LETTERS TO THE EDITOR Educational.

SIR,—A friend of mine put a copy of the Pioneer of the 11th inst., in my hands yesterday, calling my attention to the following question asked by Mr. Bentley of Mr. McLean, Commissioner of Public Works:

"To lay on the table a statement showing the amount of contracts entered into with Mr. Edward Henry for repairs on Morris Bridge, at Granville, Lot 21, Queen's Co., in the year 1891, the names of the securities, the amount paid to Mr. Henry, the date of payments, and the amount now due on this contract."

"That there is no balance due Mr. Henry." Now Mr. McLean knew when he made this statement that it was not true, for a balance of $66 still remains, which he would not pay. I may just ask the question—why did Mr. McLean keep Mr. Henry in hot water for the last ten months by only offering him $500 instead of $650, which he gave him the other day, and which was the cause of his death? If he was entitled to $650 on the 30th of March, was he not entitled to it on the 30th June last? This is what seems to be a mystery to every right-thinking man.

Mr. Henry was entitled to the $716 when he finished his contract, and Mr. McLean and his colleagues ought to see their way clear to pay the balance of $66 with interest to the widow whom they have been the means of making one. I noticed some letters in THE EXAMINER last autumn which I thought were to the point, but I never saw any attempt by Mr. McLean or anyone else to answer them. This convinced me that something was wrong.

Now, another question: Why did McLean come up $150 on the 30th of March, and still keep $66 back, or give Mr. Henry a right to sue? Anyone can see the point. It would cost Mr. Henry the $66 to contest it in court, and perhaps be kept out of his money for a year. Mr. McLean knew that Mr. Henry could sue through it, and would be in pocket to take the $650 rather than go to court for the balance of $66. Hoping that this disgraceful affair will be settled at once, I am, etc.

Granville, April 14, 1892.

Glennian Debating Society. A large and appreciative audience assembled in the Glennian Schoolroom on the evening of Wednesday, April 6th, to take part in a Concert by the members of the Society at the close of the debating season.

The Concert, consisting of readings, recitations, dialogues, etc., plentifully interspersed with music, was on the whole eminently successful, and reflects great credit on the participants.

The musical part of the programme, made up of duets, solos, choruses, etc., under the direction of Messrs. J. A. Power and David McDonald, was well selected and rendered, and formed a pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment. The solos by Mr. John Ryan were very highly spoken of by all present. In the literary part, special mention may be made of Mr. Daniel Stewart, whose comic selections, delivered in his inimitable style, received from all well-merited praise.

The success of this Concert was but a continuation of the success which has attended the Society since its organization in the early part of last winter. Since then weekly meetings have been held, at which many important subjects have been discussed, such as "Science or Literature?" which has conferred the greater benefits on man? "The Press or the Platform?" which is the better means for constitutional agitation? "The Warrior or the Statesman?" which has done more for his country?" etc.

The most prominent feature of the season was the Union Debate by the Clubs of Piquet, Monaghan Road and Glennian, held in the Glennian Schoolroom on Wednesday, Feb. 24th. The subject previously agreed upon for discussion on this occasion was "The Reader or the Traveller?" which acquires the greater amount of knowledge?"

James H. Cumiskey, Esq., was appointed chairman for the evening, and on coming forward made a few appropriate remarks which were well received. The discussion was opened on the side of the reader by Mr. W. J. O'Donnell, who was assisted by Messrs. Daniel Birt, J. J. McDonald, John Birt and J. M. Reardon, while on the side of the traveller was ably upheld by Messrs. J. T. Garland, who made the opening speech on this side, Joseph Power, David Birt, L. P. McLaughlin and George Robertson, who, after a protracted and animated discussion, succeeded in wresting the decision from their opponents. At the close of the debate Mr. David Birt came forward and delivered a stump speech and great applause. A vote of thanks was tendered the chairman for his valuable services in the chair brought to a close.

All present at those meetings felt perhaps more than ever before, the want of a hall providing suitable accommodation for an audience on such occasions. We trust that ere long this long-felt want will be a thing of the past, and that some of our energetic and enterprising men will take this matter into consideration, and, its success being assured, carry it to a successful termination.

Another Testimonial. DR. HAYNES, Dear Sir: I am sorry you have so much to contend with. No doubt it is caused by jealousy. I shall certainly do my best to contradict any false reports I may hear, both for your own sake and my own. I would be very grateful should I do otherwise, after having derived so much benefit from your medicine. You promised to cure me in six months from the time I commenced taking your medicine, but I am happy to state that I had not been taking it more than three months when a cure was effected; and after having consulted all the doctors in the vicinity without effect, the only consolation derived from any of them was that my disease (tick headache, etc.) had become chronic and was incurable. If this statement will be of any benefit to you, you are perfectly welcome to publish it, yours very truly,

MRS. C. R. POOLE. Lower Montague, 31st March, 1892.
