FIRST FOR LEAFS

Toronto's Ron Stewart (12) slams the first goal of the game past sprawling New York goalie Gump Worsley and Rangers' defenceman Harry Howell (3) and Larry Cahan in the first period of the fifth game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final in Toronto tonight. Other Leaf player is Frank Mahovlich. Leafs won 3-2 in overtime and advanced into the finals with a 7-1 triumph over Rangers on Saturday.

Maple Leafs Enter Finals; Harvey's Plans Uncertain

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs cut loose with a devastating scoring punch Saturday night to overwhelm New York Rangers 7-1 and gain a Stanley Cup final berth. And almost immediately speculation rose over the future plans of rookie playing-coach Doug Harvey in the Ranger organization.

This was a win-or-else sixth game of the best-of-seven semi-final for Rangers and they didn't have the legs to match Leafs who struck early and often for their deciding fourth victory against two losses. Leafs built up a 6-1 lead in the opening 40 minutes and added another goal in the final period when all they had to do was go out for a skate.

Rangers went into the game with a big psychological block. They hadn't beaten Leafs in 16 games on Toronto ice since Oct. 8, 1965, and a win was necessary to keep their cup hopes alive and force the series into a sudden - death game on the friendly Madison Square Garden ice Tuesday night.

Any notions they had about this soon disappeared. Toronto pumped three goals behind netminder Gump Worsley in slightly less than nine minutes of the opening period. Rangers were dead and every one of the 9,713 crowd at Maple Leaf Gardens knew it.

POST MORTEM

In the dressing - room postmortems Harvey told reporters he hadn't made up his mind about his plans for the 1962-63 National Hockey League season. He had taken Rangers to a battling fourth-place finish in his first coaching year and they had given the second - place Leafs a rousing battle in the opening five games of the series before the roof fell in on them.

Some observers close to the club said the 37-year-old longtime Montreal Canadiens defenceman would shuck off his uniform and concentrate on master-minding the club from the bench. Others said he might beg out of his three-year contract, reported to pay $25,000 a year, because he wasn't happy with the idea of transplanting his wife and three school-age children in New York.

Leafs kept him too busy to think about it Saturday when they roamed inside the New York blueline and fired 47 shots at Worsley. A standout throughout the series, the rotund goalkeeper couldn't be faulted for the loss because he operated behind a porous defence while his forward lines made life comparatively easy for Johnny Bower in the Toronto nets with only 26 shots.

The Dave Keon - Dick Duff-George Armstrong line accounted for five of the seven goals. Keon and Duff each scored twice and singles went to Armstrong, Frank Mahovlich and Bobby Pulford.

BATHGATE SCORES

Andy Bathgate, Ranger right-winger with the smashing shot and a 28-goal man over the regular season, scored his first of the playoffs at 18:21 of the opening period on a partially-screened 20-footer that slammed into Bower's pads and trickled over the line between his legs. Rangers had a few other good scoring opportunities, mainly in the opening period, but they were either off target or repulsed by Bower.

The New Yorkers made it 3-1 after Bathgate's goal but Duff put the game out of range at 3:17 of the second period on a hotly - protested goal. Rangers claimed he had batted in defenceman Allan Stanley's shot from the point with his glove but referee Frank Udvari ruled otherwise.

Duff claimed it bounced in off his glove.

"Thousands of goals go in like that," he said in the Leaf dressing-room. "They bounce off legs, arms and other places."

Whatever it was, it marked the finish of Rangers in their first playoff appearance since 1958.

Within two minutes Leafs scored another to make it 5-1. Mahovlich, skating full steam ahead, took a pass from defenceman Tim Horton, whistled past Larry Cahan, dipsy doodled in front of Worsley until he had the Ranger goalkeeper out of position and calmly flipped the puck into the open net.

Toronto's first goal—by Armstrong at 9:36 of the opening period—came as a result of a high, blooping shot by Toronto defenceman Carl Brewer. Worsley skated nearly 20 feet out of his goal to stop it on the first bounce with his pads and before he could scramble back into position Keon flipped a pass to the Leaf captain who lifted the puck high into a corner.

Pulford whipped a 35 - foot knee-high drive past Worsley about three minutes later and at 17:52 Keon took a passout from behind the New York net from Horton and banged the puck into a corner.

Toronto's final two goals were scored in power plays.

