The War Is On

THE feud is really on.

Tied at one game each in their best of seven series for Stead's Pharmacy trophy, Johnny's Flying Hawks and Sandy's Royals square off again tonight at The Forum in what should be a bruiser of a contest.

Interest wasn't exactly great when these two squads started their series back on January 2. However about 400 folks found their way to The Forum that night and were happy at what they saw. Good news travels fast and the first night patrons told their friends about what was happening at the Fitzroy Street winter playground. They did an excellent job of selling the series to other customers and last Thursday night nearly 1000 persons paid admission to Bucko Trainor's showpiece.

Once again they saw a fine game of hockey and they've been talking about it ever since that time. They're all keyed up for tonight's action, the biggest one thus far in this short series.

JOHNNY took his Flying Hawks to Lancaster last weekend and dropped a close decision to the Mooseheads. After a long trip, coach Norm Larter tells his boys were dead in the first two sessions but they came on to almost pull out the verdict in the third. Larter had great praise for goaltender Ron MacDougall who was sensational throughout the skirmish. Larter also informs us that Billy Sherry scored by far the prettiest goal of the night.

Sandy had an exhibition game with Saint Dunstan's varsity since that time and took a 9-3 drubbing. However, the Royals went to the college rink with only seven men and that's not nearly enough to keep up with the fast skating Saints. But Sandy assures us he will not be short handed tonight when they take the ice against the Flying Hawks. Frizzell doesn't look for Hawks to repeat as winners tonight. Just to make sure they don't, the pepperpot manager is taking every precaution. He figures all his key men will be there at The Forum and he insists they'll skate off with the decision.

BIG GAME AT FORUM TONIGHT

The biggest hockey crowd of the season is expected at The Forum tonight when Johnny's Flying Hawks oppose Sandy's Royals. The teams are tied at 1-1 in their best-of-seven series for The Stead Pharmacy trophy. Royals copped the opener but fell victims to the Hawks in the second. This is a mighty big one tonight and both teams will be at full strength. Here are three members of the Hawks who will play a big part in the proceedings. From left to right they are: Donnie 'Gunner' MacCormack, Ralph Shephard and Gerald Noonan. Action commences at 8.15 sharp.

Not Much Fan Fare

THE Hawks started off this season without much fanfare but they have been gathering steam along the way. Right now, Johnny Reid has molded up a formidable outfit and other teams in a similar category had better look to their laurels. Both Johnny and Norm have done a great amount of work moulding this team together and they both intend riding up a winner in this series. However, we have the idea that Sandy doesn't agree with this line of reasoning and will do his utmost to upset the Reid-Larter plans.

Tonight's winner will have a big edge in this series. The loser will be put strictly on the spot. Neither team wants this to happen and as a result they will give it all they've got tonight.

How To Register

SANDY seems determined to register senior this season. Last season he followed the intermediate trail, won Maritime honors but was anything but happy when the end came. The competition was anything but good and folks stayed away in great numbers from the games. This season's Island senior winner goes against the Cape Breton winner and the survivor of that series tackles the Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League Champions. There is a good possibility of some bangup games in these playoffs.

The Hawks seem undecided as to where they will register. We understand there is a strong possibility that they'll go Intermediate 'A'. If they do they'll be engaged in Island playdowns with other intermediate 'A' clubs. The survivors of the Island series will meet New Brunswick and Nova Scotia who play Nova Scotia for the three-province crown. However, we still think that Hawks would like to battle Sandy's Royals in playoff hockey. That urge is there and there is a strong possibility the two will get themselves into the same bracket. If they do, then the rink should surely be packed when they tangle for the right to advance along the Maritime trail.

The hockey picture may have looked a bit sick around Charlottetown a short time ago but right now things have taken a decided turn for the better.

Get in on the fun. Be at the Forum tonight.

Residents of King's County are reminded of the hockey clinic tonight at Souris Regional High School at 6.30.

Instructors will be Dave Boswell, director physical education and Brian Lewis, referee-in-chief of The Charlottetown Minor Hockey Association.

Anyone interested is invited to attend this clinic.

A men's senior bonspiel, 50 years and over, is scheduled for Belvedere Golf and Winter Club beginning next Monday.

It is expected the affair will conclude on Tuesday. A trophy and individual prizes are donated by Story Electric. Runners-up will receive prizes from Prince Edward Island Curling Association.

