GREAT MEETING AT RUSTICO.

Speeches by Both Candidates.

ALEXANDER MARTIN'S ABLE SPEECH.

Mr. Welsh is Done For.

A large meeting greeted the candidates for East Queen's at Rustico last evening. No doubt many were kept away on account of being so busy putting in their crops. Ephraim Gallant, Esq., occupied the chair. The speakers of the evening were Messrs. Welsh, Martin, Peters, Stewart, Farquharson, Jenkins and Doyle in the order named.

On account of the number of speakers, the candidates were limited to forty minutes, the other speakers to thirty.

Mr. Welsh gave an account of his stewardship, and a miserable one it was. He was obliged to confess that he had done nothing for the people of the Island, —he had no influence with the Ministers who had promised him something several times, but never given it. He said very little about the branch railways, being evidently afraid to touch that important point, and wound up by relating his famous exploit in the House,—how he single-handed had fought the Chignecto Ship Railway Bill and, won by a majority of one, forgetting, however, to relate that his colleague, Mr. Davies, had voted against him on that very motion.

Mr. Welsh's support in Rustico is exceedingly weak,— if we except the grit contingent who were there from town, and half a dozen New Glasgow "Peters men," who did much of the applauding for their side and much interrupting when the other side spoke.

Mr. Martin was enthusiastically received and made a very forcible and telling speech. He exposed the schemes and tactics employed by the grits in their canvass to try and deceive the electors on the branch railways and the school question. He gave a brief outline of this latter question, and said he was for settling this question according to the constitution, as defined by the highest authority in the land.

The reception of Messrs. Peters and Farquharson was decidedly cool, and the mention by them of Dominion Government extravagance and taxation brought hoots from the audience, who considered it anything but fitting for our leaders in Provincial affairs to talk of taxation and extravagance!

Mr. Stewart was in good form and denounced the Liberals for their shuffling policies and their mismanagement of provincial affairs, in no uncertain terms. He was listened to attentively and frequently applauded.

Dr. Jenkins spoke briefly and to the point. He referred to preferential trade and its advantages; how the sentiment in England tended towards closer relations between the mother country and the colonies, and he had no doubt that agitation of this question in Canada would be productive of the best results.

Mr. Welsh then tried to move a vote of thanks to the chairman but the audience would not hear of it until they had heard from one of themselves, and called loudly for Mr. Thomas Doyle, who at their instance came forward amidst cheers. He scored the Liberals again and again, and showed that their talk of free trade, unrestricted reciprocity, commercial union and their many other policies was all buncombe and that they did not mean a word of what they said.

After the vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Gallant, as chairman, and Mr. Andrew Doiron, as secretary, three cheers and a tiger were proposed for Mr. Martin, and were given with such good will as must have made Mr. Martin feel that he has a strong support in Rustico.

The town grits then tried a cheer for Mr. Welsh, but it fell very flat.

Mr. Martin was then surrounded by his many supporters, while Mr. Welsh and his following slipped out into the night.

BRADALBANE MEETING.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson and Richard Hunt, Esq., were received at Bradalbane last evening by a very large and enthusiastic meeting of the electors of that part of East Prince. Nothwithstanding the busy season, the large hall was filled to the doors, and the meeting was organized by D. B. McLeod, Esq., taking the chair.

The first speaker was Richard Hunt, Esq., the popular Liberal-Conservative candidate for the riding discussing the the branch railway question, the Manitoba School Question and the trade policy of both political parties. Mr. Hunt is well known to the electors of Breadalbane as an indefatigable worker and possessed of great tact in pushing matters in the interest of the people. But few were prepared for the evidence which his speech gave of his ability as a speaker. For about an hour he held the audience riveted, and as he cleared up point after point he was greeted with applause. His explanation of the Manitoba school question was especially satisfactory to the people who prefer strictly constitutional dealing with that question to the double-shuffling of the party led by Mr. Laurier. At the conclusion of Mr. Hunt's able speech the chairman, D. B. McLeod, Esq., presented our cabinet minister with an excellent complimentary address, signed on behalf of the Conservatives of Bradalbane by Duncan McKinley, William Oakes, Hugh McLure, M. L. Matheson, D. B. McLeod and Wilfred McDonald.

In response the hon. senator made one of his best speeches and was heard with attention and enthusiasm. It is impossible to give even a synopsis of this speech, but an incident which occurred deserves to be noted. In denouncing the double policy of the Liberals on the Manitoba School Question, Mr. Ferguson referred to Mr. Laurier's famous Chicoutimi speech, in which he thanked God that there were no Orangemen amongst the Liberals. The Secretary of the Bradalbane Liberal Association, interrupting Mr. Ferguson, denied that Mr. Laurier said this, whereupon Mr. Ferguson coolly produced extracts from Le Patrie and L'Electeur, Mr. Laurier's own organs in Quebec, containing the obnoxious words, and invited any man to produce any statement by Mr. Laurier denying plainly the use of this language. Instead of doing this the Liberal Secretary went on to show that it was unreasonable to expect that Orangemen like Sir Mackenzie Bowell would do justice to Roman Catholics, which was the exact contention of Mr. Laurier.

John Bradley, Esq., of Kelly's Cross, being called on, made an excellent speech, and was listened to with great attention until half-past twelve o'clock, when the meeting broke up with cheers for the Queen, Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Hunt.
