CONCERT.—On Wednesday evening last, a most enjoyable concert was given in the Church of St. Anne, Hope River. The choir of the church was assisted by the choir of St. Dunstan's Cathedral, the entertainment being under the direction of Mr. Blanchard, Organist of the Cathedral. The programme was made up of sacred and secular music, by Mozart, Lambiliotte, Neukomm, Mercadante, Borghi, Capocci, Balfe, etc. Every number of the programme was artistically rendered, and received from the large audience present unstinted applause. Three grand choruses, by Mozart, Borgli and Lambillotte were specially remarkable for the precision and taste with which they were rendered. The Rev. Father McElmeel made a short, but neat and appropriate, address. At the close of the concert, the Rev. Father Gallant, parish priest of St, Anne's, thanked St. Dunstan's choir for the assistance they had given him. It may, however, be remarked that, in the opinion of the members of the choir, the thanks should have come from them, in view of the studious care which the pastor and parishioners of St. Anne's had bestowed on their comfort from their leaving town until their return.

Alexander Horne, Esq., and Mrs. Horne returned home last evening. Mr. Horne says that "the Halifax carnival was immense." We noticed by steamer from Pictou last evening a nicely got up carriage with the device "Ross's Magic Healer" neatly painted on the sides. In charge thereof, was the genial proprietsr, Mr. Ross himself. He was returning, no doubt, from the Halifax carnival, which we presume he attended for the purpose of showing the magic healing properties of his popular salve in mollifying the wounded feelings of the thousands of brave soldiers who suffered defeat in the magnificent attack upon "ye ancient city." No doubt our social friend found large sales for his excellent salve among his fellow-countrymen.
