

FINANCIAL AID

By Pam Clark

We are well into the work of our second semester and I imagine your timetable is quite full.

If you have room to include one more appointment in your schedule, may I suggest it be a trip to first Floor Main Building to inquire about Financial Assistance available to you.

I would be happy to help you make long range plans for future studies. There are awards for graduate work which you might be eligible for. There are also money savers for undergraduates.

Invest in your future...MAKE TIME!

Here are two awards which may be of interest.

Gulf Canada Graduate Fellowships

Ten fellowships awarded at $7500.00 to candidates in business and management studies, and other sciences related to the petroleum industry. Tenable at any Canadian university. Deadline: February 1 CMHC Scholarship $7500.00 awarded to candidates for full-time graduate study in various fields relating to housing in its urban and regional context. Tenable at Canadian or foreign universities. Deadline: March 16.

RIDDLE TIME IN THE MARITIMES

There are seven bags of gold six bags are real gold one bag is fool's gold. The fool's gold is one ounce per pound heavier than the real gold. Both real gold and fool's gold have the same number of pieces of gold in each bag. Problem: With a scale that is capable of registering only one reading and one reading only, how can it be determined which bag contains the fool's gold?

Answer: Next week.

If any students or professors, or students, have any tantalizing quizzes like the one above, please take them up to the SUN office where we'll gladly publish them one week and the answer the week following.

CONTEMPORARY INDIAN CARVER EXTENDS HIS HERITAGE CRAFT

Cycles, The Graphic Art of Robert Davidson, an exhibition which transforms the old traditions of Indian art from the coastal villages of British Columbia into a new medium, is currently on view at Confederation Centre Art Gallery and Museum in Charlottetown.

Robert Davidson is described by Peter MacNair of the B.C. provincial museum as "without question, the greatest of the young Haida carvers to emerge in recent years". Davidson based his work in the principles of style which enable an artist to go beyond the past, rather than merely trying to copy the artistic level of northwest coastal Indians.

Davidson describes the journeyman phase as "interpreting the song".

His prints deal mostly with the animal archetypes familiar to us from the totem poles, the symbolic stock in trade of the culture: eagle, raven, bear, killer whale, frog, beaver, thunderbird.

In his "master" prints, Davidson ranges further afield, rearranging traditional designs to fit new shapes, eliminating superfluous detail and creating bold new ideas.

The seven "artist" prints are experimental and tentative, inventing entirely new forms. The images suggest his future direction - pure imagination grounded on precise tradition, bring Haida art alive again.

Cycles The Graphic Art of Robert Davidson will remain on view at Confederation Centre Art Gallery and Museum until Sunday, February 14. Confederation Centre Art Gallery and Museum is an Associate Museum of National Museums of Canada.
