Free Postal Delivery.—Mr. John F. Whear is to be thanked for calling the attention of the present government to a Free Postal Delivery for Charlottetown. Some months ago he wrote to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries who in reply enclosed the following from the Postmaster General:—

Ottawa, Oct 8th, 1896.

My Dear Davies,—With regard to street delivery in Charlottetown my deputy informs me that street delivery means a two cent rate for drop letters. In Fredericton they have in force the old systems that the addressee must pay in cash one cent on each letter delivered. This is in addition to the ordinary postage. In every other place in Canada where there is any street delivery the two cent rate applies on all drop letters. If you would like to have street delivery in Charlottetown on these terms kindly let me know.

Yours sincerely,
W. Mulock.

It must be admitted that few persons in this community were aware of the additional postage imposed upon the citizens of cities enjoying Free Postal Delivery.

Loyal Crusaders at 6.30 to-night.

Thermometer Readings.—During Saturday night the coldest recorded was 11 above zero, with the wind blowing at the rate of 32 miles an hour. During last night the lowest point reached was 6 above zero. The velocity of the wind at nine o'clock last night was 19 miles an hour. At nine o'clock this morning 8 miles an hour was the average.

The Roped Arena.—George Byers, of Boston (formerly of Charlottetown), and Daniel Carroll, of Cambridge, met at Newmarket Junction, N. H., one night last week and battled to a draw. In the opinion of the spectators Byers had decidedly the best of the encounter and should have been declared a winner.

Dick Cronin, formerly of Charlottetown, is desirous of meeting Jack Hanley, of Everett. They were to meet in the Post office, Boston, a few nights ago to arrange preliminaries.

A Handsome Trophy.—The handsom trophy presented to No. 1 Company by Adjutant F. Parker Carvell was to-day shown The Examiner. The trophy consists of a silver cup resting upon an ebony base. The cup is gold-lined and beautifully chased. On one side is the following inscription: "The Carvell Challenge Trophy, Presented to No. 1 Company, Prince Edward Island, 4th Regiment Canadian Artillery, by F. Parker Carvell, Adjutant, 1896." Over the inscription are two crossed rifles and a wreath of maple leaves. The same ornamentation appears over the inscription space on the other side of the cup. This inscription space is left blank for the name of the permanent winner. This trophy was first competed for at the competition last fall, Corpl. J. W. McLeod being the winner. We have not heard the conditions attached to permanent ownership. The cup is to be placed on exhibition in the show window of the Central Drug Store, and it will be well worth calling to see. Adjutant Carvell has always taken the kindliest interest in the militiamen of the province, and has ever done all in his power to help along this arm of the service. He was for some years 1st Lieut. of No. 1 Company, and was exceedingly popular. His action in presenting the trophy shows that he has still the kindliest feeling towards the old corps and the old boys. The officers and men of the company are delighted with the trophy, and feel deeply grateful to Adjutant Carvell.

FOUND HIM AT HOME.

The Doctor Received His Guests In His Shirt Sleeves.

(Halifax Chronicle.)

The little joke played by some of the law students of Dalhousie College on one of their number, a law freshmen, aroused the medicos and caused them to plan some deap, dark, mysterious plot which would heap contempt on their poor "freshies."

Three or four sophomores, guided by the counsels of a few trusty juniors and seniors, after great deliberation, thought an "at home" would be the right and proper thing for their intended victims. So in due time neat, bevel-edged cards, bearing the invitation. "Dr.——desires the presence of Mr.——at his residence on the evening of Saturday, the 12th, between the hours of 8-11," were received by each unsuspecting freshie. Great was their joy. Cadavers and Skeletons had no charm for them until their social duties had been performed. A great "at home" with visions of pretty girls and "mashes" vividly arose before them.

Elaborate were the preparationo. High collars and "splash" ties were purchased in abundance and each medico went forth prepared to conquer in his best "bib and tucker." The perpetrators of the foul plot stationed themselves in the neighborhood of the professor's residence to await the downfall of the freshmen.

