SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

Welcome To Mr. Fox

A man with an outstanding athletic record becomes athletic director of Charlottetown today.

He is Jimmy Fox, Saint John, New Brunswick and Mr. Fox comes to the provincial City with his achievements well know to Island sports fans.

His knowledge embraces all sports and it will indeed serve him well in his responsible position in Charlottetown. His task will not be easy. It will require much ability and hard work. We know Mr. Fox has the necessary ability and we feel certain he is willing to give his new position all the work it requires.

Jimmy Fox starred at baseball, hockey and basketball. At one time he was the property of the Boston Red Sox. He coached and played on various New Brunswick teams and in the early 1950's won the batting championship of the Southern New Brunswick Baseball League. In basketball he was a real stylist and showed to real advantage every time he performed. As coach of many clubs, he had the knack of imparting much of his knowledge to the folks under his care.

On the ice lanes, Jimmy Fox was just as brilliant. In high school hockey his records amazed onlookers and in one season he scored 50 goals, a record that still stands in New Brunswick.

We are certain Jimmy Fox will not be long in making many friends here in Charlottetown. Things will naturally be a bit strange for a spell but that spell should be of short duration. We wish him the very best in this new position and ask of those with whom he will work the fullest kind of cooperation.

We hope his achievements will be many while working here and we feel positive they will.

A hearty welcome, Mr. Fox to you and your family.

Doctor Clark To MAHA

WE would like to pass on our congratulations to Dr. Hillard Clark on his recent election of fourth vice-president of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association.

Few years ago we had a similar privilege and right now we are serving the term of past president. In the normal course of events, Dr. Clark should be occupying the president's chair by 1971.

We wish the good doctor all the best in his years as an officer of this Maritime hockey body. We are confident he will give it the best of his ability.

Once again doctor, congratulations.

Cal Lewis Passes

WHEN we returned from Halifax Sunday afternoon we learned that our good friend and co-worker, Calvin Lewis had passed away. Although we had expected to hear such word any day, it did seem hard to realize that Cal had gone.

Although Cal was not an outstanding athlete in his day, he always was keenly interested in the goings-on in all realms of the sporting world. In our 20 years of association with him, we had many friendly arguments, especially around this time of year when the world series held the spotlight.

One of Cal's sons, Brian, was and still is prominent in local sports circles. Cal followed every move that Brian made athletically with the keenest of interest. Baseball was probably Cal's favorite sport and for many years both he and Mrs. Lewis were regular patrons at all Memorial Field games.

Cal was a most friendly individual. He had indeed a big heart and there are many persons who have benefited from his unpublished charity. We are happy to have had the privilege of being numbered among his many friends. We indeed had many pleasant associations during the years we had worked with each other and we look back on these associations today and are grateful for them.

To Mrs. Lewis and Cal's sons and daughters, we offer our sincerest sympathy. While we can truly understand their great feeling of loss, we are equally certain they too have many pleasant memories which they will forever cherish.

Sports Front has lost one of its most loyal backers and many a time Cal Lewis's thinking has crept into our writings in this column. We will miss that advice but are thankful that we had the opportunity of benefitting from it all the while Sports Front has existed.

Charlie Hermann Hangs Up Cleats

By RUSSELL ELMAN

OTTAWA (CP) — Tiny Hermann is without a football job this fall for the first time in half a century.

The place-kicker and convert specialist from Halifax, a former RCMP fingerprint expert who displayed the most highly touted toe in Canadian football history, has laid aside his cleats for the last time. His was the foot that so often in the 1930s salvaged victory from looming defeat for Ottawa Rough Riders.

Now 57, Charles Bismarck Hermann is a successful insurance agent here.

He relinquished his final football post, as coach of Ashbury College in suburban Rockcliffe Park Village, at the end of last season.

"He is a figure that will be remembered," the students wrote in tribute in their school magazine on his retirement.

"He could and often did work miracles with weak or indifferent material. . . . How many times, in all weathers, have we seen his towering, monumental figure on the fields at practice hours, blasting, demonstrating, encouraging, while his bellow made the panes rattle in the upper windows."

OWES TO SPORT

Tiny's approach to moulding Ashbury into a powerful football unit reflects his own philosophy.

"A successful sports personality has a reponibility, an obligation, to pass on the knowledge accumulated over the years," he said while relaxing beside a newly-installed swimming pool in the back garden of his West End home.

"That's why records are always being broken. Someone has learned from another what he had found out by hard experience.

"If I had the physical capacity today that I had at 19 plus what I now know at 57, no doubt my own achievements would have been more notable."

