DINNER DATE

Vacation Winners Tour Miami Beach Hot Spots

This could be relaxation day for the six winners of the Guardian and Evening Patriot vacation tour. They are free from organized activities until dinner tonight.

Chilly winds may be the lot of Islanders but the six contestants can sun-bathe, swim in the St. Moritz private pool, or the ocean, or perhaps indulge in a shopping tour, that occupation so dear to feminine hearts.

After dinner, an exciting night club tour is arranged where they will see famous personalities and the lavish revues that are currently appearing in the finest supper clubs in Miami Beach.

Following a midnight supper at one of these clubs, the winners, Mrs. Kenneth Burke, Fortune Bridge; Mrs. Clayton Crosby, Crapaud; Mrs. George Ives, Charlottetown; Mrs. Reginald MacFayden, Long Creek; Mrs. Ernest Machon, Murray Harbor; and Mrs. Evelyn Simpson, Hamilton, accompanied of course by their escort and chaperon, W.A. Farrell, the newspaper's circulation manager, will return to the hotel for a good night's sleep in preparation for a big day tomorrow.

Household Hints

When comparing meat prices, be sure to take into consideration the amount of inedible parts, the weight that will be lost in cooking and the protein content of the ready-to-eat mesat.

A finishing touch for drapery hardware: paint it to match wood trim or walls, using scrap of the wall or trim paint. Keep paint out of inside of rods, however.

An easy way to toss a salad is to put an oiled silk or plastic bowl cover over the salad bowl and really toss it.

When dusting, always begin high and work down. That way, any falling dust will be gathered up as you work down and redusting is avoided.

To remove an egg stain from fabric, try sprinkling salt on the spot immediately. Then soak in cold water before washing.

IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Keep Up With Progress In Food, Be Adventurous

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"Ah, Quel parfum!"

The Chef breathed deep of the fragrant air as he savored in advance the lusciousness of the grapes ripe in the vineyard.

"A pound of such beautiful grapes is a good serving," he remarked. "That's how many calories, Madame?"

"It varies from 248 to 292 calories per pound", I said. "The sweetest grapes have the most calories."

"Then half a pound would be allowable for dessert, Madame?"

FOR DIETERS

"Yes and, on a slimming diet, ¾ pound or a small bunch would be right. 20 to 24 grapes rate about 70 calories."

"I understand we can count on a large supply of table varieties of grapes this year, because the harvest is a third larger than usual," the Chef noted. "Most of these come from California, Arizona and the state of Washington.

"The slip-skin grapes grown in the Midwest and the East are plentiful, too, but the big volume is made up of the western grapes such as Thompson seedless, Cardinals, Tokays and Red Malagas."

MR. AND MRS. EUSTACE C. HUNTER

Honeymoon In Maritimes Follows Burlington Vows

St. Stephen's Church, Burlington was the scene of a ceremony uniting Joyce Annabelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Harrington, Spring Valley, and Eustace Carl, son of Mrs. Eustace Hunter and the late Mr. Hunter of Indian River.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A.E. Piercey of Milton.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Roy Easter who accompanied the soloist, Gerritte Loo as he sang "O Promise Me", prior to the ceremony, and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The church was decorated with gladioli and sweet peas, and the guest pews were marked with white orchids and white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was radiant in her floor length gown of white peau de soie. Appliqued with Alencon lace, the bodice was fashioned with a scooped neckline accented with sequins and pearl. The lace also trimmed the bouffant skirt finished with a bow at the back. Her coronet veil fell gracefully from a small pillbox of peau de soie and pearls, and she carried a cascade of red sweetheart roses with white Shasta daisies. Her only jewelery was a pearl drop, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Wayne Harrington, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor with a fitted dress of Romance Blue brocade, she wore a white veiled hat matching shoes and gloves, and carried a cascade of white and yellow Shasta daisies.

Darlyene Harrington, sister of the bride, and Pauline Hunter, sister of the groom, as junior bridesmaids, wore yellow brocade dresses with white accessories, and carried cascade bouquets of blue and white Shasta daisies.

