

The fears of Mr. Bridges' parents were allayed when they saw him grow up to youth and manhood without suffering. Mr. Bridges arrived at the age of 60, seldom or never suffering from ill-health, but not unfrequently he has felt great pains in various parts of his body, which have always been attributed to rheumatism. On Wednesday night last he had, as he thought, an attack of that disease, and retired early to rest, encased in flannel. About three o'clock in the morning, a strange pricking sensation, felt about the outer right angle, awoke him, and putting his hand on the spot, he found protruding from the flannel what he thought a small bit of wire. In the morning he discovered, comparing all the circumstances, that it was the self-same needle he had swallowed 62 years ago! A punctured mark, just over the angle shows where the needle has made its egress. The needle is a strong button one; its colour a dingy blue, and the eye shows that it is of ancient fabric.

THE WOLF AND THE LAMB.—A postman in Flanders was lately trudging along with his rosy-cheeked daughter, who, wishing to relieve him of his load, strapped his post-bag to her own shoulders. A gentleman approached in a tilbury, and seeing the poor postman looking very weary, commiserated his situation. "Oh, sir," he exclaimed, "I don't mind the labour, but my daughter here—" The gentleman took compassion on the girl, who willingly accepted the proffered seat; but she was hardly seated when the gentleman commenced whipping his horse and darted off with such rapidity that he and the maiden were out of sight in a moment. From that hour to this, runs the story, the disconsolate post-papa has never heard one syllable of his daughter or his bag!

The Colonial Herald.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 8, 1842.

At an early hour on Wednesday morning, the Courier arrived at the Post Office with the mails. After such an interval of prolonged suspense, we had almost calculated to a moral certainty upon having something important to communicate; but, after all, a more vague, uninteresting budget than the papers by the last mail presented, was hardly ever before received. The news may, in fact, be comprised in one emphatic word, "nothing!"

A number of promotions, "brevet rank," we believe it is termed, had taken place, upon the birth of a Prince. Some Officers known in this Island, had got a step. Colonel Ready, our ex-Lieutenant Governor, has been made a Major General; Colonel Litter, in the East India Company's service, has also been made a Major General.

Throughout Great Britain and Ireland, distress in the manufacturing districts, so far from abating, was on the increase, to a frightful degree. The reports from Leeds, Paisley, Nottingham, and other of the manufacturing districts, are truly appalling. The calamity has indeed assumed a national aspect. Peers of the realm, high officers of state (it is said, the Queen herself), landed proprietors and the great manufacturers, have all entered into a combination, as a means of relieving the country, to promote emigration of the unemployed classes to the Colonies, upon a scale of unusual magnitude. We may, in the order of things, expect to have a portion of these helpless beings thrown upon our shores. Mayhap the spare time of the Legislature may be worse employed than in devising some scheme for their employment and support, upon their arrival.

The stated Annual Meeting of the Central Agricultural Society was held at the Wellington Hotel, on Wednesday last, when the Report of the Committee was read by the Secretary, and appeared to give general satisfaction, but which we are unable to insert this week. The Officers and Committee of last year were re-elected, without, we believe, a single exception.

The business of the Supreme Court is progressing, but is not of a nature to attract public attention. The present Term of the Supreme Court opened on Tuesday last. The Chief Justice, in his charge to the Grand Jury, laid particular stress upon the remarkable fact, that notwithstanding the great increase of the population, from immigration and other circumstances, there was an obvious decrease of crime, there being, in fact, nothing on the Calendar worthy of special remark. This His Lordship attributed, in a great degree, to the spread of Temperance principles, which he was happy to say were rapidly extending throughout the country, and that it therefore follows, as a natural consequence, that as these institutions spread, crime diminishes in an equal ratio.

Our Georgetown friends will be gratified to learn, that His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor has caused a communication to be made to the Postmaster General at Halifax, with reference to the delay and inconvenience occasioned by the Mail bag being forwarded to Charlottetown, to be opened, at those times when the Mail has been transmitted from Pictou to Georgetown—and that, in consequence, directions have been given to the Post Office authorities here to cause the letters, &c. for Georgetown to be delivered immediately upon the arrival of the mail from Pictou, in the event of the system of transmitting the Pictou mails to Georgetown every alternate week during the Summer being continued.

