WORDS FOR THE WORLD

"The world is illumined with the effulgent glory of His countenance. And yet, behold how far its peoples have strayed from His path! None have believed in Him except them who, through the power of the Lord of Names, have shattered the idols of their vain imaginings and corrupt desires and entered the city of certitude. The seal of the choice Wine of His Revelation hath, in this Day and in His Name, the Self-Sufficing, been broken. Its grace is being poured out upon men. Fill thy cup, and drink it in His Name, the Most Holy, the All-Praised."

Africa's First Swahili Bible

The new Swahili Bible, which was flown to Nairobi by Comet Jet liner from London, was received at the airport by Joyce Wawanda, a student nurse, who was specially chosen as a Swahili-speaking girl to receive the Bible. This copy of the Bible was contained in a blue box, neatly marked in gold lettering. "The First Copy of the Union Version Swahili Bible" and was later presented to St. Stephen's Church, Nairobi, by a representative of The British and Foreign Bible Society.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ernest M. Currie, Rocky Point, who passed away March 15th, 1948.
Time speeds on, five years has passed.
Since death's dark gloom its shadow cast,
Within our home where all seemed bright,
And took from us the one we loved,
Always Remembered by His Wife and Sons.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear Husband and Dad, Angus MacEachern, who passed away March 15th, 1950.
We are thinking of you today, Dad,
But then that's nothing new,
We thought about you yesterday
And the day before that, too.
We'll think of you tomorrow,
And each day through the year,
We'll think of you forever,
For to us you were so dear.
Lovingly Remembered by His Wife Hazel and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of John D. MacKenzie, who passed away March 14th, 1940.
Sweet memories will linger forever,
Time cannot change them it's true,
Years that may come can not sever,
Our loving memory of you.
Ever Remembered by Wife and Family, Olive, Donald and Mary.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of S. Wesley MacKenzie, who departed this life March 15th, 1947.
Two hands that were busy for so many years,
Till God made them rest and it caused many tears.
Lovingly Remembered by Wife Bessie, Son and Daughter Douglas and Irene.

FUNERAL MONDAY.—The funeral of the late F. J. Shea was held Monday morning at 9.30 to the Immaculate Conception Church, Palmer Road with solemn funeral mass celebrated by Rev. Patrick Walsh, assisted by Rev. Claude Shea and Rev. Howard Shea. In the sanctuary were Rev. J. A. Macdonald and Rev. Dennis Gallant of Tignish, Rev. Emanuel Richard and Rev. F. Monaghan of Alberton. Interment was in the church cemetery. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in Palmer Road as Mr. Shea was widely known all over the island, as his business brought him in close contact with a great many people. Many people from far and near together with neighbours and friends were present. The pall bearers were Howard Dunbar, W. B. McLellan, Ferdinand Brown, Peter Burke, Edward Millman and Reagh Shea. —B.G.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my dear father H. Wesley MacKenzie, Bay Fortune, who passed away March 15th, 1947.

In a graveyard softly sleeping
Close beside a country road,
Lies the one we loved so dear
Gone from us to His abode.
Our hearts still ache with loneliness
Our eyes shed many a tear,
God alone knows how much we miss you,
At the dawn of another year.
Lovingly remembered by daughter Mildred, Mrs. Claude Delaney, and granddaughter Bessie.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of a husband and father, James Cook Howatt, who passed away March 14, 1934.
We lost a father with a heart of gold
Who was more to us than wealth untold;
Without farewell he fell asleep,
With only memories for us to keep.
We lost but God gained
One of the best fathers the world contained.
Sadly missed by his wife and family.

Thoughts For Our Time

By His Eminence Cardinal McGuigan
(Copyright)
IMMORAL LITERATURE

Due, as the Christian knows, to Original Sin, there are in fallen human nature, many inclinations evil. The normal adult, most of the time, and in spite of lapses, strives to bring these inclinations into subjection, if not for religious motives, at least out of self-respect, and lest he become enslaved by them.

On the other hand, it seems, there are always a scrupulous men who prey on these human weaknesses for their own profit. One of the benefits which men of good will derive from common life in society, is the protection which social living and the social conscience give against such evil exploiters.

In normal circumstances, just as reasonable adults are ashamed of personal yielding to human weaknesses of this kind, so also the human parasites who would engage in their shameless exploitation, at least do not dare openly to carry on their nefarious business.

It has happened, however, at various times and places, that the moral conscience of an entire people has been dulled with regard to one or another human weakness. The result has been that the shameless exploitation of that weakness for selfish profit has succeeded in establishing its seat with public approval, or at least with a woeful lack of public disapproval.

Think, for example, of certain countries where trafficking in drugs is openly tolerated and in some cases even encouraged. All right—thinking people will grant that the general welfare of the people in question has suffered for the profit of the human parasites.

We may be thankful, indeed, that the public conscience in our own beloved country is vigorous enough at least in the matter of drugs, not to tolerate the open exploitation of that weakness. Thankful, too, that our public officials are vigorous in the prosecution of the human parasites who would secretly carry on that nefarious exploitation. Thankful, finally, that the general public is now aroused to the insidious inroads which that particular species of human parasites have been able to make being victim among youth, while parents and adults and public officials were dozing over their responsibilities.

But let not our moral indignation at the irresponsibility of another people or peoples abroad, serve to permit the continued slumbering of our own conscience at home
