Cape Cod Cranberries

We have several bbls. of choice Cranberries in stock. On account of the scarcity of apples this year, we are selling quite a lot of Cranberries for pies, sauces, etc.

Many persons cannot take plain cod-liver oil. They cannot digest it. It upsets the stomach.

Knowing these things, we have digested the oil in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites; that is, we have broken it up into little globules, or droplets.

We use machinery to do the work of the digestive organs, and you obtain the good effects of the digested oil at once. That is why you can take Scott's Emulsion.

The Cure For Poverty.

In The Century there is an article on "The Causes of Poverty" by the late Francis A. Walker. General Walker says in conclusion:

At the beginning I warned the reader that I had no panacea to offer, no single, simple, sovereign cure for the woes and ills of humanity. We must strain out of the blood of the race more of the taint inherited from a bad and vicious pool before we can eliminate poverty, much more pauperism, from our social life. The scientific treatment which is applied to physical disease must be extended to mental and moral disease, and a wholesome surgery and cautery must be enforced by the whole power of the state for the good of all. Popular education must be made more sensible, practical and useful. The housewifely arts must be taught to girls in the schools, and there the boys must learn to use hand and eye and brain in a close and vital co-operation and co-ordination. Yet still we shall have to await with patience the slow, sure action of time, the all healer. The balance of social forces has definitively turned to the side of the less fortunate classes, and the course of events now runs in their favor and no longer against them. Meanwhile let philanthropy continue its noble work in alleviating the afflictions which cannot be wholly cured and in binding together rich and poor in ties of sympathy and mutual regard.

William II Visits Paris on the Sky.

The only personages taken into confidence were, on the emperor's side, an admiral, the captain of the Hohenzollern, the chancellor of the empire, a general and two valets de chambre. In France they were President Carnot, M. Spuler, minister of foreign affairs; M. de Freycinet, minister of war, and a score of police agents. The German ambassador was not supposed to know of the voyage till it was over. When the preparations were completed, the kaiser embarked upon his yacht at Kiel, and on the plea of taking a seaward journey far north left his empire without news of him for a fortnight. The rest of the journey was made from Arendal via Holland and Belgium to Paris.—Guillaume II Intime, by Maurice Leudet.

Sneaky Shoes.

Nothing is so nerve trying as a pair of "sneaky" shoes, and the first thought of remedies most often make the matter worse. To remedy the squeak stand the shoes in a tin plate with just enough turpentine to reach the line of the inner sole without touching the "upper" leather. Let them soak for a day and then dry for two days before wearing, when it will be found that the soles are not only noiseless, but waterproof, and will wear almost twice as long. The turpentine seems to harden the leather without stiffening it.

Another Gone.

"Another illusion gone!" says the St. James Gazette. "How many millions of pilgrims have reverently stood by the pillar at Chillon and examined the footmarks left by the immortal prisoner with the chainless mind? The surveyor to the cantonal council of Vaud has been going into the matter, and the footmarks are to disappear as being 'not authentic,' but a pious fraud, restored every few years for the benefit of credulous tourists."

Better Protected. He was crying, but he finally managed to blubber through his tears: "I wish I was a girl." "Why do you wish you were a girl?" asked the father, who was mainly responsible for the tears. "Tain't so easy to wallop them," answered the boy, hardly realizing how great the truth he had hit upon.—Chicago Post.

Fast and Slow. She—He's fast, I understand. He—No—slow. "You evidently don't know how he spends money." "Ah, but I know how he pays his debts."—Philadelphia Record.

A Great Play. "I can't afford," said the man of moderate means, "to go to many places of amusement, but I am admitted free to the play with the longest run on record, 'The Struggle of Life.'"—New York Sun.

About the year B. C. 220 edible serpents were sold at a penny each in the Egyptian markets. They were shipped to Rome. Italian vipers were cheaper, costing about a half penny each.

Old California. An American geography, published in 1812, contains the following interesting information: "California is a wild and almost unknown land, covered throughout the year by dense fogs, as damp as they are unhealthy. On the northern shores live anthropophagi, and in the interior are active volcanoes and vast plains of shifting snow, which sometimes shoot up columns to inconceivable heights." The book adds that some of these statements would seem incredible were they not so well authenticated by trustworthy travelers.

We are in the Dairy Supply business to-day, standing the unfair competition of an official whose travelling expenses are paid out of the public funds. We have on hand Alpha Separators which return more money to the patrons than any other.

Separator oil that will insure safer running at extreme speed than any other on the market.

Butter Boxes for storing and shipping butter in. Dairy plants that will run without an expert engineer on hand.

Boilers that will save fuel over any other that has been imported so far. Engines that do not require to be driven to extreme speed to obtain enough power. All work warranted for one year.
