Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

To the Electors of Charlottetown.

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of many of my fellow citizens I place myself in your hands for re-election to the honorable position of Mayor, and respectfully ask for your votes.

Should you again do me the honor to elect me, I shall co-operate in maturing and carrying out all measures having for their object the good of the community as a whole, and, as in the past, my best efforts shall be given to the administration of the affairs of the city.

I refer you to the City Report for my views on taxation, and would only add that I am fully satisfied that the ordinary expenditure of the city can be met by a reduced rate on real estate and personal property, which rate, with the other sources of available income, will yield a sufficient revenue to meet the liberal basis of expenditure of the past year, and that no department of the public service can suffer thereby.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
W. E. DAWSON.

jan27—135

To the Electors of Charlottetown;

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the wishes of a large number of citizens, and in response to the numerously signed requisition presented to me, I have decided to nominate for the Mayorality at the forthcoming Election, and would take this opportunity of soliciting your support.

If elected, I shall endeavor at all times to act impartially, giving justice to all, favors to none. It shall be my aim to see that the affairs of this City are conducted with the strictest economy commensurate with its requirements and that the rate of taxation be kept down to the lowest figure consistent therewith.

I shall continue to stand up for the citizen's rights both as regards the Roadway to Victoria Park and all other questions which may arise. I believe that all laws at present in force, or that may hereafter be enacted, should be faithfully carried out.

I am opposed to the expenditure of an public moneys in defiance of the well understood wishes of the people.

As I publicly stated two years ago, I believe that good government in civic affairs can only be assured by having a change in representatives from time to time; and having served four years as Councillor, I now respectfully solicite your votes for the office of Mayor.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant.
HORACE HASZARD.

SOME PARKHURST EPIGRAMS.

Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, D. D., in his initial paper for young men, for the Ladies' Home Journal (in February issue) gives brilliant emphasis to his text, "The Stuff That Makes Young Manhood," by the frequent employment of forcible epigrams. He considers a proper "getting ready" as the greatest value in preparing for life's work, and upon this point flashes his strongest, brightest lights in brilliant radiance.

Putting a butterfly to school will not graduate it a butterfly even if it is a very good school. Its only wholesome ambition will be to be as good as it can as a butterfly . . . . . .

I have watched a good many brooding hens, but I never saw one facilitate the hatching process by pecking the shell. The chick on the inside will get out if he is worth it. . . . . .

More men are injured by having things made easy for them than by having their path beset with difficulties, for it encourages them to stay themselves on circumstances, whereas their supreme reliance needs to be on their own personal stuff

Young men are constantly worrying lest they be failures and nonentities. . .

Every man will count for all he is worth. . . . . . .

There is as much a science of success as there is a science of hydraulics. .

The less a young man talks about luck and untowardness of circumstances, and the coquettishness of popular favor, and the like, the better for him and for the world to which he owes himself. Every man will have all the power he earns, and the power that he has will tell, not because people like it or like him, but because it is power.

Personal pressure can no more be hooted down, or voted down, or argued out of existence than can the push of the wind or the pull of the moon. If you weigh a ton you will exert a ton's pressure.

There is probably such a thing as genius, although ninety-nine hundredths of it is doubtless the name which lazy people give to results which others have earned by hard work in those hours when the lazy people themselzes were either sleeping or wishing they could gain it without toiling for it. . . . . . .

There is faculty enough in almost anybody to become genius if only all that faculty were lumped. . . . .

We are more likely to find a good destiny by going afoot than by riding . .

The world cares very little for experts, and the course of events is only infinitesimally determined by them. . . .

The man whose entire capital is one of enthusiasm will be conspicious for his abundance of torch, at the same time lacking the timber which the torch exists primarily to enkindle. . . . .

Sowing still antedates reaping, and the amount sowed determines pretty closely the size of the harvest. . .

Empty barns in October are the logical sequence of empty furrows in spring. The young man may as well understand that there are no gratuities in this life, and that success is never reached "across lots."

THE WAR IN CUBA.

It is announced that General Martin, acting Captain-General, left Havana a few days ago, on a special train. It is known that he has gone to the field presumably to attempt to prevent Gen Gomez from meeting Maceo in the province of Pinar Del Rio. He was accompanied by the entire staff, a company of order publico, a battery of artillery, a detachment of cavalry, hospital corps, chaplain and two guides familiar with Vuelta Atjao, the great tobacco district. The cavalry horses filled sixteen cars. The battery of artillery included one rapid firing gun. It is believed he intends to conduct field operations personally until Gen. Weyler, the newly appointed captain general, arrives. The cavalry force was augmented by 1100 men with horses as the train passed through the way stations, thus making a column strong in this branch of arms and placing it on more equal terms with the rebel forces, most of whom are mounted. It is known that Gomez is moving west near the northern coast of the province of Pinar Del Rio. The latest trust-worthy information places Maceo in western part of province. It may be he has since marched to meet Gomez. The military authorities are confident the troops will be able to pen both rebel leaders in Pinar Del Rio and force them to a pitched battle. They hope that once they are able to compel the rebels to stand they will crush them. Scarcity of ammunition among the rebels will prevent them from attempting a decisive engagement. It is said that as soon as Gen. Meyler arrives he will issue a proclamation giving the rebels eight days to lay down arms and surrender. If they do not do this he will inaugurate a campaign of blood and fire against them and their abettors.