Rookie Rod Gilbert of Rangers was sitting out a tripping penalty when Duff scored his second at 17:06 of the middle period and Keon ended the rout at 5:33 of the third, 23 seconds after Cahan got the gate for high-sticking Eddie Litzenberger.

Pender Regains Share Of Title

BOSTON (AP)—Paul Pender, the old guy who was supposed to finish off the late rounds, came in like a whirlwind Saturday night to butcher and bewilder defender Terry Downes of England and regain a share of the world middleweight title. The 15-round decision was unanimous.

Off to a slow start, the 31-year-old Pender rallied to chop up the game 25-year-old Briton and win back the piece of the title he had to forego in London last July 11. At that time Pender quit on his stool after the ninth round.

The three officials voted for Pender by the following scores on the 10-point "must" system: referee Jimmy McCarron 146-143; Judge Joe Blumsack 145-143 and Judge Harry French 146-141. The Associated Press had Pender ahead 147-137, giving Pender every round from the sixth on.

Each weighed 159.

WERE NO KNOCKDOWNS

There were no knockdowns in the rough, bloody brawl although each was tumbled once to the canvas by the pushing of his rival.

Pender looked scared and weak through the first three rounds as the strong, aggressive Londoner bulled him around the ring and belted him with some thumping rights and lefts to the head and body.

But in the fourth, the veteran boxing master began to show some life and in the sixth he took charge with his sharp combination punches to the head.

Downes started to bleed from a cut on his oft-repaired nose in the sixth round. In the 13th, Pender's sharp punches tore open a wide gash over Downes' left eye.

Pender was cut over the left eye in the sixth round and again over the same eye in the ninth. The cuts apparently didn't bother him. Downes' nose cut apparently didn't handicap him too much, either.

They fought for a few seconds after the closing bell to the roars of the crowd of 7,715.

The fight grossed $66,664. It was televised.

Nats, Cincinnati Jump Gun Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Washington and Cincinnati will jump the gun with special baseball opening games Monday and the rest of the major league field will start play Tuesday in a two-day opening that is expected to attract about 340,000 fans.

The addition of New York Mets and Houston Colts to the National League completes the latest phase of the majors' expansion program, boosting each league to 10 teams.

However, the same old New York Yankees again are favored in the American League. Once more the National League promises to be a scramble with Los Angeles Dodgers the popular choice.

The long campaign runs through 162-games until Sept. 30.

Washington's new $20,000,000 stadium will be opened to baseball for the first time Monday with Mickey Vernon's Senators facing Bob Scheffing's Detroit Tigers before 47,000 fans. President Kennedy will throw out the first ball before Benny Daniels of the Senators and Don Mossi of the Tigers settle down to work.

The weather forecast calls for increasing cloudiness and warmer weather with a chance of showers.

The Tigers, of course, think they have a chance at the pennant after their close chase of the Yankees last summer.

Cincinnati will be the scene of the other Monday opener with the Reds opening the defence of the National League championship against Philadelphia Phillies, whose only hope of escaping the cellar rests in the two new clubs.

Joey Jay, the Reds' 21-game winner who tried to buy his own contract during a holdout campaign, will pitch for manager Fred Hutchinson's champions against Art Mahaffey, the Phils' youthful ace.

Bowlers Set For Tourney

Kays' Bros bowling team, the 1961 five-pin champions of the Maritimes, will be trying to successfully defend their crown this week at Shearwater and Stadacona.

Last April, playing under the name of Keefe Drug, these bowlers managed to bounce back on the final day and win the coveted championship. Their greatest opposition came from Newfoundland bowlers who were making their first appearance in the competition. This year the Newfoundland boys will be back, trying once again to bring the crown back to Canada's newest province.

Twelve teams are entered in this year championships which get away Thursday and continue through until Saturday. Play will alternate between Shearwater and Stadacona alleys.

The defending champions will leave Charlottetown on Wednesday afternoon for this bowling classic and will carry with them the best wishes of all local sport followers.

The personnel of the team is: Vic Williams, George Kays, Roy MacDonald, Gordon Gallant, Phil Perry and Stan Johnston.

Burly Hawks Oust Habs; Finals Underway Tuesday

By LAURENT CHIASSON

CHICAGO (CP) — The burly Chicago Black Hawks, led by Glenn Hall's superb netminding, Sunday beat Montreal Canadiens 2-0 for a berth in the 1962 Stanley Cup finals.

The shutout win, before an unruly crowd announced at 16,666, gave the Black Hawks a 4-2 decision in games in their best-of-seven semi-final series.