James Hunter, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Ronnie MacKenzie cousin of the groom, and Wayne Harrington, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Harrington chose a green organza jacket dress and gold accessories for her daughter's wedding, and she wore a corsage of tangerine carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hunter, wore a dress of cranberry red brocade with beige accessories, and her corsage was gold and green carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the community hall for 50 guests when the bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, baked and decorated by Mrs. Ivan Pickering, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Piercey asked the blessing and Harry Sudsbury, uncle of the bride, propsed a toast to the ladies of St. Stephen's WA who served.

A telegram was read by the best man from Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hunter, Calgary.

Miss Irma Moore circulated the guest book.

For a motor tour of the Cabot Trail and other points in the Maritimes, the bride wore a yellow and white linen suit with white accessories and a corsage of carnations.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter, and Mr. Gordon Peake, Jr., Moncton; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie MacKenzie and Mr. and Mrs. David MacDonald, Maine, U.S.A.; Rev. and Mrs. Johnson, Lot 16, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robblee, Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington are residing at Indian River where the groom is engaged in farming. Mrs. Hunter is on the staff of Seeman Bros. Lab., New Annan.

The meetings are being held privately in Oxfordshire and London and results will be disclosed next week.

Earlier Old Age Pension Sought By Liberal Women

By BRENDA LARGE

OTTAWA (CP) — Old-age assistance to needy women at age 60 instead of the present 65 years was urged in a resolution passed by the Canadian Women's Liberal Federation.

The payment would be subject to a means test, as is the case with the current $65 monthly whose cost is shared by the federal and provincial governments.

The resolution, which some delegates thought interfered in a provincial matter, was referred to provincial women's Liberal organizations for further study.

It was among a number of resolutions passed on the final day of the three-day national convention which also heard Citizenship Minister Favreau advocate greater active participation of women in forming of Liberal party policy.

Mr. Favreau said he suspected that the respective constitutions of the National Liberal Federation and the women's federation contained the explanation for the complete separation of the two groups.

"This situation must be remedied and it is urgent that all those of us who have at heart the Liberal cause get together and find the solution."

MUST NOT IGNORE CRISIS

Dealing with biculturalism, the minister said it is danger ous to ignore the present "crisis of Confederation."

Mr. Favreau spoke to a crowded luncheon meeting of the convention, which elected Mrs. J. O. Asselin of Westmount as the first national president from Quebec in the 35-year-old history of the organization.

Divorce and bankruptcy laws and the SIU were subjects of other resolutions passed in the closing hours of the convention.

The Winnipeg South women's Liberal organization gained support for a resolution saying a person should be allowed to file for divorce under three conditions:

Proven adultery, desertion for a period of three years immediately before the time of filing petition, and in marriages where either partner is judged to be incurably insane and is continuously confined to a mental institution.

A resolution dealing with the Canada Bankruptcy Act suggested that many innocent persons suffer hardship in cases of fraudulent bankruptcy and are unable, because of their financial difficulties, to prosecute.

The resolution, carried unanimously, said the justice department should be asked to consider amendments to the Bankruptcy Act to provide for a public prosecutor if necessary.

The manner in which the federal government handled the walkout of the Seafarers' International Union was commended in a Winnipeg resolution approved by the Liberal women.

Among those women presented with honorary life memberships were Mrs. Lester B. Pearson, Mrs. Mark Badcock, St. John's, Nfld.; Mrs. John M. Rattenbury, Charlottetown; Mrs. J. E. Aheern, Halifax; Miss H. Del. McAuley, Moncton and Mrs. Maurice Cormier, Montreal.

WOULD DROP HISTORY

TORONTO (CP)—Dean John T. Sayer of York University says history should be eliminated from elementary schools and teachers should drop their requests for salary increases and ask for shorter hours and shorter school years. Addressing the history section of the Ontario Education Association during the weekend, Mr. Sayer said history periods would be better spent training students "to read and understand."

The Beauharnois Scandal

The most humiliating political experience of the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King was "the Beauharnois Scandal." This was the only time in his life that he was personally implicated in a scheme that came to be regarded as a mammoth swindle. The scandal and King's reaction to it are described this week in the third of four excerpts in Weekend Magazine's presentation of the new volume of the Mackenzie King biography by H. Blair Neatby.
