"BEER BELONGS"

Major Clayton M. Wallace "Beer belongs", the brewer tells us. Beer belongs? Yes, let us see All that flaunted beer belongs to: Beer belongs to tragedy; Beer belongs to drunken driving. Beer belongs to highway wrecks, Bodies bruised and maimed and bleeding. Broken arms and legs and necks. Beer belongs to family quarrels, Hatred, infidelity; Beer belongs to childhood blighted, Doomed to insecurity. Beer makes dad act queer and foolish; Beer makes mother silly, too. Children ask, "Why should folks drink it?" "Beer belongs!" That's why they do!

Beer belongs to rape and murder, Bestial crime of every sort. Beer belongs to jail and prison; Beer belongs to crowded courts. Beer belongs to gross corruption; Beer belongs to bribe and threat; Beer belongs to all that's sordid! Truly "beer belongs". And yet— If our land to beer surrenders, Nor forsakes the flowing bowl, Nor condemns its power to ruin Human heart and mind and soul, Never shall we come to greatness, Never our destiny fulfill! Beer destroys the strongest nation! Help us, Lord, to do Thy will.

Beer belongs to the field of higher education. Those talks were interspersed with pleasing vocal and instrumental numbers by the pupils of St. Augustine's Convent. —CA

South Rustico and Vicinity

The many friends of Mr. A. A. Gallant, merchant of South Rustico, are happy to see him home again. Mr. Gallant was obliged to enter the Charlottetown Hospital for two weeks treatment.

The funeral of the late Moses Gauthier, whose death at the age of 83 occurred at his home in Charlottetown, took place at St. Augustine's Church, South Rustico, on Saturday, May 31, and was largely attended. Mr. Gauthier was born at South Rustico and lived most of his long life there.

An appreciative audience greeted Mr. Elmer Blanchard, law student of Charlottetown on the evening of May 25 at the parish hall of South Rustico. Mr. Blanchard read an interesting paper on the life and work of the late Rev. Father George Belcourt who was a former parish priest at South Rustico. During the evening Prof. J. H. Blanchard, Charlottetown, was listened to intently when he spoke on the good work being done by the St. Thomas Aquinas Society for the education of young men and women of P.E.I. Mr. Edmond Arsenault, Charlottetown, also passed complimentary remarks relative to the opportunities the Society is offering our young people in the field of higher education. Those talks were interspersed with pleasing vocal and instrumental numbers by the pupils of St. Augustine's Convent. —CA

IN MEMORIAM

ANNIE MAUDE MARY JONES

After a few weeks illness in the P. E. I. Hospital, on April 2nd, 1952, there entered into Eternal rest, the spirit of Annie Maude Mary Jones of Pownal, in her 89th year. She is survived by her brother, J. M. Jones, Charlottetown, and Sadie, in the old home. At an early age she accepted Christ as her Saviour, and was baptized into the fellowship of the Alexandra Baptist Church. Later, when the church at Hazelbrook was organized, she transferred her membership there, and although, because of illness she was early deprived of meeting God's people in the place of worship, yet her heart and her prayers were united with theirs, when they assembled for worship.

In all the years of her life, she was never known to complain of her lot, but trusted in the Father's plan for her life. Her friends were always greeted with a brave, serene and sweet smile.

She was an ardent lover of nature and especially interested in our birds and their habits, often recognizing new-comers and applying herself to learn their name, habits and native home.

For one so long shut in, she had an admirable knowledge of world affairs, and a firm grasp of things pertaining to the best interests of mankind. To visit her was to be enriched in mind and spirit, and to become more conscious of God's grace and love.

Even in death, her love for flowers was appropriately recognized by the beautiful floral contributions of near relatives and friends. Sympathy is expressed to her relatives, especially to Miss Sadie Jones, whose sisterly love was shown in continuous and tender ministrations to the invalid sister throughout a long period of illness.

Rev. J. D. Davison conducted a beautiful service at the MacLean Funeral Home, at which Mrs. Frances MacRae sang as solo, "Life Hide-it My Soul." The pallbearers for this service were: Heber MacPhail, Edward MacPhail, Ralph Stewart and Heber Jones.

The body was then taken to Hazelbrook, where Pastor Poole assisted by Rev. A. S. Weil, (United), conducted a comforting service. Here Mrs. Harold Carver sang "Saved by Grace." The pallbearers at Hazelbrook were: Charles Jones, Ambrose MacMillan, Arthur Moore, M. W. Wood, A. Roy Jones, and Ernest MacCabe.

Interment was in the church cemetery.

Redistribution

OTTAWA, June 14—When the work of the redistribution committee is completed, membership in the Commons in the next Parliament is expected to be divided as follows, with existing representation in brackets: Newfoundland 7 (7); New Brunswick 10 (10); Nova Scotia 12 (13); Prince Edward Island 4 (4); Quebec 75 (73); Ontario 85 (83); Manitoba 14 (16); Saskatchewan 17 (20); Alberta 17 (17); British Columbia 22 (18); Yukon-Mackenzie River 2 (1); total 265 (262).

The committee agreed that one of Quebec's two new constituencies should be established in Longueuil, a city across the St. Lawrence River from Montreal. The move will split the existing constituency of Chambly-Rouville—represented by Roch Pinaud (Liberal)—into one rural and one urban riding. The new Longueuil constituency will include the cities of Longueuil and St. Lambert and the towns of Montreal South, Jacques Cartier, Greenfield Park and Lemoyne.

Other sections of Chambly County and most of Rouville County will form the new rural constituency of Chambly-Rouville. The committee recommended that Quebec's second new constituency be placed on the Island of Montreal. The committee agreed that the vast Yukon-Mackenzie River constituency, now represented by J. A. Simmons (Liberal), should be split in two. In future, if the committee's recommendation is accepted, one member will be elected for the Yukon and another for the Northwest Territories.
