Education of Girls

The status of woman in society is conditional upon the civilization of the age and country in which she lives.

Of course the sphere of the woman is necessarily different from that of the man. But the notion that her sphere is merely domestic is untenable.

But it is a great mistake to act in respect to the education of girls on the assumption that the woman's only object is matrimony, and her only educational requirement a practical knowledge of household economy.

Therefore we must, in justice to the women of the future, see to it that the girls are carefully instructed first in the care and management of the household, and then in those more difficult branches of education which will fit them for the position they must fill in society.

Aside from this, the rearing of children is the most sacred trust of a mother. The first object lessons received by the child are indelibly imprinted upon its mind.

But there are two requisites in the teacher. One is the possession of knowledge, the other is the ability to impart that knowledge to others.

Duties Collected.

The duty collected in Canada by countries, for the last two years is as follows:

Notes and Comments.

—One of the alleged causes of the increased majorities of the Conservative candidates in the Ontario by-elections is the withdrawal of the active influence of the Grand Trunk Railway Company.

—Abbas, Khedive of Egypt, is a mere strapping in years, but he is wise in his generation. He refuses to accept the Sultan's invitation to come into his parlor and get a nice little firm that his Turkish Majesty has already for him.

Ceremonial Worship—A Review.

There has been in these latter days a great deal of controversy about rites and ceremonies in the worship of God.

Mr. Simpson deals first with the objections to ceremonial worship. The objection that it is "unscriptural" is met by him in this way. He asks:—

"Was there ever a more ceremonial worship than that prescribed by Almighty God for the Jewish Church? What is the meaning of all those directions given to Moses in the last sixteen chapters of Exodus?"

Then he points out that— "Jesus Christ was a consistent attendant at the ritualistic services of the Temple, where there were lights, and vestments, and incense, and chanting, and yet we hear never one word from His lips in condemnation of them."

The second objection, that ceremonial worship is not sanctioned by our Reformed Church, is answered by reference to the rubric immediately following the order of Morning Prayer which directs that—

"Such ornaments of the Church, and of the ministers thereof, at all times of their ministrations, shall be retained, and be in use, as were in this Church of England by the authority of Parliament, in the second year of the reign of Edward VI."

And Mr. Simpson says:— "There is abundant evidence to show that these ornaments include all kinds of vestments, crosses, candlesticks, &c."

In reply to the objection that ritualism is un-English, Mr. Simpson cites the elaborate ceremonies required in English social life by etiquette; the pomp and splendor which surround the throne—

"In respect to the objection that 'Ritualism is formalism,' Mr. Simpson asks:— 'If you make a formal call on a friend, does that show that you do not care for him? Is the sentence of an English Judge, who wears purple and ermine and a flowing wig, certain to be less righteous than that of an American Judge who wears no robes at all? Is there nothing spiritual in the worship of the Saints and Angels in heaven, because they prostrate themselves and cast down their crowns, and utter continually the same short cry of Holy, Holy, Holy?'"

And in respect to the objection that ceremonialism is Popery, Mr. Simpson admits that ceremonial is also employed by the clergy of the Greek Church and of the Armenian, the clergy of Abyssinia and of Protestant Norway, the chaplains of the Freemasons and the Oddfellows; and it would be just as sensible to refuse to eat bread and butter because the Romanists eat it, as to reject all that is outwardly beautiful in Divine worship only because they use certain forms and ceremonies in their services."

Concerning "the meaning of the Church's ritual system," Mr. Simpson says: "We find it is to perform three duties: It is, firstly, an offering to God; secondly, it teaches God's truth; and thirdly, it stirs up the heart's devotion"; and he treats of those duties at some length.

If the pamphlet should have the effect of producing a better understanding and a more kindly feeling between the disputants about ritual in religion, its effect will be beneficial. Mr. Simpson evidently has the courage of his opinions,—evidently thinks that he is right. On the other hand, we suppose that he will admit that an elaborate ritual in public worship which has the effect of elevating his mind and enabling him to worship in "spirit and in truth" might have a contrary effect upon a person differently constituted and differently trained and educated.

For OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Lyr

East vs. West.

AFTER AN EXCITING AND HOTLY CONTESTED GAME, 'EAST' WINS, 4 TO 3.