They now meet Toronto Maple Leafs in a best-of-seven final-round for the coveted trophy, starting in Toronto Tuesday night.

The big crowd let loose with a thundering ovation when the game ended.

By winning the round, the Hawks completed one of hockey's great comebacks in recent seasons. They dropped the first two games of the series, then stormed back to win the next four.

Hall, nicknamed mister goalie here, stopped 41 shots in a brilliant display of goaltending.

STOPS LOOK IMPOSSIBLE

At times he came up with seemingly impossible stops with Dick Duff, Claude Provost and Jean Beliveau being his chief tormentors.

The Hawks got all goals in each of the first two periods. Ab McDonald, an ex - habcounted in the first and Ken Wharram in the second. Stan Mikita, the series' leading pointgetter, assisted on both goals.

It is the second straight year Hawks have eliminate Canadiens in a semi-final round. Last spring they also won 4-2 in games as Hall produced shutouts in the fifth and sixth games.

Last spring the Hawks went on to win the Stanley Cup for the first time since 1938.

Canadiens turned in their best effort of the series an carried a fair edge in play over the Hawks. But it turned out to be a night of frustration.

For example, in the second period Moore got in all alone in front of Hall after taking a pass from Phil Goyette. He pulled Hall out, but the Chicago goalie somehow managed to recover fast enough to stop the shot with his leg.

The Hawks had their moments too and fired 31 shots on Montreal's masked goalie Jacques Plante.

HAD LITTLE CHANCE

Plante had little chance on Chicago's goals.

McDonald got the first at 4:02 of the first period when, standing uncovered on the right side of the crease, he deflected Mikita's goal mouth pass to Plante's far side. Mikita could easily have taken a shot himself, but elected to pass instead.

Wharram's goal came at 13:39 of the second. The fast right winger gathered in a long pass from defenceman Dollard St. Laurent after a faceoff in Chicago zone, got by Lou Fontinato inside the Montreal blue line and rode in alone on top of Plante.

The two assists gave Mikita 13 points for the series. He had at least one point in each of the six games, getting three goals and 10 assists.

It was a fast game and clean all the way. Referee Eddie Powers handed out only four minor penalties—three of them going to the Hawks. None figured in the scoring.

Montreal: Goal — Plante. Defence—Johnson, Talbot, Fontinato, J. C. Tremblay, MacNeil. Forwards — Goyette, Provost, Moore, Beliveau, Rousseau, G. Tremblay, Backstrom, Bereson, Hicke, Geoffrion, Marshall.

Ron Harris, Bryan Campbell, Wayne Rivers, Earl Heiskala and Lowell MacDonald of New Glasgow, N.S., tallied for the winners. Mike Walton got the lone goal for the Irish.

Shoemaker Reins Jaipur To Big Win

NEW YORK (CP) — Jockey Willie Shoemaker rode Jaipur through fog and slop Saturday to a convincing victory in the $58,500 Gotham stakes at Aqueduct.

It was the first start of the season for George D. Widener's Jaipur, one of the top two-year-olds of 1961 and only colt in a field of eight three-year-olds not nominated for the Kentucky Derby.

Shoemaker brought the colt home 1¼ lengths ahead of Townsend B. Martin's Sunrise County. Marian R. Frankel's Sidluck was third.

Jaipur earned $38,025 and boosted his total winnings to $252,684. He paid $4.30, $3.10 and $2.60 while Sunrise County returned $4.70 and $3.50 and Sidluck paid $5.10 to show.

Citadels Lead Montagnards

Not Luck, Says Pilous Hawks Just Better,

By JERRY LIKSA

CHICAGO (AP) — "It wasn't luck, we just were a better hockey team than Montreal."

Thus spoke coach Rudy Pilous above the roar in the victorious Chicago Black Hawks dressing room after the Hawks bounced Montreal Canadiens out of the Stanley Cup playoffs with a fourth straight victory, 2-0.

"If there was a turning point in this deciding game, it was Glenn Hall's great one-handed save on Dick Moore's wide open shot in the second period," said Pilous.

The Hawks were in front 1-0 when Moore swooped down completely alone, faked twice, and then tried to blow the puck past Hall. The Hawk goalie stayed with the fake and then stuck out his left skate to save the goal.

'BIGGEST SAVE'

"I guess that may have been my biggest save of the season," said the weary Hall. "I could see that it picked up the rest of the game and that's what made it important."

