

12. Wayne 15.5
13. Tocchet 10.7

Judging by these stats Wendel Clark is having a good season. I would like to see him at a +17 or something but before the trade, the Leafs were being scored on a lot, so this helps explain his only average -1 rating. He is getting a good amount of penalty minutes. You see if a player scores a lot of points and doesn't have about 100 minutes in penalties then I don't really get impressed. Wendel takes a lot of shots in his games and his shooting % is higher than a lot of excellent players. Wendel is averaging just over a point per game which is great. If Wendel's season ends early then I would like to thank him for a really entertaining season.

I'm really impressed by Messier's team, the Rangers. They kicked the Habs butts on March 17th. The Habs are a half decent team but there is no way on this Earth that they will win the cup. I'm glad to see that I am not the only one who thinks Flyers GM, Russ Farwell is a dork. Don Cherry and Stan Fischler have both made verbal shots at him.