TO MEET COMPLICATIONS.

The St Petersburg Vremys publishes the following special despatch from Vladivostock: News comes from Yokohama that the English squadron in the Pacific is being agumented by six warships. At the same time considerable increase is being made in the Japanese navy. England and Japan are evidently preparing energetically to meet possible complications arising out of the recent Russo-Chinese understanding. The Navosti says on the subject of the alleged Russo-Turkish treaty: "Russia can guarantee the existance of Turkey only if reforms such as the opening of the Dardanelles to Russian warships be offered. It is impossible to adduce any valid reason why Russia should be forced to lock up her fleet in the Black Sea. It is simply a policy of outrageous violence to which Russia submits because she loves peace, but the prohibition is bound to disappear."

A secret understanding between Turkey and Russia is likely to be bad for Turkey. In this respect, also, it is like any open understanding the two powers might arrive at. When an unscrupulous country which knows what it wants makes an agreement with an unscrupulous country which does not know what it wants, it needs no prophet to foresee which will lose in the working out of the project.

Lilies are raised as a regular field crop in the Bermudas. In one of the largest fields over 100,000 may be see in bloom at the same time.

ODD NAMES AND OLD ONES.

What Parents are Responsible for in Selecting Names for Their Offspring —Modern Tendencies.

The names Molly and Polly, Annie and Nan, Maggie and Peggy, Nancy and Nan, are just as much in vogue today as in the olden time, and in all probability will continue to be given as Christian names to baby girls for all time.

We do not find French women taking their ancestors to task for bestowing upon them ungainly names, for the taste of the French in names is proverbial. There is no Peggie in the French tongue. When they tired of Mary they changed it to the sweet name Marie. Ann became Annette, sprightly and bright.

Some parents refused to give first names to their children, preferring that the children themselves should choose their own names. It is often a positive handicap to a man of parts to have an ineuphonious name. In many cases ignorant parents have gone wrong in their selection of names for their offspring, and more than once a girl baby has been called Jezebel and a boy baby Ananias. The Rev. James B. Walely, a Methodist minister, who preached many years in New York, told, with great enjoyment, of a lisping mother who took her baby to the font in the church to be baptized and christened. When the divine took it in his arms, preparatory to christening it, he asked the lisping mother what he should name it. The parent replied "Luci'thir." Indignantly the minister remarked:

"Lucifer! Lucifer! Never will I name a child that." Then he continued, as he sprinkled the water upon the brow of the girl baby, "George Washington, I baptize thee," etc., and the girl was thereafter so called.

It is a fact that fashion in names changes in cycles of less than a century. At present there seems to be a tendency toward odd names. Some of the popular ones are Dorothy, Rhoda, Edna and Angeline. Ada is quite common, and Almira comes down, it would appear, from the country towns to adorn city beauties. Agatha, Viola, Maud, Jessie, Olga, Odette, Olive, Inez, Isabel, Hortense, Rosalind, Beatrice, Naomi, Mignon, Mildren, Lillian, Leonora, Kathleen, Ida, Estelle, Gertrude, Gladys, Grace, Genevieve, Gabriella, Henrietta, Edith, Felice, Fedora, Frederica, Eunice, Florence, Eloisa, Emmeline, Eleanor, Elsie, Effie, Doris, Eveleen, Cora, Cynthia, Cloe, Cordelia, Beulah, Bertha, Blanche, Ruth, Veronica are among the hundreds of uncommonly odd names, chosen not only for their oddness but for their euphoniousness as well, while their meaning adds interest to them and makes the burden of their weight an easy load to carry.

A mother sometimes delights in perpetuating the name of her grandmother, who bore the name of her great-grandmother, and thus these very old names descend by the choice of the parent. Ann nowadays sounds harsh, and Betsy seems common. Betsy comes to be Bessie and Ann Annie, and an instance is known of Mindwell having the audacity to call herself Minnie. Jerusha has printed on her visiting cards Jennie, and Mehitable loves to hear herself styled Hitty.—St. Louis Republican.

A Lion Hunter's Close Call.