The Hawks will be raring to start the final series against Maple Leafs at Toronto Tuesday, Pilous said, "unless this series took too much out of us."

"You know this was a terrific series," he continued, "and we had to play championship hockey to beat a team like Montreal."

"We beat them at whatever game they wanted to play. I'm sick and tired of hearing about our 'trap' and hawk tactics. We skated with them, we checked with them and we outplayed them all the way."

Pilous reminded interviewers the Hawks won only one of seven regular season games at Toronto. "But we have a hell of a good chance to take it all again this year," he said. "... we're rolling now, after a slow start in the regular season."

Reporters and photographers were shut out of the victorious Hawks' dressing room for about 10 minutes while owner Jim Norris made an appearance that brought a sound of loud hollering through the door.

The postgame view ended when someone asked what was the difference in the series? Pilous replied: "We won more games than they did."

In the Montreal dressing room coach Toe Blake was talkative. He said:

"They got the breaks and we didn't. They took advantage of their chances and we didn't. We played every bit as well as they. But don't get me wrong, they didn't fluke it. They played well, and you have to give them credit.

"Both goalies were very good. But (Glenn) Hall was great in the clutch. After all he got a shutout and he picked a helluva time for it. When you stop Dickie Moore, you've done something.

"If we had gotten one goal tonight, it might have changed the whole thing. But when you don't score, well. . . ."

EXPECTED WIDE OPEN GAME

Harvey Surprised At Lopsided Score

By GERRY LOUGHEED

TORONTO (CP) — Playing coach Doug Harvey of New York Rangers figured Saturday night's Stanley Cup playoff game would be a free-scoring affair but he was surprised that it turned out to be a lopsided 7-1 win for the Toronto Maple Leafs.

"The previous five games in this series were all pretty close and I was expecting this one might break wide open," Harvey said in the subdued Ranger dressing-room.

No more than two goals separated the teams in the first five contests in the best-of-seven semi - final. Saturday's Leaf victory gave them the round, two games to two.

Was Harvey satisfied with how the Rangers responded in this his rookie season as a coach?

"The club gave me the best they had all year and I've no complaints," the all - star defenceman replied. "My fellows played the best they could in this series but the Leafs were a bit too powerful."

A long - time stalwart with Montreal Canadiens until this year, Harvey says he hasn't made up his mind yet whether he will continue his dual capacity with Rangers.

"I haven't given it any thought what I'll do next season. I've been devoting all my thinking to this series."

Rangers' star right - winger Andy Bathgate didn't have much to say about the semi-final. "It was a tough series and I felt it because my knees really bothered me."

Bathgate has chronic bad knees and he'd rather confine his athletic activities to the golf course. He's a good golfer and hopes to land an assistant professional's job in Vancouver, where he lives, or in Toronto.

'No Reason To Protest Goal' Says Dick Duff

By BILL MacDOUGALL

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs left-winger Dick Duff said Saturday night New York Rangers "had no reason to protest" his second-period goal that sent Leafs on their way to a 7-1 Stanley Cup semi-final victory. The win gave Toronto the best-of-seven series four games to two.

"The puck bounced in off the back of my glove and I made no move to push it in," he said in the Leaf dressing room after the game. "I don't see why it wouldn't be allowed. Thousands of goals go in like that. They bounce off legs, arms and other places."

The Leafs were ahead 3-1 when Duff got his first goal of the series at 3:17 of the second period. That appeared to take all the steam out of the Rangers. They squawked loudly to referee Frank Udvari but in vain.

Rangers protested that Duff, standing just outside the New York goal crease, had pushed defenceman Allan Stanley's shot from the point into the net with his glove.

The 26-year-old winger got a second goal at 17:34 of the second period.

Toronto coach Punch Imlach was relieved and happy.

"I'm glad it's over," he said as he relaxed in a chair after the game. "They had me scared silly at times during the series. This is the first time we got some breaks."

The Leaf coach praised the Rangers. "You don't have to be ashamed of that club," he said.

Defenceman Tom Horton, who got three assists Saturday and led the series' point-getters with two goals and nine assists, said "there were other guys who did a lot better than I did."

"Points are funny. Either they're going for you or they're not. When they're going for you, you get a lot."

Centre Dave Keon, who got two goals and two assists, praised New York goaltender Gump Worsley who earlier in the series said the sophomore centre was giving him a hot time.

Keon said he "didn't get too many shots on him, but he's a real competitor."
