BIG BETS

The late Mr. Davis, the biggest book-maker of his time in England, probably laid the largest bet ever recorded when he wagered £500,000 to $5,000 against three horses owned by a Mr. Clark and entered in the Derby of 1896.

There is also a bet recorded of $450,000 to $150,000, the big amount being laid by Lord Glasgow and the smaller by Lord George Bentinck, who lost.

In 1885 a young lordling bet $15,000 to $150 that St. Simon, a very celebrated race horse, would win a race in which but one other animal was to start. St. Simon was so hot a favorite that 100 to 1 was laid on his chance, such odds, of course, being very unusual and meaning that there is hardly any betting being done. That lord, however, actually bet his $15,000 against a book-maker's $150 as coolly as if he had been accepting and not laying tremendous odds. St. Simon won in a canter.

A Finished Rebuke.

Edn. George Russell, in his "Recollections and Collections," tells the following story of Jewett, the famous master of Ealing college:

"The scene was the master's own dining room, and the moment that the ladies had left the room one of the guests began a most outrageous conversation. Every one sat flabbergasted. The master winced with annoyance, and then, bending down the table toward the offender, said in his shrillest tone, 'Shall we continue this conversation in the drawing room?' and rose from his chair. It was really a stroke of genius thus both to terminate and to rebuke the impropriety without violating the decorum due from host to guest."

QUININE BY PROXY

Not long since, said the drummer, I was down in one of the ague districts of Indiana, and in front of my customer's store I saw a native sitting on the horse block. He seemed to be suffering and I went to him.

"What's the matter?" I inquired.

"Nothin' much, mister," he replied with a wan smile. "I'm jest a settin' here in the sun shakin'."

"Got the chills?"

"That's what, mister."

"Why don't you take something for them?"

"I do, mister. That is, Sary does. She takes all the quinine for the family. Sary's my wife."

That was a new form of woman's devotion, and I was somewhat surprised at its discovery.

"Thunderation, man," I exclaimed, "that won't help you any."

"I guess you're mistaken, mister," he said with stolid confidence. "I've had the chills for twenty-five years an' they ain't killed me yet."

A Funny Mistake.

A servant lass at an inn once made a funny mistake. Opening the door of one of the rooms, she saw, as she thought, the handle of a warming pan sticking out near the foot of the bed. "Bless me," she said, "that stupid Martha has left the warming pan in the bed! She might have set the place on fire."

Taking hold of the handle, she gave it a violent jerk, when up jumped an awakened traveler, shouting lustily: "Hello, there! Leave my wooden leg alone, will you?"—London Fun.

A LOST OPPORTUNITY

The Chicago Record says that some time ago a young organist secured permission to practice on the big organ in the Auditorium. An elderly man walked in and took a seat a few rows away from the musician. The young organist noticed him, and was encouraged to "show off" and do a few tricks of playing for his audience. He rambled on for an hour, and the elderly man sat there, apparently impressed. The young man tired at last and was about to lock the organ when the elderly man approached him and said in broken English that he wished to play for a few minutes.

"They don't allow any one but an experienced organist to touch the instrument," said the young man loftily.

With a little gesture, suggestive of meekness and humility, the stranger presented his card, "Alexandre Guilmant, Paris."

Then it was time for the young organist to swoon. He had missed the chance of his life. For an hour he had been entertaining the great master with homemade drivel.

Where to Carry Stamps.

"Business men have various ways of carrying their postage stamps," said the stamp clerk the other morning while sitting in his chair at the stamp window in the general postoffice. "A good many men who post their letters here always have one or more stamps about them. Some of them carry their stamps in stamp cases, but the economical man carries his stamps under the band of his hat or in his pockets."

"The other day a young man called for 'five twos,' and putting one on a letter which he had to mail, he took out his watch and opening the back of it slipped the remaining stamps into the case. They don't stick to the cover, and that is about the best way one can carry stamps if he has a watch."—New York Sun
