FLEETWOOD.

No. 31623—Record 2.30.

Fleetwood may be seen every market day at Connor's stables, Grafton street near the Fish Market. This horse is extremely fast, is bred from the best stock in Kentucky. He is a splendid carriage horse with the stamp and appearance of the English Thoroughbred. As a rule of handsome high-class harness horse he stands unrivalled in this Province. Mr. Angus Cameron of Clyde River says this Fleetwood foal one month old is the best he ever saw and Mr. Cameron has had some of the best ever raised in the island.

Mr. D. C. McKinley took Chestnut a few miles from Fleetwood to the St. John's Convention last fall and took first prize in a race defeating the famous Sande's horses of Maine which never were beaten in a Canadian show ring. Fleetwood's younger brother, doomed to a good will tell every time and Fleetwood is strictly just such "Chestnut".

THE DAILY EXAMINER

THE PATRIOT'S EXPLANATION.

In the Reid case, the Patriot explains that on—

"Saturday forenoon when Mr. Reid was delivering his speech in the House a minstrel band commenced to play in the square in front of the Provincial Building. In consequence of this, part of Mr. Reid's speech could not be heard, and at last he was obliged to take his seat until the music ceased. This part of his speech, scarcely a quarter of a column, together with some of the quotations, the Patriot subsequently secured from the hon. member."

Referring to the explanation, the Guardian remarks:—

"Since the Patriot admits that Mr. Reid did not deliver in the House the speech attributed to him in its report, it seems not necessary to make further comment on the matter."

We fail to see in the Patriot's explanation any admission that Mr. Reid did not deliver the speech as published. Indeed, the Patriot's explanation points to the conclusion that Mr. Reid did deliver the speech as published, and more than that, desired to have it published. The Guardian's charge against the Patriot must be false if the Patriot's explanation is true; and unless another explanation should come from Mr. Reid, the Guardian's denunciation of Mr. Reid must stand. Mr. Reid voted for the Ferguson License Law last year; what more natural than that he should defend it this year?

SAID AT OTTAWA.

Not even a general election will denigrate the Liberals that have been smirched by the Pineau deal.

The Prince Edward Island legislature has been prorogued. It looked for a time as if it was pro rogues.

Pineau says he was offered $250 to vote against the prohibition bill. Another illustration of the advantage of advertising in the papers.—Citizen.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The failure of the Democrats and Populists to carry the State of Oregon, is regarded as ominous for Bryan.

—Early June cheese sold in Charlottetown, this forenoon, at the meeting of the Cheese Board, at 9 1/2 cents per pound. A good price.

—Mr. Martin may lose another seat in Vancouver, for Mr. Wilson's friends have asked for a recount, and believe an impartial tally will elect him.

—Speaking in Ontario a few days ago Sir Charles Tupper said he was opposed to the Parliamentary federation of the Empire, and declared that the true bond of imperial union was the mutual interest and common aim.

—It is an awful picture, remarks the Montreal Gazette that is suggested by the famine stricken people of India being driven away from the relief camps by dread of cholera. It is a choice between death from disease and death from starvation. The government has a task as sorrowful at times as it is onerous always.

—The Montreal Gazette remarks that "it is not likely that Mr. Martin will resign the premiership until he is beaten in the House and no doubt he will try to patch up some combination in the Legislature to keep him in office, but unless the new Legislature is largely composed of Pineau, he cannot possibly succeed."

—The Montreal Gazette reports that fierce demands are being made by Liberal newspapers that the Manitoba school settlement shall be allowed to rest. There seems to be a dread among the faithful that the quality of the Laurier statesmanship involved in the "settlement" will not stand looking into.

—L'Impartial refers to Pineau's statement that he was offered $250 to vote against the Prohibition Bill, to Hon. Mr. Gordon's motion that a commission to enquire into the matter be appointed with power to send for persons, etc., and to the fact that the Government party—including Pineau of course—voted motion down, and adds: "Poor Pineau, the more you speak the more despicable you become in the eyes of the public."

