

Wilson, Mac Collide In Commons

LONDON (AP)—Harold Wilson, leader of the opposition Labor party, has accused Prime Minister Macmillan of taking a petulant attitude and trying to laugh off the sex and spy scandals that have shaken Britain.

In a collision in the House of Commons, Macmillan snapped back that finding the spies was a security success—and a failure—and angrily told Wilson he thought his remarks offensive.

"You really must learn to distinguish between invective and insolence," the prime minister added.

The row was touched off by a dispute over the way the Conservative government handled recent security disclosures. These were topped by Monday's revelation that diplomat-turned-journalist Harold Philby was a "mysterious 'third man'" who warned renegade diplomats slipped across the Iron Curtain since he disappeared from Beirut last January.

News that Philby, once first secretary of the British embassy in Washington and believed to have headed head of security there, has actually been a Soviet agent stunned the House of Commons. Macmillan in 1955 said there was no evidence against Philby.

Uranium Stocks Are Discussed

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government's stockpiling of uranium in the next 13 months may cost $20,000,000, Trade Minister Sharp said in the Commons.

The exact cost, he added, would depend on how much uranium is produced. The government will negotiate with the uranium producers on the question of the price to be paid.

Mr. Sharp, answering questions asked last week when

Prime Minister Pearson announced the stockpiling program, said its purpose is to maintain employment in the mines at least until next July 1. In this period, the government will cover the mines' operating costs.

BANK CASHES FENDER CHEQUE

EDMONTON (CP)—It took two men to manoeuvre a cheque into a city bank where it was cashed here by a bewildered clerk who had to ask the manager for assistance.

The cheque, cashed by John B. Haliburton, was made out by Marvin Miller in payment of a $25 debt. It was written on the fender of a 1960 model car.

When it was presented the teller giggled "oh, no" and bank official W. M. Alston told the bearer, "you'll have to endorse it, sir."

The cheque was endorsed on the back (inside) with a marking pencil, stamped and paid.

"We'll just store it in the vault until the end of the month when it will go back to Mr. Miller," said the bank official.

Printers Ask Cancellation Of New Tax

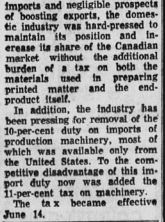

OTTAWA (CP)—The Graphic Arts Industries Association, forecasting that the 11-per-cent sales tax will cause unemployment and a business decline, has urged Finance Minister Gordon cancel permanent tax on materials used to produce printed matter.

A brief presented by a delegation headed by Georges Laflamme of Montreal, association president, said unless the tax imposed by Mr. Gordon's June 13 budget is withdrawn, the printing, publishing and advertising industries may get into a position from which they will not recover.

Faced with the world's highest volume of printed matter imports and negligible prospects of boosting exports, the domestic industry was hard-pressed to maintain its position and increase its share of the Canadian market without the additional burden of a tax on both the materials used in preparing printed matter and the end-product itself.

In addition, the industry has been pressing for removal of the 16-per-cent duty on imports of production machinery, most of which was available only from the United States. To the competitive disadvantage of this import duty now was added the 11-per-cent tax on machinery.

The tax became effective June 14.

Gordon Says More Money Is Necessity

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Gordon has declared it is "absolutely necessary" for the federal government to have more revenue.

Hence the sales taxes, he told the Commons shortly before a vote on a Conservative non-confidence motion based on the budget proposals was defeated.

"If the people of Canada are not willing to back a government which has a program, and pay more taxes in the interim, then we will have to go on drifting a nag that inevitably means we will end up on the rocks."

Mr. Gordon said that had the government not imposed the sales taxes, the deficit in the current fiscal year would exceed $700,000,000. Next year it could top $1,000,000,000.

All taxes are harmful, he added. The sales tax would hurt or inconvenience some people. "But I'm convinced we shall all be worse off if we fail to face up to the problems confronting our country."
