SPECULATION IN WALL STREET.

Is always hazardous, and should never be entered upon by anyone who cannot afford a loss in event of one being sustained. On the other hand, the profits of speculation, when successful, are usually very great. Success or failure is largely a question of good judgement, guided by experience and proper information.

MOVEMENTS OF LORD ROBERTS

TWENTY-FIVE MILES FROM PRETORIA ON SATURDAY

No Direct News From Pretoria Since Thursday

Press Telegrams Again Held up—Reports From Boer Sources—Johannesburg Quiet—Imperial Yeomanry Attacked.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE EXAMINER.

LORD ROBERTS' REPORT.

LONDON, May 4.—Lord Roberts' heliograph: "Owing to the interruption of the telegraph lines, I only today received a report from Colonel Sprigg that his battalion of Imperial Yeomanry was attacked between Kroonstadt and Lindley on May 28th. The casualties to follow. "The shops in Johannesburg are being opened and there seems to be a general feeling of relief at the peaceful occupation of the town. "I received a report yesterday that four of the prisoners had escaped from Pretoria."

DELAYED NEWS.

LONDON, June 4.—There is no direct news from Pretoria of later date than Thursday.

General French's cavalry was then at Irene, eight miles south of Pretoria, and firing was heard there.

Lord Roberts' messages about secondary operations elsewhere and the situation at Johannesburg, dated Orange Grove, four miles northeast of Johannesburg show that, on Saturday, he was 25 miles from Pretoria.

The correspondents with Lord Roberts have not got through a line about the operations at Johannesburg.

Official messages continue to come through, but the press telegrams are held up, probably to prevent them giving a hint as to what may be the pending operations.

Some foreign attaches have arrived at Lorenzo Marques to communicate with their governments for orders to leave, as they consider that organized war on the Transvaal side is at an end.

Flying among the Boers are reports that the British have been beaten back at Lindley with heavy loss, that the main attack on Elandsfontein failed, and that Lord Roberts was forced to retire to Klipriviersberg, that the railway has been cut behind him, south of Verrening and that a provision train has been captured.

Without crediting any of these bulletins everything from a field of war behind Lord Roberts points to a grand effort last week to paralyze his advance by a bold stroke from the eastward at the railway north of Bloemfontein.

No less than four Boer columns were in a movement seemingly with this object. These were the operations.

Assuming them to have failed, the revival of the Boer fighting power east of Lord Roberts advances, although fruitless, is a symptom that the Boers are not yet crushed.

Johannesburg is quiet.

The people are surrendering their arms and ponies.

Only three Boer's guns were left in the fort.

Commandant Botha, of Zoutspaarberg, his field cornet, and a hundred prisoners were taken in the fighting around Johannesburg, some belonging to the foreign contingents and Irish Brigade. The 13th Yeomanry were attacked May 29, between Kroonstadt and Lindley. There were some casualties.
