

NEWS of the WORLD in PICTURES

Used to strange characters as he is, this shoeshine man in Leicester Square, London, looks startled at seeing his customer. The spaceship suit worn by Sam Haycock was sent to London from U. S. where it was used in making film "Destination Moon."

SMILING CHAMPS—Beverly Hanson of Pasadena, Calif., grins happily as she receives the Cox Cup from "Mr. Golf" himself, Bobby Jones, at Atlanta. Miss Hansen defeated Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., 6 and 4 to win the 50th annual Women's Amateur Golf Championship at the East Lake Country Club.

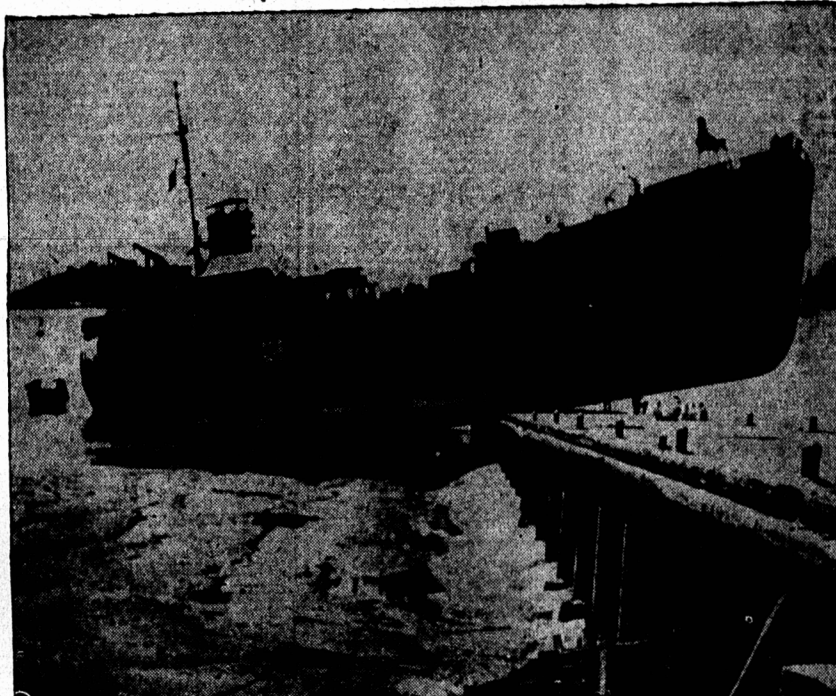

Irene Konkova, 23, above, matched wits with Soviet police last year and as a result, is happily settled in Canada. A student in Prague, Irene was arrested for not conforming to Communist views. Today, after a three-week flight from the Russian zone of Prague to the Austrian border and one year in Western Europe, she is assistant director, junior club department, in Winnipeg's Y. W. C. A.

IRISH SALTS — These four young Irishmen are congratulated after making a 3,600-mile voyage from Ireland to New York aboard a 36-foot sloop. They left Ireland on June 15, and arrived in New York, Sept. 24. All architectural students, they plan to continue their studies in the U. S. From left to right are: Desmond Dalton; Anthony Jacob; John Kenny; Kevin O'Farrell; and the Irish Consul General in New York, Grant Hoaly.

"HARE" TRAP—An American Marine stands guard over stripped North Korean prisoners (in circular dugout) on Wolmi Island, off Inchon. Late dispatches told of the capture of Kimpo airfield, 10 miles west of Seoul, by American troops. Exclusive photos by NEA-Acme Staff Correspondent Norman Williams

FIT TO BE TIDE — A stranded LST waits helplessly for the tide to come in at the port of Inchon. The vessel was caught when the tide receded during unloading operations on D-Day. This is graphic evidence of the dangerous 30-foot tide at Inchon which had to be taken into consideration in the close timing of the assault operation. Exclusive NEA-Acme photo by staff photographer Richard C. Ferguson.

More apprehensive than fierce are these leopard cubs, cuddling in the corner of the Bristol Zoo's cat house. Just five months old, they are the zoo's latest arrivals.

With the help of a little trick photography, Keri Crossman, of Galt, Ont., is the proud owner of the largest pumpkin on his street. He thinks agriculture can be improved by paste-up photographs. Crossman appears to be dwarfed by the pumpkin

BRITISH GALE

Huge waves break over road along sea front at Seaford, Sussex, during the worst gale to lash Britain in 25 years. Reaching a speed of 82 miles-an-hour, it was the tall end of a cyclone that battered shipping in the Atlantic. Small craft were smashed, sea walls hammered, a pleasure steamer sunk, repair installations damaged, steel plates of a towed liner ripped by force of gale. Dredger at Southampton blown overboard, drowned.