Giving over my pony to one of the Somalis, I walked slowly toward the lion, bidding Jama remain in the saddle if he wished, but to keep as near as possible with the second gun. Very cautious and slow was my approach, for I did not want to bring on a charge before I had gotten in a shot, and it looked as if a too rapid advance would do so, for the lion without stirring an inch, kept up a series of snarls and growls, giving me an excellent view of his teeth, accompanied all the while by short, sharp flicks of his tail on the ground. I walked up to within fifty yards of him, hoping to shoot him dead at that distance and so avoid a charge. I then sat down and fired at him between the eyes, jumping to my feet instinctively to be ready if he charged. It was not a bit too soon. At the shot the lion sprang up with a furious roar. I had a lightning glimpse of him rearing up on his hind legs pawing the air; then he came for me. It was a fierce rush across the ground, no springing that I could see.

How close we got before I fired I cannot say, but it was very close. I let him come on, aiming the muzzle of the rifle at his chest. Jama says he was about to spring as I pulled the trigger and ran back a pace or two to one side; but as I did so I saw through the smoke that the lion was stopped within a few paces of me. The second gun and Jama were not as near as they might have been. The lion struggled up on his hind quarters, uttering roars.

I rammed two fresh cartridges into my rifle in an instant and fired my charge right into him. The grand brute fell over, dying. The Somalis set up a wild yell, and I am not sure I did not join in.—Scribner's Magazine.

An Orange Dainty.

Oranges will soon be plentiful and cheap, and young girls who are fond of making candies will find this dainty particularly pleasing:

Orange Chips.—Remove the peel in thin chips, and for every pound of the peel weigh out a pound of sugar. Squeeze all the juice from the oranges and strain through a fine sieve. Put the sugar with the juice and let it stand over night, soaking the peel in water for the same time. The next day boil the peel in the same water until very tender, drain and put it with the sugar and juice and boil until the sugar is candy. Lift the chips from the syrup one by one and lay on greased papers to dry, which process will sometimes take several weeks.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A girl cannot expect a man to be made on purpose for her.

IT DOES THE BUSINESS.

If you want to know what Miller's Emulsion of Norwegian Cod Liver Oil will do for a consumptive patient ask one who has tried it. Ask anyone who has used it in lung troubles of any kind. What they say about Miller's Emulsion shall be its recommendation. It is the finest preparation of its kind in the world, and is worth its weight in gold to a consumptive sufferer, whom it will raise from a bed of sickness to health and strength of body and mind, giving a new lease of life. Thousands testify to the value of Miller's Emulsion. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

The "friendship of chums" can never be arrived at by the man trying to become a woman or by the woman trying to become a man.

Counterfeits

A few years ago a great discovery was made.

Unprincipled persons are trying to prey upon and dupe people who are led to ask for kidney treatment.

Some of the methods adopted by imitators are as follows:

First—To imitate the size, color and shape of Dodd's Kidney Pills and sell them by count.

Second—To put them up to appear very nearly the same and to be offered at the same price.

Third—To hook on the word "kidney" in naming cathortic pills so as to increase sales of mere physic.

Fourth—To give a name so near to Dodd's that unwary people may be deceived and think they are getting Dodd's.

Look out for such dodges. When you want kidney medicine you want the best. And ought not to be the subject for any trick.

So beware.

A girl who cherishes an ideal man that is half a woman courts certain unhappiness.

A Graduate of Toronto University Says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years. Our physician first recommended it, and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always affects a cure."

The happiest marriages are those which develop and intensify the mental distinctions due to sex—not efface them.

Cure of Chronic Catarrh.

A remarkable Cure.—J. W. Jennison Giford, spent between $200 and $300 in con ulting doctors; tried Dixon's and oll oth treatments but got no benefit. One box of Chase's Catarrh Cure did me more good than all other remedies in fact I conserser myself cured, and with a 25 cent box al that.

Every feminine gift has the masculine counterpart, and they are never the same. Therefore, a girl should look for unlikeness, not likeness.

British Empire League.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The lord mayor of London, Sir Walter Henry Wilkins, presided to-day at the inaugural meeting of the British Empire league, formed to continue the work of the Imperial Federation league. Sir John Lubbock, bart F. R. S, M. D., for London university, explained the objects of the league. The Duke of Devonshire was elected president. Among the speakers was Richard Dobell of Quebec, who referred to the loyalty of Canada, and said that the formation of the British Empire league would be hailed with great satisfaction in the dominion.

In love and in marriage it is the ideal which awakens and preserves affection. Every girl should, therefore, find out what is the ideal wife, as commonly accepted by men of worth, and should aim at the ideal.

A Child Cured of Eczema by Chase's Ointment.

"My six-year-old daughter, Bella, was afflicted with eczema for 24 months, the principal seat of eruption being behind her ears. I tried almost every remedy I saw advertised, bought innumerable medicines and soaps, and took the child to medical specialists in skin diseases, but without result. The doctor advised the use of Chase's Ointment, and since using the eruption has all disappeared, and I can confidently say my child is cured.

