Demand Exceeds Supply Of Box Cars

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—There are not enough box cars available on Canadian railways to take care of all the immediate requirements of shippers. This was confirmed by S. F. Dingle, vice president in charge of operation, Canadian National Railways, who explained that the condition resulted from the back log of freight that piled up during the recent work stoppage on the railways and the abnormal number of Canadian box cars in service on railroads in the United States. Industry in general continues at an accelerated pace and there is a considerable volume of traffic to be moved from warehouses. It accumulated during the nine days when the railways were strike bound, said Mr. Dingle. The railways are doing everything possible to cope with the situation, and they have the assistance of the Association of American Railroads in Washington which has ordered U. S. roads to return box-cars empty to Canada. At the present time there are more than 8,000 Canadian National box cars in the U. S. than for the same period last year.

The vice president is Mr. W. W. Currie and the secretary is Mrs. Mary McIsaac of Milo (re-elected). There was a splendid attendance of approximately forty-five (45) teachers from many of the schools served by the O'Leary convention which covers a very wide area. There are only three conventions held in all Prince County. On Monday the convention was held in Tignish, on Tuesday in O'Leary and on Wednesday in Summerside. The convention opened by the president, Mr. Earl Jelly. The following committees were appointed: Resolutions: Mrs. Doris Proffitt, Mrs. Bertha Gallant and William Turner; Press: Mrs. Mary McIsaac, Mrs. Velda Wells, Mrs. Pearl Duncan, Nominations: Mrs. Robert McDonald, Mrs. Theima Shea and Miss Marion Ellis. The local president extended a very cordial welcome to new teachers and to all others. He encouraged the teachers to use this convention as their convention. He said the teachers should try and cultivate a friendly feeling or get-together spirit among them all. Mr. Jelly also spoke of the friendly relations between the Department of Education and the teachers. He read a paper on the work and activities of the P. E. I. Teachers' Federation.

Supervisor's Address

A splendid address was then given by the Supervisor, Inspector Merritt Callaghan, B.A., of Alberton. He reviewed the course of studies and made interesting and instructive comments on each. Literatures Grades 1 to 6 use new readers as last year. Try to have literature work books for each grade. Grades 7, 8 and 9 have new books (readers). Supplementary readers are recommended in groups. Books may be secured from the P.E.I. Library. The teachers were told to use some work books in arithmetic and to use the blackboard as much as possible. Radio broadcasts are helpful for higher grades. Nature magazine is supplied to schools. Use pamphlets for nature study; eight-four different ones are available from the School Supply and one dozen in each school would be helpful. Entrance pupils should do nature work early in term. A health text for Grade 10 is optional. A new one was recommended. Re teaching composition; work should be begun in grade three. Punctuation and capitalization should be stressed. Pupils should not be promoted before a thorough knowledge of work is attained. A definite pass mark must be made in Grade eight before promotion to Grade nine.

The president then introduced Mr. H. B. McLean, author of the "MacLean Method of Penmanship." Writing is a subject that won't teach itself, you have to use study and practice. Good writing means writing that is easy to read and also easy to write. Use print writing in the first year; for example, M I N E. Introduce cursive style in Grade two. Do not reduce size of printing before using cursive forms. Use a good text that a child may observe writing at close range. This was a very comprehensive talk. Dr. O'Meara of the Dental Division of Public Health was then introduced by Miss Wilson of the Department of Health. He reviewed the problem of dental health and the need for dentists. From two years of age, the child needs dental treatment. An average of one cavity a year occurs. Teachers can do much to help the care of

Rural Church Organists Meet At Kensington

An interesting experiment of several years planning took place in Kensington United Church on Wednesday, September 8th, when organists from rural areas met together during the afternoon and evening.

Rev. Lewis M. Murray, instigator of the School, was the director and in his opening talk on the Place of Music in Worship, pointed out the meaning of worship and how God can be worshipped through the medium of praise. He also pointed out the important work of the organist and choir; that music is an offering to God and should be well prepared. The address also dealt with the singing in the congregation and the learning of new hymns.

A discussion followed and during the practice period, several unfamiliar tunes were learned. Members were then taken to the choir loft for some elementary instruction on the use of the Minshall Electric organ. At the supper hour, the visiting organists were the guests of the Kensington choir members. 7:30 p.m. was Music Appreciation Hour and recordings from Handel's Messiah and Stainer's Crucifixion were heard. Mr. Murray again addressed the group regarding ing preludes, voluntaries, anthems and other music in the church service. Discussion brought out problems such as organizing a choir, choir-practice, practice for organists, getting new members and keeping them interested. Plans were made for a Hymn Festival which will take place in Kensington United Church on October 8th. Choirs have been assigned certain hymns to be learned and to be sung at the Festival. The organists were enthusiastic over the School and one remarked that it was the best idea she had heard about for some time. Others hearing of this new venture said there should be three on the Island.—S
