Student Loan Proposal Backed By Queens MP
By FARMER TISSINGTON
Capital Bureau of The Guardian

OTTAWA — Support of the government for its student loan legislation was voiced in the Commons Thursday by Heath Macquarrie, MP for Queens. But Mr. Macquarrie expressed the hope that the legislation is only the first step in a list of other, more helpful and venturesome legislation in the important field of education.

He noted that in the years 1958 to 1963 federal government support to universities totalled $245 million.

"We cannot say that the federal government is not involved in education. Nor can we expect this country composed of provinces of such varying resources and so unequal in wealth, to ever see a situation where the demands upon the government will not become greater rather than diminish," Mr. Macquarrie said.

He said there was nothing more important to Canada than education today.

"We may want vast public works, we may want a lot of things, but if we do not have a highly trained group of young people to cope with the complexities of modern life in this highly advanced country, then we will have failed" the Queens' MP declared.

While he had taken on extra moonlighting jobs in order to complete his own university training, Mr. Macquarrie said he would not prescribe this as a recipe for all aspiring students.

"Therefore I commend the government for what has been done. But the government must do more," Mr. Macquarrie said. He suggested that many of the young people of Canada were becoming disillusioned and disturbed by the non-fulfilment of the present government's promises and he noted that the promised scholarship plan was important one that has not yet become a reality.

He told members that P.E.I. had two fine educational institutions in Prince of Wales College and St. Dunstan's University and their problems were similar, if not identical, to the problems of every institution of higher learning in Canada.

Accident Victim Name Released
Mrs. Vernon A. Swinamer, Windsor, N.S., was killed and her husband and two children seriously injured in Wednesday's two-car collision on the Trans-Canada Highway, near Cherry Valley.

Names of the persons involved in the noon crash that sent five ambulances speeding to the scene were released yesterday by RCMP.

Vernon A. Swinamer, presumed the driver of the Nova Scotia car, was seriously injured in the accident. He underwent surgery, but the extent of his injuries and his condition were not disclosed by hospital authorities.

The two children, David, age six to eight years, and Beverley, age eight to nine, are in good condition. David, the more seriously injured of the two, is believed suffering from multiple fractures, but he is improved today.

The driver of the other vehicle involved, Dan MacRae, 86, of Heatherdale, is in hospital with chest injuries. No details are available on his general condition.

All are patients at the Prince Edward Island Hospital.

RCMP are continuing their investigation of the accident, which occurred on a straight stretch of highway at 11:30 a.m.

IN MEMORIAM

CARR — In loving memory of our daughter, Lydia May Carr who passed away July 1, 1931. Also a dear son, William A. Carr, who passed away April 27, 1963.
Many a lonely heartache
Often a silent tear
But always a beautiful memory
Of the ones we loved so dear.
Lovingly remembered by
Mom. Dad, sister and brothers.

BRAZEL — In loving memory of Mr. Thomas Brazel, who died July 13th, 1963.
To part with him we loved so dear,
So quick, so quiet was the call,
His sudden death surprised us all.
A year has passed, our hearts are sore,
And as time goes on we miss him more.
Lovingly remembered by his wife, Marie.

HUNTER'S
10th. There were five in the family and I figured it was the brood I heard 'chirping' a week or so ago. I figured at the time that there were about four or five in the brood as there was no volume in the chirping chorus. Our Huns sure came to life this summer. The odd covey is able to take wing for short flights but the chicks are not much larger than feather puffs. There is one covey of 16 in the Winsloe district and another at Mount Albion. Three pairs of Huns are reported nesting in the Waterside section. Coveys of Huns are also reported in the Peakes-Fanningbrook areas.

Complaints are voiced about dogs running at large and running down and killing rabbits. A farmer told me this week about seeing a dog run down and catching a rabbit in a field at the rear of his farm. He told me he was surprised at seeing a dog run down and catch a rabbit in an open field. He watched the dog shake and pull the rabbit apart and hurried to the spot. The reason was quite apparent. The victim had been heavy with young as four fully matured unborn rabbits were lying on the ground at the spot where their mother had been pulled apart. There is just one specific medicine for dogs running at large at this season. . a full dose of No. 3 chilled shot. A mother rabbit carrying young is no match in a race with a dog in top running condition. Neither is the strongest trout able to fight its way out of a net. I got a hot tip that a marcy in the Dingwell's Mill area had a wash on full of trout ready for a customer on Sunday. They were netted on Saturday night, some in the four pound bracket, and when the customer failed to appear for the pick-up they spoiled and were dumped out on Monday morning. The 'bootlegging' of netted trout is more prevalent than most people are aware. For this scribes money the purchasers of such trout are just as guilty as the netter.