Still a fit 200 pounds with a stubby moustache adorning a friendly smile, six-foot-three-inch Tiny modestly reviewed the career that won him a trunkload of trophies as a champion track and field athlete and all-Canadian all-star in both English-style rugger and Canadian football.

STARRED IN TRACK

"Memories fade," he said, "but I like to remember when a sports club in Glace Bay shipped together in the hard depression days of 1932 and found $50 to send me to the Canadian athletics championships at Hamilton."

Then on detachment duty with the police in Cape Breton, he more than amply repaid this act of faith and generosity. At Hamilton, he mounted the gold medallist's rostrum as triple winner of the hammer, shot and discus events.

His athletics' prowess, however, has been overshadowed in the public eye by his football career, which began at the tender age of seven at King's Collegiate School at Windsor, N.S.

There, he learned English rugger and the art of kicking converts and field goals from every angle. Later, he was on the Maritime championship Halifax Wanderers team.

As a lieutenant-commander in the navy in the Second World War — he commanded various escort vessels in the submarine-infested North Atlantic—he returned to his native Nova Scotia and helped put Canadian football on the map there. Organizing a squad of former Big Four men then in service uniforms, he was in the HMCS Stadacona team that thought enough of itself to challenge for the Grey Cup.

PERSONAL PROWESS

Tiny's personal introduction to Canadian football was at the age of 27 in 1933 after being transferred to the RCMP's fingerprint laboratories in Ottawa. It took two or three years to master what amounted to a brand new game for him but by 1936 he was an all-Canadian inside wing with Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four.

Sports writers wrote of Riders' surviving on "a prayer and a kick" as Tiny's place-kicking squeezed a series of vital, narrow victories for his club. His neat half-step forward to propel deadly accurate converts between the goal posts won him the league's scoring title in 1937.

By this time eliterial writers were urging that Ottawa take out a stout insurance policy on Tiny's toe and an anonymous poet wrote:

"O! Powerful Tiny Hermann toe.
A mighty digit thou!
To thee, our grateful thanks we owe."

Even the game officials sang his praises. Said Hec Crichton: "Hermann, with all his size, is one of the cleanest players in the game."

Not all Tiny's kicks found their mark, of course. One that missed was a much-publicized boot that might have sent Winnipeg Blue Bombers down to defeat in the 1939 Grey Cup final, in which Winnipeg defeated Ottawa 8-7. With Ottawa, he was in three Grey Cup classics, in 1936, 1939 and 1940. In 1938 they lost to Sarnia, when there was no east-west final. They beat Toronto Balmy Beach in another all-eastern Grey Cup in 1940.

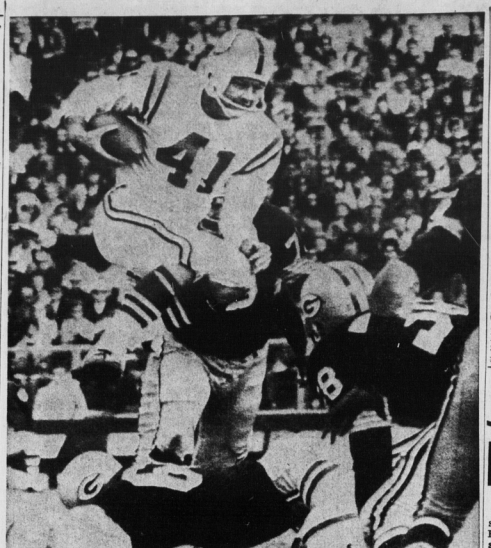
After the war, Tiny took up coaching here, at Carleton College, St. Patrick's College, Nepean High School and for the last 10 years at Ashbury College. From this standpoint, he makes this appraisal of modern football:

"It's better played and better coached, and the athletes are much better trained than we ever were."

He now runs his own insurance business with the basement of his home serving as an office. Also in the Hermann household are his wife, Loretta, daughters Carolanne, 19, and Phyllis, 17, and dog Skippy.

An early riser, he eats two soft-boiled eggs and coffee for breakfast as part of a rigorous diet; does not drink nor smoke.

For exercise, he takes dips in his pool, gets out regularly on the golf course and in winter sweeps up district titles on the curling rink. Top curler in the City of Ottawa Bonspiel this year, one of his pet projects now is to make the capital the scene of the Canadian curling championships in 1967.



SAFEST SPOT IN THE HOUSE

Halfback Tom Matte, 41, of the Baltimore Colts leaps blocked Ray Nitschke of the Green Bay Packers as Dan Currie, 58, and Herb Adderley, 26, of the Packers wait to end his 6 yard run in the first quarter at City Stadium in Green Bay. Houk Names Ford, Downing To Start First Two Games

NEW YORK (CP) — Ralph Houk picked Whitey Ford and Al Downing to pitch the first two World Series games and gave Jim Bouton, his third starter, a workout Monday while Los Angeles Dodgers were flying in for Wednesday's opener at Yankee Stadium.