On Thursday last, the Hon. P. S. Macnutt, Charles Macmillan, and William Clark, Esquires, waited upon His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor with an Address from the inhabitants of the Town and Royalty of Princetown and vicinity. The Address was adopted at a meeting held on the 18th ult.—Donald Montgomery, Esq. in the chair—and the gentlemen above named were appointed to present it. We subjoin the Address, together with His Excellency's reply. The Address is in the usual style of such productions—there is a vein of originality in the reply which we like. Of old, the practice has been, to convey, in all the answers returned to public addresses, studiously, as it were, as little meaning as possible. In this instance we remark a deviation from the general rule; although, perhaps, His Excellency is not much of an agriculturist, still it looks as if he meant well. The following is the Address:—

To His Excellency Sir Henry Vere Huntley, Knight, Lieutenant Governor, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Excellency; We Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Clergy, Merchants, Agriculturists, and other Inhabitants of Princetown Royalty, and vicinity, beg to offer your Excellency our sincere congratulations on your arrival in this Island, and assumption of the Government.

We assure your Excellency that we will ever be found ready to manifest our loyalty and attachment to the principles of that benign constitution under which we have the happiness to live. The news of that most auspicious event, the birth of a Prince, and heir apparent to the British Crown, has this moment reached us, and we avail ourselves of this opportunity to present our most sincere congratulations, upon an occurrence which must diffuse joy through all classes of Her Majesty's subjects; and we pray that God, by whom Kings and Princes receive justice, may extend the line to the latest posterity.

We have full confidence that your Excellency's administration of this Government will prove beneficial to the inhabitants of the Colony, and satisfactory to yourself; and we beg you to accept our best endeavours at all times, in our various capacities, to promote these desirable ends. To which His Excellency was pleased to make the following reply:—

To the Magistrates, Clergy, Merchants, Agriculturists, and other Inhabitants of Princetown, Royalty, and its vicinity.

I am most grateful for the congratulations which you offer upon my arrival, to assume the Government of this Island—the more so, as being now personally acquainted with the high character and loyal disposition of the inhabitants, I am the more sensible of the value of their sentiments.

Nothing is necessary to assure me of your loyalty to our Gracious and Excellent Sovereign, or of your attachment to the Constitution of our country, which, under the Divine protection, has withstood every change; and under which no man suffers restraint, unless in his folly or wickedness he endeavours to violate it.

The birth of the Prince has rejoiced every true British subject; and I experience the sincerest happiness in communicating to you the perfect restoration of our beloved Sovereign to health—two blessings for which we cannot be sufficiently grateful to the Almighty Ruler of all events.

My endeavours will be to prove that the confidence in which you hold my administration of the Government is not misplaced; and I must express the gratification I feel in finding the "Agriculturists" especially designated in your address. Upon the prosperity of this class is based that of every other in this Island; and it should be constantly borne in mind, that the trade will only increase in proportion as the productions of the soil are enlarged in quantity—to effect which, no effort on my part shall be spared.

A Deputation, consisting of John C. Sims, Esq., James Campbell, Esq., and Mr. J. Anderson, also waited upon His Excellency yesterday, with a congratulatory Address from the inhabitants of New London, to which a suitable answer was returned by His Excellency. The late hour at which we received these documents, coupled with a pressure of other matter, preclude their insertion in our present number; they shall, however, appear in our next.

A deputation of the Office-bearers and Members of the Mechanics' Institute waited upon His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor on Monday last, when the Hon the President read the following Address:—

To His Excellency Sir Henry Vere Huntley, Knight, Lieutenant Governor, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Excellency; We the Office-bearers and Members of the Charlottetown Mechanics' Institute beg leave most respectfully to request your Excellency to transmit to Her Gracious Majesty the Queen, an Address from us, congratulating Her Majesty upon the auspicious event of the birth of an Heir to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, so that the same may be laid at the foot of the Throne; and in requesting this favour, we beg to assure your Excellency of our devoted attachment to the British constitution, and of our satisfaction at the encouragement given by your Excellency to the resident mechanics, in the working up of native material; and of the warm interest displayed by your Excellency in behalf of our Institute.

