

MR. AND MRS. GERALD LESTER

Wed At Freetown United Couple Reside In Ontario

A pretty wedding was solemnized recently in Freetown United Church, when Carla Louise, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Camden Gardner, Lower Freetown, became the bride of Gerald David, son of Mrs. Eleanor Lester, Saint John, N.B.

The church was decorated with baskets of mixed artificial flowers and ferns and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

Rev. R. M. Shaw, North Bedeque, performed the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Allison Proffitt played the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of misty nylon sheer over nylon net, with a bouffant skirt, and featuring a fitted bodice with lace appliques at the scooped neckline, long lily point sleeves and a large bow at the back waist high. Her shoulder length veil of nylon tulle illusion was held in place by a large rosette of white organza, encircled with small pearl studded flowers, and she carried a cascade of yellow roses and white shasta daisies.

Debbie Rogers, the bride's only attendant, was gowned in a street length dress of shrimp colored organza and lace, featuring a bell shaped skirt, fitted bodice with scooped neckline and three quarter length sleeves. She wore a matching pill box headdress and shoes and carried a cascade of white shasta daisies.

The groomsmen were Wendell Ellis, and ushers were Ronald Lester, brother of the groom and Wylie Bigelow, cousin of the bride.

Beulah Moase, accompanied by Mrs. Allison Proffitt, sang "I Love You Truly" prior to the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Mrs. Gardner chose for her daughter's wedding, a beige three-piece dress of lace over satin, with matching flower hat and beige and brown accessories.

A Smiling Little Rill Ban By Us In A Crystal Flow

Snowdrops blossomed this morning. Tulips reached up brightly from the dank mould. And the hyacinths missing of late, were lined up in a border in fetching green cones to be counted. Housewives spread their washes, happy to have frosty Mondays past, pleased with today's sun and light breeze.

The Starlings came down from their lofty summer home to glean along the yards.

"What are they saying?" Alex grinned shyly.

"Not a thing this morning," we chuckled. "But, seriously, the wonder of it is that they return to spend the summer here. It would be interesting to catch and band them just to satisfy ourselves that it is the same pair that comes back every spring."

"We should do that. And Alex's smile was wistful, "we should take a walk today, it's so lovely, shouldn't we? As far

Annual Spring Cleaning Breezes In With Spring

NO matter how clean the home may be, there's something about the season that starts a yen for spring cleaning.

Perhaps it's the shining new leaves on trees and shrubs, or the gay, clear colors of daffodils, tulips, forsythia or flowering quince.

Whatever the reason, the urge is on — it's time to clean!

Grouchy Reaction

Announce it, and friend husband turns grouchy, probably at the prospect of skimpy dinners prepared by a tired-out wife — both unnecessary, as this week's columns will show.

The first move in spring cleaning — even if the house is spotless — is to clear out all unnecessary, unusable accumulations of the winter months, lurking in bureau drawers, cupboards, closets, under the beds, in attic or basement. Into the discard should go piles of newspapers and magazines; cartons, broken toys, chipped or cracked china, decrepit cooking utensils. There will be clothing and shoes the children have outgrown, and too-old-to-wear clothing belonging to your husband and yourself.

Clean each closet or cupboard as it is emptied, but don't houseclean the room until later (more about this in Friday's column). Clearing out will probably take most of your extra time for a week.

Stop each day when the children come home from school. Take a short rest and prepare a time-saving dinner, using a selection of convenience foods as suggested this week.

"Hurry Up" Platter

Perhaps for dinner you will choose the old-fashioned corned beef and vegetable platter often described in this column, which takes 4 hrs. to simmer-cook by itself, and only 30 min. for vegetable preparation. But if you chauffeur the youngsters to dancing or music lessons after school you'll appreciate the "hurry-up" corned beef platter" culminated today.

TOMORROW'S DINNER

(Takes 50 min.)
Cranberry Cocktail or
Snappy Tomato Juice
Party Rye Bread

COMPLETE QUICK ENTREE PLATTER:

Corn Beef — Parslaid Potatoes, Carrots, Onions — Sweet-Sour Relish — Pickled Peppers Cinnamon Applesauce or Doughnuts in Maple Syrup
Coffee Tea Milk

Convenience Foods Needed:

Cranberry cocktail or tomato juice; Worcestershire sauce, prepared horseradish, Tabasco, party rye bread, canned corned beef, quick-frozen package of potatoes, carrots, onions and celery, canned beets, table-mustard, sweet-sour relish and pickled peppers, applesauce canned in glass, doughnuts from baker, instant coffee or tea (optional), ketchup and other condiments to pass with the entree.

