MONTAGUE FISHERMEN CATCH LIMIT

Two lucky fishermen, Steve McCarron and John White of Montague are shown on their return from their first fishing trip of the season from somewhere in Southern Kings with 12 trout caught by Selve weighing from 3-4 lb. to 1½ lbs. Johnny also caught his limit but did not produce them for the picture. Reports from sportsmen of the area were mostly favorable but no really big trout were produced for a picture.

Crown Testimony Ends In Rape Case

Third day of the Queens County assizes saw the end of the Prosecution's case against Heath William Alexander Bowley of Parkdale. Six new witnesses were heard for the Crown during the session, which began with the continuation of defense's cross-examination of Eleanor Melody MacLaughlin. She had accused the defendant of an act or rape on Oct. 28 last.

When defense counsel John Nicholson had finished querying Mrs. MacLaughlin, Arthur Mc-Gugan, QC Deputy Attorney-General, acting for the Crown, called the first of six more witnesses, George MacInnis from Borden, who had resided at the same address as the complainant at the time of the alleged assault.

The entire list of witnesses were persons who purportedly had been concerned with the events on the night of the 28th and the following day. Gorden MacLean who runs the MacLean Lucky Dollar Store near Winsloe, Lloyd Diamond, also of Winsloe, and Mrs. Isobel Taylor. Malpeque Road were asked to say whether or not they had seen Bowley or Mrs. MacLaughlin that night, and to describe what they remembered.

The other three witnesses were RCMP officers who were involved with the lodging of the complaint, the subsequent investigation, and the arrest of the defendant. Constable Norman Vincent Harris, Constable Harry W. Burns, and Corporal Earl Francis Elliott, all of the Charlottetown detachment, gave testimony concerning the police actions.

The Prosecution rested at about 3:30 in the afternoon.

The only witness to appear for the defense during the afternoon session was Bowley himself. He claimed that on the night in question he was on the regular Charlottetown-Moncton run of the Bowley Transport Company, owned by his father, for which he drives a truck. He admitted to seeing Mrs. MacLaughlin during the early part of the evening, but said that the last time he had seen her was at about 6.30 when he drove her home, from where he continued on to pick up the truck for the drive to Borden and Moncton.

The trial continues this morning.

remained more stable than that of any other major industrial country in the world.

Labor has gained more than 4,000,000 jobs and $56,000,000,000 annual income, he went on, while business has gained a 30 per-cent profit after tax.

American business under the circumstances does not need high price levels, Johnson said. So he said he looks to responsible business and labor to help maintain price stability and lead the way to a balanced budget and a strong enough competitive stance in world trade to wipe out the balance-of-payments deficit.

Johnson said he believes there has been a full presentation of what is happening in the rail strike negotiations. He said he hopes the talks under way now will strengthen the collective bargaining system.

Turning to another matter, Johnson cited Senate passage of a bill for study of the question of a sea-level canal between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. He said the U.S. administration supports the bill and hopes the House of Representatives will act.

people of the riding. In a single riding it is possible to get a situation where an MP is elected by a very small majority. In dual ridings you could get a situation where candidates from two different parties are elected and everybody in the riding feels that at least one of his men has been elected and that he is represented in the Commons in a very particular way.

"I am not wedded to any particular view as to whether dual ridings should be continued or eliminated, but I should like to see the commission concerned given the option of studying that particular question and then coming to whatever conclusion they may think proper rather than have parliament, in a rather arbitrary way, say that dual ridings should no longer exist," Mr. MacLean, concluded.

Speaker Details Work In Forming Boys' Club

SUMMERSIDE — Howard Waite, local druggist and president of the Summerside Boy's Club, was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Club at the Green Street 'Y' Centre last night.

In an informative talk Mr. Waite outlined the research that had gone into the formation of the local boy's club and stressed the many hurdles that had been overcome in bringing the club into being. This resulted in the formation of the club which has just recently received its charter from the Boy's Club of Canada. Mr. Waite outlined the aims and aspirations of the club and stated that a good recreation program was already in force.

In conclusion Mr. Waite stressed the need for unselfish support of this project from the town council, service clubs and entire community. He was thanked on behalf of the Y's Men's Club by Graeme Linkletter.

OFFICERS PAY VISI

Admiral Brock, who is also officer conducting the exercise, said the fact that the services were able to co-operate at sea and on shore demonstrated a certain amphibious capability.

"The equipment we have doesn't lend itself to this specialized function. We are really trying to determine how best to exploit the equipment we do have," the admiral said.

Gen. Moncel said Mohawk went "a great deal smoother" than the first exercise. He said the landing of troops and equipment aboard the aircraft carrier Bonaventure for Cyprus was able to be carried out smoothly as a result of knowledge gained from Boatcloak
