JOHNS-MANVILLE
"IT AIN'T NO USE TO GRUMBLE . . ."
 James Whitcomb Riley wrote: "It ain't no use to grumble and complain, it's just as cheap and easy to rejoice; When he sorts out the weather and sends rain, Why, rain's my choice!"
 Good outdoor sentiment of course. But that's no reason your home should be uncomfortable cold in winter and insufferably hot in summer. Johns-Manville Rock Wool Home Insulation works the whole year round to combat the weather and maintain healthful uniform temperatures in your home.
 In winter, it keeps you cozy warm, and cuts your fuel costs as much as 30%. In summer a house insulated with J-M Rock Wool remains up to 15 degrees cooler. And this insulation is absolutely fireproof! For complete details write Canadian Johns-Manville, Sun Life Bldg., Montreal, or see your nearest J-M dealer.

Returns From Training Cruise

Back from a two and one half week training period which saw him take part in the recent visit of the Canadian ships to New York, Lieutenant-Commander C. A. Binmore arrived home in Charlottetown Saturday night after having a re-introduction to life on the high seas.
 The First Lieutenant of the H. M. C.S. Queen Charlotte was one of the officers of the frigate Swansea which visited New York with the magnificent and the destroyer Micmac. The Swansea pulled out of Halifax on April 5 to join the other ships of Antucket Island before entering the American port.

In an interview last night Lieutenant-Commander Binmore expressed his enthusiasm about the welcome the Canadian sailors received in New York. Throngs assembled at the docks to greet them and thousands of Americans came aboard the ships as visitors.
 The American Navy proved itself a top notch host, he stated. Tickets to shows, radio broadcasts, operas, ice skating shows and other events were supplied the visiting seamen. Tours of the big City were provided and several tours of the Empire State Building were given.
 One of the big attractions for the boys was the Ringling Brothers Circus at Madison Square Garden. The Metropolitan Opera provided entertainment for others and most viewed the colorful Easter Parade along Fifth Avenue of the City.

Several other Island boys were among the Canadians who visited New York. On the Swansea with Lt.-Cmdr. Binmore was Sub-Lt. John Hodgson of Charlottetown. Another Charlottetown boy, Sub Lt. Kenneth MacKenzie was aboard the Micmac.
 Lt.-Cmdr. Binmore is a veteran of the last war, serving in both the Canadian and British Navy. He had sea time with the two Canadian destroyers, Annapolis and St. Laurent. With the British Navy he served on the Enchantress, Eves and the frigate New Waterford.

Since the war he has been a member of the Reserve Branch in Charlottetown. He has had three Naval training courses as a member of the Reserve, the first being in Bermuda waters aboard the Haida two years ago and last year a three weeks course at Halifax. In civilian life he is an accountant at the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Three Women Killed On Railway Crossing

WELLAND, Ont., April 23—(CP)—Three women were killed today when their truck collided with a New York Central train at a level crossing here. Police said the railway gateman, Melvin Yaeger, has been charged with manslaughter.
 Dead are Mrs. Alex Sheputenko, 36, Mrs. Raymond Motolanec, 51, and Mrs. Harry Koroway, 50. Driver of the truck, Harry Koroway was taken to hospital with facial lacerations and a fractured arm. All were residents of the Welland district.
 Police Chief William Wright said Yaeger was arrested and charged when witnesses said the gates of the crossing were not lowered at the time of the collision. He was released on $2,000 bail.
 Witnesses said the truck almost had cleared the crossing when the New York-bound train struck it.

Claim Wrong Hero Honored For Saving Child

NEW YORK, April 23 — (AP)—And now a sequel to the story of the heroic rescue Saturday of two-year-old Judith Meyer after a five-story fall from a window.

It was heroic, all right. But, the neighbors said today, the cops just got the wrong hero.
 The cops weren't concerned. Judith was all right—safe at home with only a few scratches and bruises.

But the neighbors wanted it known that Alfred Foschino, who was quoted and photographed extensively as the man who caught the baby in his arms, did no such thing.

Instead, said witness after witness, it was Morris Diamond, a tenant in the same building as Judith, who jumped up from a nearby bench, and, shoved by his horrified wife, got into position and caught the baby.

Mrs. Diamond said all Foschino did was stand outside the hedge around the building and shout at the two-year-old: "Hold on—crawl back!"
 Diamond said he took the child to hospital, and when her parents arrived he left.