Measurements level
SNAPPY TOMATO JUICE
1 1/4 (oz.) can tomato juice
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
4 drops Tabasco
1 tbsp. prepared white horseradish
1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
Combine ingredients in order given. Shake well; divide into two jars; cover. Refrigerate at least 4 hrs. Makes about 1 1/2 qts.

CORNED BEEF ENTREE PLATTER (Hurry-Up Method)

2 pkgs. frozen stew vegetables, including potatoes, carrots, onions and celery (now on market)
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
1 medium head spring cabbage
2 (1 lb.) cans corned beef
1 lb. can sliced beets
4 drops Tabasco
1 tsp. lemon juice
Put frozen stew vegetables into 2 1/2-qt. saucepan. Add 1 qt. boiling water and salt and pepper. Cover. Bring to boil. Boil 20 min.

Wash cabbage; cut into 6 wedges removing hard center portions. Place atop cooking vegetables. Cut canned corned beef crosswise into 6 thick portions. Brush with prepared table-mustard. Place atop cabbage. Cover; simmer 30 min.

Heat canned beets separately with Tabasco and lemon juice. Serve: Center boiled vegetables on large platter. Top with corned beef; surround with cabbage wedges and sliced beets. Pass horseradish — mustard or ketchup. Serves 6.

THE CHEF'S DOUGHNUTS WITH MAPLE SYRUP

For each person, pour 2 tbsp. warm maple syrup in deep sauce dish; top with reheated doughnut. Provide a fork and spoon for eating.

WMS Requests Donations For Camp Keir

A letter from Marion Hardy asking for donations for Camp Keir, French River, was read at the meeting of the Myrtle Road Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society, held in the church study, Kensington, with Mrs. Lorne Crozier as hostess. A letter from the Session was also read.

The president, Mrs. Horace Paynter, opened the meeting with the theme, "God's Power in the Early Church", followed by prayer, a hymn repeated, and the Creed.

Scripture was taken from Acts 6:3-15 and read responsively. Each member offered prayer. The Exposition of the lesson was read by Mrs. Ralph Moase, and roll call was responded to with a verse of scripture. Correspondence was read and dealt with.

The regular offering and the Thankoffering were received and dedicated by the president. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Lorne Crozier, and the treasurer, Mrs. Ira Huestis gave her report.

Chapter 5 from the study

as the spring, perhaps? After dinner, maybe?"

"After dinner?" we agreed, planning a last pair of socks to the line. Was there ever an April afternoon more lovely? Or a pair of companions so pleasant?

A rill from the thawing, ran in a crystal flow beside us as we went down the lane, a little smiling whispering thing, facing off streamward. While the road we presently entered is now amazingly firm and dry, the ditches bearing off winter are in places snow-covered, making fine places for lads to explore. Then soon slipping beneath the roadside fence that field gave us sod for our footsteps. How good the feel of it, as we walked down the decline there on the far side of our dip of valley to come to the spring.

"What will it be like now?" one wondered as we neared it.

"Will our glass still be there?" the other conjectured. That spring "in the field across the creek" by the roadside, remains one of the best loved spots on this farm. It is naturally not so beautiful now in its setting as in summer when trees are leafed and intriguing red paths on either side lead to it. Nevertheless there was a charm to it still. A drift of snow in various key mouldings clings to the face of the steep sheltering woody cliff, where from the rocky basement gushes the clear and substantial flow, which falls gently to join the millstream. September Island, so named by the one girl of the farm, when as little ones she and Mack and (cousin) Gage played there while the harvesting went on in near fields, is set close by in the stream. It was a lonely place today, all because never, never will it hear those young voices in play there again.

"Oh dear, where is our glass. It must be under the snow" Alex said. "And what shall we drink from now?" Peter questioned. In cupped palms we drank of its flow. And then? After "boats" had been launched and a spell of delightful play enjoyed by the small ones, we left that quiet spot behind. And retracing our steps, passed lane's end and went on to gather pussy willows along the old millroad. It was another rite of our springtime.

Night now spreads its dusky wings over the farmlands. Stars light them. The lads are asleep. Sweet will be their dreams.

Until tomorrow — Diary — Good — night....