MAKES BURNS PAINLESS.

Discovery that a Solution of Picric Acid Will Ease a Fresh Wound and Heal It, To .

The suffering caused by a burn upon the skin, whether small or great, is intense, as every one knows, and medical science has only been able, thus far, to palliate but not to remove the pain entirely. Chance led to the discovery in the Paris Charity Hospital the other day of a remedy, which, it is claimed, will cause burns to cease from being painful as soon as it is applied, and which will cause the injured flesh to heal with marvellous rapidity.

One of the surgeons was in the habit of using picric acid as an antiseptic, and his hands were therefore impregnated with the solution. One day, in lighting a cigarette, a portion of the burning match fell upon his hand, but instead of feeling it he noticed not the slightest pain. A short time afterwards, while sealing a letter, some burning wax stuck to his finger, and though it cauterized the skin, he felt no sensation. This set him to thinking, and he arrived at the conclusion that the acid had, to use his own words, "acted upon the tissues and tightened them."

He began a series of experiments in treating burns with a saturated solution of picric acid. "All pain was instantly suppressed," he says in his report, "after having bathed the wound in a solution of this acid. Blisters did not form, and a cure was effected after four or five days. The only inconvenience was that the acid, which is commercially used in the manufacture of dyes, colored the skin yellow, but these stains rapidly disappeared when washed with boric acid. Picric acid, moreover, is odorless, and is neither caustic, irritating nor toxic in its effects.

The cheapness of picric acid and the ease with which a proper solution of it may be prepared and kept ready have induced many of the large manufactories about Paris, whose workmen are frequently burned at their labors, to place jars about within easy reach, so that those injured may be treated with as little delay as possible.

The Other Side of the Picture.

The great English historian, Sharon Turner, a man of vast learning and of great accuracy, not a clergyman, but an attorney, as well as a historian, gives these statistics in regard to Christianity and in regard to the number of Christians in the different countries: In the first century, 500,000 Christians; in the second century, 2,000,000 Christians; in the fourth century, 10,000,000 Christians; in the sixth century, 20,000,000 Christians; in the eighth century, 30,000,000 Christians; in the tenth century, 50,000,000 Christians; in the twelfth century, 80,000,000 Christians; in the fourteenth century, 100,000,000 Christians; in the sixteenth century, 125,000,000 Christians; in the eighteenth century, 200,000,000 Christians; while by the usual computation it is hoped there will be, when the record of the nineteenth century is made up, at least 300,000,000 Christians.

Poor Christianity! what a pity it has no friends! How lonesome it must be! Who will take it out of the poorhouse? Poor Christianity! Three hundred million in one century! In a few weeks of the year 1881, 2,500,000 copies of the New Testament were distributed! Why, the earth is like an old castle with twenty gates and a park of artillery ready to thunder down every gate. Lay aside all Christendom, and see how heathendom is being surrounded and honey-combed and attacked by this all conquering gospel.—Talmage.

Those Good Old Roads.

It appears from the following from a correspondent, the "good old Roman roads" are pretty much like the "enormous pippins" so many old people handled "when they were young." He says, "At page 187 it is stated that travelers tell us that the old Roman roads are far superior to the modern road. If they say so, they do not tell the truth. In going to the top of Vesuvius, the usual route is from Resina by a route path several miles to the foot of the cone. On the way you go for several hundred yards over a part of the Appia via, one of the longest of the old Roman roads. It is not, and never was, a good road. It is about 15 feet wide, paved with blocks of trap rock of irregular size and shape, varying in diameter from 6 inches to 2 feet. Trap is a very hard volcanic stone wearing smooth by use. The road is perfectly preserved and is as good for travel as it ever was. The stones are polished by the ancient traffic, and are very slippery and unsafe. There is no ditch on either side of the road. No good road is possible without good drainage ditches at the side."

Embracing an Opportunity.

Wife (to husband, an insurance agent)—Why, Jack, what kept you so late? It is after midnight.

Husband—Business, my dear.

Wife—Business at this time of night?

Husband—Yes, my dear. A couple of footpads stood me up on the corner, and I insured their lives for five thousand apiece.—Wave.

On the Avenue.

Hill—So Miss Beauty is to marry old Moneyrox, eh?

Horton—Yes; he was won by a neck.

Hill—How so?

Horton—They say it's the finest one in the whole partierre row at the Grand Opera, and just the thing to hang his diamonds on.—Louisville Truth.

No Further Need.

A man who has kept account of the number of kisses exchanged with his wife since their union consents to its publication, as follows: First year, 335,500; second year, 16,000; third year, 3,650; fourth year, 120; fifth year, 2. He then left off keeping the record.