"I figured I wasn't needed," he added.
 Meanwhile, Foschino was telling reporters and cops how he had caught the baby. He was persuaded to go to the hospital and meet the happy parents.
 Foschino, his neighbors said, was out of town today.

Vegetable products, principally seed potatoes to the United States show an increase of approximately forty per cent in tonnage handled over the region.

More than 1,000 delegates, meeting at the Scottish National Assembly, cheered as the proposal was approved and applauded again when speakers threatened "further action" if the Government in London refuses to negotiate. The assembly wants legislation to allow Scotland to deal in her own Parliament with purely Scottish affairs.

Sudden Death Saturday Of Mr. Henry Laphorn

Mr. Henry Laphorn, 76, well known business man and former City Councillor died in his sleep at his home at 52 Longworth Avenue early Saturday morning. Previous to his death he had been in good health without any indication of illness.

Born in Montreal, Mr. Laphorn made many associations here through the soap manufacturing industry and insurance business. He also became prominent in civic affairs, serving three terms in the City Council from 1926 continuously until 1942. During the early part of his life he was associated with the soap manufacturing industry which was located in the building on Weymouth Street which was later occupied by the old P.E. Island Egg and Poultry Co-operative organization. Mr. Laphorn's father had carried on this soap manufacturing business for years and the son followed in his footsteps.

He was in that business until he went with the North American Life Assurance Company some forty-two years ago before he retired some five years ago.

He was deeply interested in the work of the church, and was for many years a member of St. James Presbyterian Church here and served for many of those years as a member of the Board of Trustees.

He was connected with a number of fraternal organizations including Victoria Lodge A. F. and A. M., Wildey Lodge I. O. O. F. and the Sons of England. He was active and keenly interested in the affairs of these organizations and always contributed much to the betterment of them.

Mr. Laphorn is survived by his wife, the former Beatrice MacNeill of Charlottetown and one son, Harry, who lives in Moncton. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Angus Cameron of Charlottetown and Mrs. Jack Kennedy, Port Angeles, Washington.

Slight Increase In U. S. Cost-of-Living

WASHINGTON, April 23 — (AP)—The Federal Government Saturday reported a slight rise in living costs, chiefly due to higher food prices.

The living cost boost was three-tenths of one per cent in March. Foods went up six-tenths of one per cent, after having declined for three straight months.

The latest government living cost index, put out by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, is 1.5 per cent lower than a year ago. It is 25 per cent higher than in June 1946 when wartime price controls were relaxed and 69 per cent above the pre-war level.
 The index for March was 167 per cent of the 1935-39 average, which is considered a base period.

Strikers Refuse To Listen To Union

LONDON, April 23 — (AP)—London's striking dock workers today defied their union boss and threatened to extend their wildcat walkout because the union leader refused even to consider the conditions on which the strikers said they would return to work.

The Labor Government has officially called the strike Communist-inspired. The strikers say that's not so. Official figures show 7,931 men have quit work, leaving 39 ships idle and eight others undermanned with stevedores, blocking delivery of badly-needed foodstuffs.

ADMIT DEFEAT

 There was no fresh news of fighting on Hainan.
 The grim tidings, coming on top of false Nationalist claims of a great defensive victory Friday, had a depressing effect in Taipei, capital of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's regime.
 Embarrassed Nationalist officials conferred for hours before deciding on the texts of retractions admitting that a proclaimed "victory" was actually a defeat.
 There are three current theories for the original false report:

1. The Nationalists simply counted their chickens before they were hatched;
2. The Reds hoisted white flags as a ruse for which the Nationalists fell; and
3. The Hainan command deliberately put out the false news to prevent panic and enable leaders to flee.

Rich's dispatch from Samah on the south coast said there were reports in Nationalist circles that the Reds actually were encircled and pretended to surrender early Friday, then were joined Friday night by 2,500 local guerrillas and broke loose for their last 25-mile push to Hainan.

He also reported, however, that he flew over the scene of supposed "battle" where the Nationalists had said Communist corpses were piled, and saw nothing to indicate a fight.

Without Hainan the Nationalists' entire holdings will be reduced to islands totalling a little more than 14,000 square miles:
 Formosa, Chusan, Chinsen and a few tinier ones.