Soon the victims came in sight, in twos and threes and ran up the professor's steps in great glee. A few minutes more and out they came crestfallen and vowing vengeance with "curses not loud but deep." The funny part of it was that each student allowed his fellow student who came after to fall a victim. The genial professor received in his shirt sleeves the entire freshman class, on a bogus invitation.

One who was there said: 'Oh he treated us well but I didn't care very much for the tone of voice in which he said to me and my companion, 'It's all right, gentlemen, there are others before you. I think he was rubbing it in."

Santa Claus' headquarters is open every night until 9 o'clock. Crowds all the time.—Carters' Bookstore.

SUPPOSED TO BE DROWNED.

Captain Hayes Missing Since Friday Night Last.

Left for His Schooner, But Never Reached it—Hat and Oars Found.

Telephonic advices from Montague report that Captain Hayes, of the schooner Warren W., has been missing since Friday night last, and it is thought that he was drowned in the river. To-day the river is being dragged, but up to the time of writing the body has not been found.

It seems that early on Friday afternoon the Warren W. finished loading at Rourke's wharf, about two miles down the river from Montague, and hauled out into the stream. Subsequently the Captain came on shore and proceeded to Montague where he remained about three hours. Then he hired a man to take him back to his schooner. It was then between nine and ten at night. This man left him on the wharf getting into his boat, and that was the last seen of him.

There was some ice formed in the river, and it is supposed that in his efforts to get the boat through the ice to the schooner the Captain fell overboard.

The crew of the schooner were anxious regarding the Captain's whereabouts on Saturday, but could not get on shore to make enquiries, as they had no boat. Finally they called out to some people on shore and made the fact of the Captain's absence known.

A search was at once made for Captain Hayes, but his whereabouts could not be ascertained. The missing boat was found on the ice with the oars lying beside it. The Captain's hat was found close by on the ice. Captain Hayes belonged to Souris.

CHRISTMAS BAZAR.

A Passing Glimpse at the Interior of James Paton & Co's Beautiful'y-Decorated Store.

Messrs. James Paton & Co., are to be congratulated upon the successful opening of their Christmas Bazar. Hundreds visited their large store on Saturday night and came away delighted either with what they had seen or with what they had purchased. The Bazar will continue open during the holiday season. Good taste has been exercised by Miss McEachern in the decoration of the eastern window. To write a review of this window would be no easy task, even did space permit. We must therefore content ourselves with pointing out that there are to be seen therein pretty nuns' cloths and vellings, laces, crepons, and Swiss and Japanese silks in the prevailing colors. In the eastern window may be seen an extensive assortment of carpets and mats as well as carpet sweepers and some of the very latest ideas in curtains and portiers. It is abundantly evident that Messrs. Paton & Co. have spared no pains to meet the requirements of their large and growing trade.

Upon entering the store the visitor cannot help being impressed by the thousand and one tasteful novelties that meet his view, articles that are in especial demand at this season of the year. "Welcome" greets one upon entering, the letters being of gold embroidered on dark green silk plush; and directly underneath is a large picture of Her Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria. The store is arranged in booth style. Seven booths, artistically decorated, are built upon the seven leading counters, and there are no less than one hundred electric lights distributed throughout the store, with eight triplet reflector incandescent lamps and one arc light in the centre. These throw a mild and pleasant light upon the goods below, and the effect is very pretty indeed.

Those who have not yet visited the store should do so at once The display of holiday goods is especially tempting, and the decorations must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated.

A CASE OF DIABETES.

No Help from Medical Men—Suffered for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

North Bruce, Dec, 21 (Special).—An old and well-known settler in this township, named Thomas Brooks, who lives on lots 7 and 8 in the 14th concession is rejoicing with his recent recovery, and he said:—

"I was cured by using twenty-four boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and as nothing else ever helped me I say they saved my life."

"I had tried all the doctors of this locality and was treated for diabetes hoping and suffering for years."

"From reading of cures I determined to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I must say that after using the first box I would have considered them reasonable at ten dollars a box."

We have made up a tray of broaches which we are offering at half price. Now is your chance.—G. H. Taylor.