Legionaires-Eagles Promise Much

This weekend will feature an interesting home and home series between the Summerside Junior Legionaires and the local RCAF Eagles, the first game to be played at Civic Stadium on Saturday afternoon, and the return game at the airport rink on Sunday afternoon. "We hope O'Leary won't beat those Juniors Wednesday night," One RCAF player said, "because we want to be the first to lay them low, and you can take it from me, we'll do it twice during the week-end, in two straight games." Another airforce chap put a Cassius Clay flavor on it when he said: "We'll beat them by two goals in Summerside and by six goals at the station." The Junior Legionaires jeered at these prophecies, "When we're going by them, all they'll see is a blur," one young fellow said. "That red light behind their net is going to look like a traffic light, it'll be turning red so often," said another. "Well, somebody's going to have to eat crow, that's for sure. The two teams are similar in one respect. They're fast and elusive, and not particularly noted for hard checks --if you forget "Toy-Toy" Gallant for a moment. The game should be the wide open variety, with the teams going hell-for-leather both ways. The only prediction we care to make is that they're bound to be crowd-pleasing encounters. . . . . .

Me And My Shadow Is Theme Song

The theme song down here is Summerside of late is "me and my shadow"—and the shadow is the two o'clock variety. Chins and cheeks are going into hibernation for the winter. We understand prizes in this contest will be given for artistic design and velvet texture. We think there should be another goal to shoot at. For example, they give prizes in ice sports not only for fancy skating but also for speed skating. In line with this idea we'll give a prize for anyone who can grow a beard so long that he can tuck it into his belt and tie a knot. Also, how about a "rookie of the year award?" A prize for the best beard grown by a youth under 18 years of age. There are endless possibilities.

Twice already the Borden Nationals have taken a game from O'Leary Maroons with only seconds remaining in the contest. Reminds us of last year when Parkdale Royals beat our Combines twice in play-off games in sudden-death overtime. Not too often does Lady Luck throw herself at a team in that fashion.

Fast-Skating Russian Team Beats Olympic Squad 8-1

MOSCOW (CP-AP)—The fast-skating, smooth - passing Russian Olympic hockey team trounced Canada's young Olympic squad 8-1 Wednesday night in an exhibition game.

About 15,000 Muscovites at the Sports Palace howled approval as the hard-working but outclassed Canadians were overwhelmed. Only a second-period goal by Marshall (Hayseed) Johnston kept the Canadians from being blanked.

The Canadians arrived here by air during the day and seemed to show the effect of their long flight. However, Rev. David Bauer, their coach, offered no excuses for the crushing defeat.

Father Bauer, who teaches at the University of British Columbia, said: "When you are beaten 8-1 there's nothing much you can say.

MANY WEAK SPOTS

"The Russians were better. We were weak in all departments, except maybe goal."

The goalkeeper, Seth Martin of Trail, B.C., was the only Canadian to gain enthusiastic cheers from the Russians—a partisan crowd which roared whenever its side scored but gave only a few desultory cheers when Johnston, of Birch Hills, Sask., got the Canadians' goal.

The score at the end of the first period was 3-0. It was 5-1 at the end of the second.

The Sports Palace rink is more than 12 feet wider than most Canadian rinks. Canadian rinks are usually 85 feet wide and 200 feet long. European rinks are 97½ feet wide and 200 feet long.

Terry O'Malley, Terry Clancy and Gary Begg did not play in this game.

REMATCH FRIDAY

Father Bauer said he hoped the team would do better when it faces the Russians again Friday.

"I'm not going to make any excuses for tonight," Bauer said, "and I'm not going to say anything to take any of the glory off the Soviet win. Our men are young men and this is a good experience for Innsbruck."

Canadian observers who have seen the Soviet team play in North America the last two winters generally rate it as the Olympic favorite. The Olympics open at Innsbruck, Austria, Jan. 27.

The Canadians now are midway in a 10-game European tour. The loss to the Russians was their first of the tour, on which they have won three and tied one.

In West Germany, the Canadians defeated E. V. Fuessen twice, 9-5 and 4-1, and downed Mannheim 13-0. They were hard pressed to gain a 4-4 tie Monday night in Geneva against a team of Canadian pros and coaches who now perform in Europe.

Juniors Defeat O'Leary Maroons

SUMMERSIDE — Facing four to one deficit after two periods of play, the Junior Legionaires roared back in the final frame at Civic Stadium last night to outscore O'Leary six to two and edge the Maroons by the score of 7-6, thus preserving their unbeaten record in the Prince County Hockey League.

