It appears that Mr. Kitson promised to start his mare in a club trot with Mr. Leonard's mare and John Scott's horse Masonic Pilot which came off on the 23rd March. He failed to do so, but issued a challenge to trot anything in Clyde River for $20. Mr. Leonard took him up and offered to put up the money, but Kitson would not. He said he would put it up on the day of the race, but after gathering the people there and keeping them waiting until nearly five o'clock he completely eluded them. Thus Mr. Leonard stope the mare that was likely to affect the Clyde River horses to the disappointment of the spectators."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

SOME SMALL POLITICS.

OTTAWA, April 1. In the House of Commons, Hon. Mr. Tupper's resolution to impose a fee of $10 for each inspection of large boats, scow or undecked vessel, passed through committee, and a bill founded thereon was read for the first time and referred to a committee. The House went into committee of supply on an item of $61,280 for salaries and contingents for Senators. Mr. Mulock moved that the amount be reduced by $1,600, paid for newspapers for the Senate Reading Room. He said one reading room was sufficient for both bodies. The speaker said that one reading room was not large enough for both Houses. The amendment was lost. A discussion followed on sessional and extra clerks for the Commons. Dr. Bordson accused a messenger named Moore for taking part against him in his election. Mr. Mills, of Annapolis replied that the member for King's had nothing to say of those Government officials who took part in his own behalf in King's. In that contest there was one postmaster in particular who exercised himself in every possible way outside and inside his office to secure Bordson's election. It turns out that Moore was not employed in the House this session.

Mrs. William Sharpe, living near Brampton, Ont., about a year ago lost three boys by diphtheria. On Sunday last the woman presented her husband with triplets—all boys. There are compensations in nature. Mr. Goldwin Smith has been writing on Australian politics, and points to Canada as an awful warning against inconsiderate federation. This should encourage the Australians in their nationalizing work. Mr. Smith's chief objection to the Canadian federation is that it will not break up or sell itself into commercial bondage at the bidding of a coterie of pessimistic sordards of which he is a chief.