The President then handed the Address to the Hon. the Colonial Secretary, with the following Address to the Queen:—

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

May it please your Majesty;

We your Majesty's loyal and attached subjects, the "Office-bearers and Members of the Charlottetown Mechanics' Institute," in Prince Edward Island, in full session now convened, beg leave humbly and respectfully to approach your Throne, and offer our heartfelt and sincere congratulations to your Majesty, upon the safe birth of a Prince, and an Heir to the Imperial Crown of your Majesty's extensive Dominions. That your Majesty, and your Royal line may ever wield the sceptre of the British Nation, and that this Colony may ever continue a portion of your Majesty's mighty empire, are our fervent wishes.

That the Almighty may ever be your Majesty's guide and protector, and that He may ever continue to watch over the welfare of your Majesty, your Royal offspring, and your Majesty's Royal and beloved Consort, will be our united and sincere prayer.

Upon receiving the Addresses from Mr. Haviland, His Excellency, in a neat and eloquent style, replied extemporaneously, to the following effect:—

That he should feel very great pleasure in transmitting their loyal and dutiful Address to the Queen, so that it might be laid at the foot of the Throne—that he thanked them for their Address to himself, and he assured them that he would feel great pleasure in seeing their Institute flourish. That he considered the Mechanic, a most useful member of the community, and that so long as he (the Mechanic) continued industrious, and possessed good habits, he would always raise himself in the scale of society. That it was by the means of a Mechanics' Institute, the members had an opportunity, which otherwise they could not have possibly procured, of improving their minds and enlarging their ideas, by having their attention turned to subjects, the study and contemplation of which, would produce such a beneficial tendency. That he felt extreme pleasure in being their Patron, would promote their useful objects to the utmost of his power. That while he remained in the Colony, he intended to promote, as far as in him lay, the manufactures of the country. That it was in contemplation to form a Society for the purpose of encouraging the resident Mechanic in manufacturing those materials which the Island can produce, and which Society would meet with his most cordial co-operation, and that he trusted the Gentlemen of the community would exert themselves to promote such a laudable and desirable object.

The Schooner Elizabeth, Webster, arrived at Three Rivers, from St. John's, N. F. on Sunday morning last. Left St. John's on the 22d ult. and brought 35 passengers.

BIRTH, On the 5th inst., the lady of Angus Macdonald, Esq., Georgetown, of a son.

DIED, At Potosi, (York River), on Wednesday last, much and deservedly regretted, Mr. John Gardiner, aged 82 years. He had been a resident of this Island for upwards of half a century.

At Halifax, on Tuesday morning, the 23th ult., Jane Françoise, the wife of George R. Young, Esq., Barrister at Law, universally esteemed and lamented.

At Princetown, on the 25th ult., Mr. John McKay, son of Mr. Archibald McKay, formerly of Charlottetown, after a protracted illness of 4 years, which he bore with patience and Christian fortitude, aged 22 years.

OBITUARY.—Lately, at Gaspareaux, Three Rivers, departed this life the venerable Mrs. Steel, at the extreme age of 106 years! Mrs. S. came to this Colony in 1802, with her family, consisting of her sons, Philip and John. They were from Long Island, near Boisdale. This aged lady enjoyed an almost uninterrupted state of health, was a stranger to medicine, and never confined to bed two succeeding days. She was an early riser, abstemious, industrious, cheerful—qualities and acquirements conducive to the extension of the thread of human life. During the rebellion (1745) she remembered being alarmed at the appearance of the soldiery, and hiding from them. The two days preceding her decease, Mrs. S., in the absence of her family, who were in the field, securing the potato crop, got up, dressed herself, and took her customary seat by the fireside. Mr. John Steel survives his mother.—Com.