The period ended 1-all and was played at rather a slow pace. The action speeded up in the middle session, with the Maroons outhustling the Juniors and scoring three unanswered goals. The fine work of Perley MacNeill in the O'Leary net was a factor in keeping the Legion boys off the score sheet in this period. Two penalties to O'Leary one 32 seconds before the end of the second period and the other 34 seconds after the third period had started opened the flood gates for the Legionaires and they had scored three goals and were back on even terms with the Maroons after slightly more than three minutes had been played. O'Leary went ahead briefly with a single counter, but Juniors scored three more to take a two-goal lead before O'Leary ended the scoring with a minute to go in the game.

The scoring was well distributed, only George Bernard of O'Leary scoring two goals. Merrill Cameron was pulled down from behind as he neared the Junior cage at the 2.25 mark in the final frame, but failed to score on the penalty shot awarded him. 11 minor penalties were handed out by referees Mathews and Gravelle, Juniors getting six.

Souris League Is Reopened

SOURIS — After a lapse of 13 years, the Souris Town Hockey League was revived last night with the Beavers downing the Teddies 6-3. The third team in the loop, the Vics is coached by Art Peters, Jr.

Scoring for the William Acorn-coached Beavers were L. Paquet 2, B. Jennings, J. Cox, Carl Peters and B. MacLaren. Blinking the light for Henry Larter's Teddies were R. Jenkins, W. Soloman and J. Chevrie.

Referee George Paton called 12 penalties, eight to the winners.

Along with the revival of the town loop is the fact the 35-year-old Tip Top Tailor trophy which was donated to the original league will be given to the winning team this year.

Prince Street Has Ice Sports

Prince Street School presented their 38th annual Ice Sports before a large crowd of fans at the Charlottetown Forum last evening.

The highlight of the evening's entertainment was the visit to the rink of the famed Bonhomme Carnaval, the famous spirit of Quebec's Winter Carnival.

The colorful snowman's appearance delighted the large contingent of children who cheered as he led the Centennial Parade around the ice and then shook hands with some of the younger fry.

The main event on the program was the hockey match between Prince Street School and West Kent School. The West Kent boys had too much scoring power for their rivals and skated off with a 6-0 victory.

David Roberts scored twice to lead his team to victory while Jim Andrew, Tommy Irwin, Gordie Beck and Billie Stavert added singles. Goalie Paul Morris had an easy time of it as he recorded his shutout.

Following are the officials:

New York Rangers Defeat Toronto Maple Leafs 5-4

By TOM WILLIAMS

TORONTO (CP)—New York Rangers piled up a 5-1 lead in two periods, then held on to defeat Toronto Maple Leafs 5-4 here Wednesday night as Leafs staged a tremendous rally in the third period. Leafs lost a chance to take over second place in the National Hockey League, while Rangers remained in fifth place.

The Rangers, now five points behind fourth-place Detroit Red Wings, stormed all over the Leafs in the first two periods. The Toronto club, normally a heavy-checking crew, seemed reluctant to body check against the swift New Yorkers and time and again the Rangers were left unguarded in front of the Toronto nets.

The tide turned completely in the third period, with Leafs roaring in the attack and the Rangers appearing to tire. Toronto removed goaltender Don Simmons in the dying seconds but could not get the tying goal.

Vic Hadfield and Don McKenney gave Rangers a 2-0 lead in the first period. Rod Gilbert, defenceman Al Langlois and Earl Ingarfield made it 5-0 in the second before Jim Pappin scored for Toronto.

GOT SECOND

Pappin added his second goal in the third, sandwiched between markers by Frank Mahovlich and Bob Pulford.

Montreal Canadiens, tied with Toronto in second place, three points behind Chicago Black Hawks, meet the Hawks tonight in Montreal.

First period—1. New York Hadfield 11 (Bathgate, Cahan) 0:35; 2. New York, McKenney 6 (Bathgate) 13:58. Penalties—Cahan 4:42 and 15:23.

Second period—3. New York, Gilbert 15 (Henry, Goyette) 2:09; 4. New York, Langlois 4 (Bathgate, Howell) 5:45; 5. New York, Ingarfield 9 (Howell, Langlois) 14:39; 6 Toronto, Pappin 7 (Shack, Kelly) 16:40. Penalties — Baun 5:06, Mahovlich 12:22.

Third period—7. Toronto, Mahovlich 18 (Pappin) 1:30; 8. Toronto, Pappin 8 (Duff, Keon) 4:33; 9. Toronto, Pulford 11 8:25. Penalties — Brewer 7:36, Baun 16:53.