The Hillsborough Skating Rink was comfortably filled last evening, with spectators to witness the grand hockey match advertised to take place between representatives from the eastern and western sections of the city.

The game was a hotly contested one, and the exhibition of hockey given last evening was certainly as good, if not better, than anything of the kind we have witnessed heretofore. The spectators were generous in their demonstrations, and every specially brilliant play was liberally applauded.

At 8:20 the teams lined out, the West defending the southern goal. The players and their position were as follows:—

EAST. Goal—T. D. Rogers. Point—A. S. Ughart. Cover-point—H. D. Johnson, (Capt.) Forwards—F. W. L. Moore, J. A. Moore, Goo Rogers, S. C. Moore.

WEST. Goal—J. B. Dawson. Point—W. A. Weeks. Cover-point—J. P. Randle, (Capt.) Forwards—N. J. Randle, A. W. Weeks, A. Sanders, C. Weeks.

After a slight scrimmage for possession of the puck, or rubber, it was sent towards the northern goal, but soon returned. Both sides started in with a vim and dash, as both were anxious to win the initial game.

At 8:35 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

At 9:05 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

At 9:15 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

At 9:25 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

At 9:35 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

At 9:45 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

At 9:55 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

At 10:05 Dr. Johnson got the rubber and after a lively tussle sent it through the West goal. The West was again started. After a few minutes' play, the Eastern captain again sent the rubber through for a goal. Things began to look blue for the West.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

The Reciprocity Mission

Return of the Commissioners.

Traitorous Pens at Work.

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.

Sir John Thompson, Hon. Mr. Foster and Hon. Mr. Bovee have returned from Washington. They were besieged on their arrival by a crowd of newspaper men, but refused to say a word about the mission.

The gentleman who accompanied the ministers to the American capital said that evidence was forthcoming that the alleged Washington despatches which had appeared in the Globe and other Grit newspapers, in which the objects of the delegates were portrayed in the worst light, were written by Canadian pens.

The Bale des Chaleurs Job.

MONTREAL, Feb. 18.

The report of the Bale des Chaleurs commission is now before the public. Judge Jette whitewashes not only Mercier, but Charles Langelier and the whole gang of boodlers. He admits, however, that the transaction between Pousad and Armstrong cannot be defended.

The snowstorm which began yesterday in Wales and the Highlands of Scotland has become general throughout the country. The snowfall since Sunday was heavier than all the others during the winter and the weather is intensely cold.

Judicial Appointment.

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.

Orangemen in Council.

At the 31st annual session of the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge, held in the Orange Hall, corner of Prince and Kent Streets, on Tuesday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Grand Master—J. H. Ball, Ch'town (re-elected). Deputy G. M.—M. Matheson, Bradshaw (re-elected). J. D. G. M.—J. J. Bothune, Rose Valley (re-elected). G. Chaplain—Paul McPhail, West River (re-elected). G. Secretary—Murdoch McLeod, Milton (re-elected). G. Treasurer—Joseph W. Milton, G. D. of C.—H. Craswell, Charlottetown. G. Lecturer—Angus Beaton, Brookfield. Assistant G. Secretary—A. Ross, Bradshaw.

Deputy Grand Chaplains—W. Henderson, North Wiltshire; M. McLeod, Long Creek; J. T. McLeod, Darlington; C. Moore, Crispad; Fred. Wise, Milton; D. W. Henderson, North Wiltshire; Theo. Anken, Duncan McNeill, Charlottetown.

The reports of the Grand Master, Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer showed the order to be in a healthy condition—financially and otherwise. Two new lodges were organized during the year—one at Victoria West and the other at Eldon. The different lodges visited during the year were found to be in a flourishing condition.

The attention of members of the order was called to the Prince Edward Island Hospital, and a strong appeal was made on behalf of that institution.

After the transaction of some other business the meeting adjourned and the brethren were entertained at the residence of Grand Master Bell.

TEA!

OUR TEA TRADE IS BOOMING!

DURING the Months of November and December our Tea trade increased so much that we had to send an order to London for another supply, in order to keep us going till we receive our Spring stock. We attribute this large increase to the fact that we offered the best value in Teas on P. E. Island, and they gave them a fair trial and were convinced that what we stated was true.

We won't sell you any Tea that we cannot warrant!