Sandy Koufax, the Dodgers' strikeout ace, who will face Ford in a battle of left handers in the opener, was bothered by a slight cold. Manager Walter Alston had planned to give his 25-game winner a short trial run in relief of Don Drysdale in the regular season finale but passed him up because Koufax was feeling below par.

Ron Perranoski, the Dodgers' fine bullpen stopper, also was feeling a bit shaky from the flu bug.

The Series could hinge on the outcome of the Ford - Koufax opener. If Sandy beats the cool Yankee veteran who always is at his best in October, Dodger hopes will brighten. In a best-of-seven series with a day off for travel after the second and fifth games, the first game starters can go three times.

ODDS COULD SOAR

If Koufax falls, the 7½-to-5 odds favoring the Yanks will soar out of sight.

The long range weather forecast called for a fair, mild day with no rain in sight. Time for all games is 1 p.m. local time.

Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, who missed a good share of the season, were back in action and ready to go. Houk had the regular cast lined up for action with Tom Tresh joining Mantle and Maris in the outfield and the fine defensive infield of Joe Pepitone, Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek and Clete Boyer plus Elston Howard as catcher.

The Dogers still were awaiting final word on the physical condition of Ken McMullen, their rookie third baseman who suffered a pulled hamstring muscle Thursday. Alston was optimistic about his chances of playing.

In case McMullen can not make it, the Dodgers will shift Junior Gilliam to third base and use Dick Tracewski, reserve infielder, at second.

Before the Dodgers left Los Angeles Monday afternoon, Alston confirmed Koufax as his No. 1 starter. He said Johnny Podres, another lefty, probably will start the second "unless I have a brainstorm and use someone else."

In Podres' last outing Saturday night he was racked up for eight runs and 12 hits in 1 2-3 innings by Philadelphia Phillies. "I had wanted him to go five or six innings," said Alston, "but it got so embarrassing that I had to take him out."

TEST STADIUM TODAY

Because of their late arrival time, the Dodgers took no workout Monday. They will test the stadium shadows and tricky wind currents this afternoon under game time conditions. The Yankes will work out Tuesday morning.

Houk surprised nobody by his announcements before the workout. Downing, a 22 - year - old lefty, was sensational after he was recalled from the Richmond farm club in June. He wound up with a 13-5 record, a 2.56 earned run average and 71 strikeouts in 176 innings.

MONTAGUE — The Prince of Wales College football squad rolled to a 37-0 win over the Montague Regional High School team at Montague Saturday. It was the first football game ever played in Kings County.

The Montague team battled hard but was less experienced than the Welshmen.

Jackson Is Sparking Rough Riders Streak

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It isn't hard to pick the outstanding offensive player in the Eastern Football Conference if statistics are a guide.

Russ Jackson, Ottawa Rough Riders' Canadian - born quarterback, not only is the best passer in the east but the best ball carrier — at least on average gains a carry.

Jackson's outstanding play is one of the big reasons why Ottawa sits atop the EFC standings with a 5-3 record when the team was an almost unanimous pre-season pick for last place.

He has completed 80 of 142 passes for 1,551 yards — an average gain of 10.9 yards. And, on 39 carries, he has rushed for 255 yards—6.5 yards a carry.

George Dixon of Montreal Alouettes is the rushing leader in total yards with 824 on 129 carries which makes him by far the busiest ball carrier in the Big Four. His average carry is 6.4 yards.

RACINE TOP SCORER

Moe Racine, Ottawa's talented place-kicker, still leads the scoring race with 46 points, four better than teammate Dave Mullen and Dick Shato of Toronto Argonauts, who have seven touchdowns and 42 points apiece.

Thelen also moved up in the rushing department during the last week. The Ottawa fullback is second to Dixon with 482 yards on 81 carries.

In punting, young Gino Beretta of Montreal has hoofed up and averaged 42.0 yards — almost two yards a punt farther than Joe Zuger of Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Dave Mann of Toronto.

Ted Page of the Als has returned 37 punts 239 yards, but Hamilton's Garney Henley has a better average — 18 for 236. Ernie White of Ottawa has been the best at returning kickoffs—1o for 332 yards.

Shatto has caught the most passes, 36, but for the relatively short average gain of 7.9 yards. Hal Patterson of Hamilton has snared only 28—but for 659 yards, an average gain of 23.5.

CLIMATE IS HOT

The daily high temperature in Saigon, capital of South Viet Nam, averages from 87 to 95 degrees throughout the year.
