. Last evening it kept to the usual order of monthly meeting, carrying it out possibly with more customary dispatch, since sometimes an innocent remark has been known to lead us away before this from the matter being discussed, into beguiling and irrelevant and time-wasting bypaths. Though mostly with a chuckle over our irregularity we came back to pick up the thread of it again, having enjoyed both the pause and return.

ing of the ways which follows. For us, and we believe for our Institute it was an enjoyable evening. And if our group acquitted itself at least passably well as hostesses, we are to prove ourselves as "the perfect guests" at the September meeting when we ride in on invitation to make "kaley" with "the galls" of a neighboring group.

"Why, here's a raspberry pie," James exclaims, "here in the refrigerator Ellen, did you know?" His smile is full of anticipation, this being his favorite pie. It fades however at a thought. Pastry's not the best thing in the world to go to bed on, is it? He offers. "It's apt to make a fellow have mean dreams. But 'the smile is more boyish this time. 'I believe, for this once, 'I'll risk it." he nods.

And this hushed and breathless night, over - spread with moonlight is we are sure, one of August's best.

Until tomorrow — — — Diary — — — Goodnight. . . .