—What, asks the Peterborough Review, do the Canadian people think of Tarte's friend, Mr. Bourassa, Liberal, M. P., after his speech in the House against the message congratulating Her Majesty on the success of the war in South Africa? Does it not strike all true Canadians that it is high time that the Government should send from among its members a man who has such friends and uses them at such a time and in such a way?

—Hugh John McDonald is abolishing Mr. Greenway's iniquitous franchise law under which partisans were sent out to hold registration courts and to "plug" the lists. In its stead, there are to be lists prepared by municipal officials, and based upon the assessment, except in cities and towns, where there is to be a manhood suffrage registration in addition to that drawn from the assessment rolls. This manhood suffrage registration is to be conducted by officers of the municipality in every case.

—The St. John Sun remarks that "the Canadian Pacific fast express, the Imperial Limited, bring Toronto within ninety-six hours of Vancouver. The fact illustrates the wonderful development of Canada. The country may now be crossed from the Atlantic to the Pacific in less than six days, and the journey made with a comfort approaching luxury. By the progressive statesmanship of Sir John Macdonald and those who labored with him, Canada has been made great, and its utmost bounds brought into close touch with each other."

—Mr. Poulteney Bigelow, the well known American writer, in an article on Pretoria, says: "In my mind's eye I have a vision of Pretoria ten years hence. It will be a city where all Afrikaners unite under the Union Jack to do for that great country what Canadian are doing at Ottawa, and Yankees at Washington. Even in the year of the Jameson raid (1896), Boers and British mixed socially at the Pretoria club; and, while there was much divergence of opinion on many matters, there was unanimity enough on certain vital questions to give me considerable confidence in a bright future for the united white races, Boer, Briton, Yankee and German. There were plenty of these, even in that year, who were heartily sick of Krugerism, much as they honoured the old man for his past services. Men of affairs, men who had money to invest, men who desired to grow up with the country—all men with progressive minds were displeased with the pretext put forth by the Krugers for keeping the country in a backward state. The modern Boer appreciates the necessity for liberal legislation quite as much as any Afrikaner, and when England shall have demonstrated beyond question that she not only can conquer all obstacles in South Africa, but means to remain the paramount power in that region, then, it is my belief, the best portion of the Boers will throw in their lot cheerfully with the new order of things, and be to the British flag as loyal as are the French of Montreal, or the Chinese of Wei-Hai-Wei."

The Law Society.

The annual meeting of the Law Society of Prince Edward Island will be held in the Law Library, in the Law Courts Building, on Monday, the 25th day of June inst., at eleven o'clock, a. m., for the election of officers and the transaction of other business. By order, F. L. HASZARD, Secretary.

AT PRETORIA.

The Canadian Regiments March Past. Mr. W. Richmond Smith sends a despatch to the Star dated Pretoria, June 5th, and says:

"I was present when Lord Roberts' troops made their triumphant entry into Pretoria on Tuesday, June 5. It fell to the lot of the Canadian Regiment to be included in the march past: the British Field Marshal and his staff, who were stationed in the square in front of the Parliament Buildings at Pretoria.

"In the operations leading up to the capture of Pretoria General Hutton, with the Mounted Canadians, marched on the extreme left of the British forces from Johannesburg to Pretoria.

"When the British force came in touch with the fire from the Boers before the city and from the forts of Pretoria on Monday, General Hamilton's advance was being made over the hills to the left of the city. As he advanced the Gordons and Cornwalls held these hills under a heavy rifle fire. The duty assigned to the Canadians now was to guard the baggage left in these hills by the troops above named.

"From their position the Canadians in these hills had a fine view of the West Australian Mounted Infantry, the Australian Lancers and Saxe's Mounted Infantry, as they charged down the valley behind ridges lined with Boer defenders, who fled precipitately. This charge was one of the few grand spectacular sights of the war.

"It was followed shortly afterwards by the advance of Watson's Australians upon the city with a demand of surrender, and by 6 o'clock on Monday night the Landrost brought the keys of the city to Field Marshal Roberts, as a formal token of surrender. Then preparations were at once made for the entry of the army on the following day, when, at two o'clock, Lord Roberts took up his position in front of the Parliament buildings and reviewed the British troops as they proudly marched past."
