Retirement Of Last Of Original Carferry Crew

On Thursday, March 31st, Mr. William E. White, Borden, quarter-master on the M. V. Abegweit, retired after serving on the car ferries in that capacity for thirty-eight years.

MR. WILLIAM E. WHITE

When Mr. White stepped ashore on March 31st the last member of the old crew had retired. Born at Georgetown, Mr. White was only twelve years of age when he went to sea with his father who operated a coastal schooner.

He's also across the C.A.H.A.'s not sending down a better team than the Ottawa R.C.A.F. squad to play Moncton so that the Hawks could get better practice.

Flour and feed, fertilizer, gas and oils, machinery and aerated waters all showed an increase; while autos, fruit and vegetables were down.

Some of the other shipments with last year's figure in brackets were: to Borden, autos 61 (67); coal 104 (168); flour and feed 172 (118); gas and oil 253 (190); machinery 15 (5); sugar 15 (6); to Tormentine, livestock 89 (91); meats 34 (30); turmps 82 (78); canned goods 11 (4); hay and straw 4 (nil); moss 1 (nil); lumber 4 (1).

Finestmaster for the evening was Wendell Muttart. Don Baker was granted a 5-week leave of absence due to business reasons.

Attendance reports showed three Y's Men absent for an attendance percentage of 93.9 per cent. The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem.

Now you can have a folding boat for fishing, hunting or pleasure. Put it in the car trunk or seat, weighs only 50 lbs., 10 feet long, 38" wide, 14" deep.

Jury Finds

any large amount of money on his person.

James Bruce, motor mechanic from Argyle, said that he left Charlottetown on the night of the 22nd driving a ton truck and accompanied by a Mr. Clinton. When he got to Cornwall it began to snow and by the time he reached Crapaud, sometime in the early morning of the 23rd, it was snowing so hard that he felt it was not safe to continue driving, so pulled into the side of the road until morning at which time he found that his truck was stuck and he had to be pulled out by Mr. Frank Myers of Crapaud. Before giving evidence Mr. Bruce told Mr. Nicholson that he had been instructed by his legal counsel to answer only the questions that had been asked him previously by the R.C.M.P.

Miner MacNevin, merchant at Victoria, said that he knew the deceased all his life. He was at his store about the end of January. He always drove and never knew him to walk. Asked if he thought Mr. Sturdy could walk that distance (about two miles), Mr. MacNevin replied that he thought he could do it, if he had to. Questioned further whether Mr. Sturdy was ever known to carry a large amount of money, the witness said he could not say. Since the deceased always had the habit of turning his back when he went to pay anything, Mr. Sturdy, a nephew of the deceased said that his uncle had difficulty in getting his bearings, especially after dark and on at least two occasions, had to go with him to show him the way home. He said that his eyesight was not very good. He also stated that he did not know of the elderly man carrying any large amount of money on him. Asked by a jurymen, what his uncle would do if he found he was lost - would he call out for help or try to find his own way out. The witness expressed the opinion that he would, "get pretty worked up".

Constable Chipman who is in charge of the Borden Detachment of the R.C.M.P. went into considerable detail regarding the investigation carried out. Footprints found near the body indicated that someone had staggered around for a time and other marks on the ground showed evidence of someone crawling on hands and knees. He told of finding a piece of cloth which was caught in a barbed wire fence and which closely resembled the material in the pants of the deceased. A tobacco pouch, a smoking pipe, a pair of mittens and a flashlight were found in close proximity to the body.

A search of the dwelling revealed a purse containing one $100 bill and a further investigation revealed a $20 bill under a bed in an inside bedroom. A box containing Mr. Sturdy's will and a few articles of sentimental value was also discovered. The only livestock on the premises were two heifers and a horse. Constable J. W. Pringle also of Borden detachment added to the details of finding the twenty dollar bill. He said it could have fallen out of the mattress while searching the bed.

Before retiring, the jurors asked what was in the will of the deceased and to whom was his estate being assigned. To this question, Mr. Nicholson replied that this question had been thoroughly investigated and it was found that Mr. Sturdy had a considerable sum of money in the bank and that there were no recent withdrawals. He felt that it would serve no useful purpose to disclose this information before the inquest.