BRIDGES, ROADS

was a link on the Matapedia-Gaspé line. An ice jam also formed in the Matapedia River near Atholville, creating another danger threat.

Loss of the two-span and three-span wooden highway bridges at Plaster Rock and Arthurville occurred Saturday afternoon after a jam broke in the Tobique River. Raging flood water then rushed downstream at a 30-mile-an-hour clip, carrying along ice two feet thick. Water covered the railway yards at Plaster Rock to a depth of three feet but did not rise to the floor of the station. Pulwood, other logs and debris were left scattered about the area. The Tobique flood was subsiding tonight.

Telephone wires went out with the Athurette Bridge, leaving the community without telephone service for more than five hours. The only remaining way of crossing the river in that district was by means of a railway bridge two miles below the town.
 Loss at Plaster Rock included a new conveyor of the Fraser companies and 10 or more piers used for booming logs.

Near Peak

The St. John River level at Fredericton halted this afternoon after reaching 20.7 feet, the highest April mark in five years although it went to 22.1 feet in May, 1947. River observers thought the big stream was probably near its peak in the Fredericton area unless further heavy, warm rain falls.

Aside from a few ice cakes, the river ran clear past Fredericton today after a heavy run of crushed ice and debris from upstream. The debris included what appeared to be bridge wreckage, a barn and logs. Flooding of low areas in Fredericton had been caused mostly by rain water.
 Four members of the Devon Indian reservation near Fredericton were trapped on Savage Island, in the river, Friday night when ice started moving. They had set out to trap muskrat. The four men huddled in their boat, tied to a tree, and at daylight were able to return to the mainland, none the worse except for losing their traps.

Cattle Saved

The Ormocoto River, rising to its highest level in memory, swept away wood stacked in farm yards. Farmers worked feverishly to save livestock and cattle found salvation on the second floor of a new barn which, with a ramp, had been built in anticipation of high water. Two houses in the area were flooded.

Washing away of the Ormocoto River bridge left the community of Hoyt without power and telephone services when lines went with the bridge. The 40-year-old structure was swept one and a half miles downstream.
 Two other flooded areas were at Burts Corners, 25 miles northwest of Fredericton, and around St. George, in southern New Brunswick.

The overflowing Keswick River caused water to rise a foot above the railway tracks and station platform at Burts Corners. The flood began to recede yesterday.
 Three feet of water covered rails near St. George, on the bay shore line of the C. P. R., before recession started. Officials set out by boat to examine a railway bridge. A pulp mill at St. George will be idle tomorrow because of the high water, which also reached the windows of some summer cottages at Lake Utopia.
 Rising levels of the Bonny and Magaguadavic Rivers forced evacuation.

Indian Continues Fast To Death

QUEBEC, April 23 — (CP)— Jules Sioui, 43-year-old Huron who is on a hunger-strike to win the rights he claims for North American Indians, tonight reiterated his determination to fast until death unless Prime Minister St. Laurent personally visits him and signs a statement Sioui has prepared.
 The statement, mailed to the Prime Minister Feb. 8, calls for the return of Canada to the Indians.
 Sioui, who started his fast Feb. 22, tonight repeated in a telephone conversation in his soft, high-pitched voice, that he expects to die within 50 days.

Says U. S. Chief Target Of Kremlin

WASHINGTON, April 3 —(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson in an urgent plea for national unity, said Saturday night the United States is the Kremlin's chief target in a drive for "dominion over the entire world."
 "We are faced with a threat not only to our country but to the civilization in which we live," he declared.
 But, Acheson said, if all Americans unite to demonstrate a "burning and fighting faith" in freedom, they can "carry the free world forward to strength and security."
 The Secretary sounded that warning in a nationally-broadcast address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors at its closing session here.

Plenty Free Wine In Paris Saturday

PARIS, April 23 — (AP)—More than a thousand gallons of bright red wine poured down the gutters of thirsty Parisians and visiting foreigners on Montmartre Saturday — and the results were inevitable.
 The wine was distributed free by a society of Bordeaux wine makers who have been touring Paris during the last three days to introduce a new light-colored wine that matures fast and can be sold quickly without long aging.
 The great pouring started at 4 p.m. and was over by 8 p.m. In practically no time police ambulances were hauling away loads of men who no longer could walk or talk.
 The whole city was invited and a large part of it came. All that was required was a glass.
